President Flees in Covered Auto; Veterans Remain on Ground, Are Drenched.

Congratulates Them Before Departure That They Have Buried Differences.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 4.—The Confederate Monument in Arlington National Cemetery was unveiled with impressive ceremonies this afternoon. President Wilson accepted the monument in behalf of the United States in a brief address in which he dwelt upon the "spiritual reunion" of the North and South which he described in his address at the Grand Army of the Republic exercises last Saturday. A severe thunderstorm developed while the President was speaking and broke before he had concluded. The President cut short his speech and rushed away in a covered automobile, but the veterans who remained on the ground were drenched to the skin.

Evidence of this reunion was given in the joint participation in the unveiling ceremonies of officers of the United Confederate Veterans and of the Grand Army of the Republic, among those who delivered addresses were Gen. Washington Gardner, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and Gen. Bennett Young, commander of the United Confederate Veterans.

The monument was presented by SEVERE STORM SWEEPS JAPAN.

Hundreds Reported Drowned and Many Boats Have Been Wrecked.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE AND A. P.]

TOKIO, June 5.—A disastrous storm has swept over Western and Southern Japan. Several hundred boats have been wrecked and hundreds of people are believed to have been drowned. The steamer Mongolia rescued many seamen. A hundred houses in Nagasaki have been blown down.

THEY DESPISE CLEAN WATER.

WELL, IT RAINED IN TARRYTOWN, SO THE I.W.W.'S DID NOT TARRY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TARRYTOWN (N. Y.) June 4.—A rainstorm today caused a lull in the open-air activities of the Industrial Workers of the World, who have been holding demonstrations demanding the right of free speech.

"Jack" Butler, one of the fifteen persons arrested Saturday, sent word to Judge Moorehouse that he was ready to renounce his affiliation with the Industrial Workers of the World, if allowed to go free. With a term of six months in the penitentiary imposed upon him, sentence was suspended under a stipulation that he would cease to make trouble.

Village President Pierson received a telgram which, it was understood, threatened serious consequences if the authorities attempted to use hot tar and cold water to prevent the holding of unlicensed meetings. Soft tar was spread in a public square where I.W.W. followers had planned to meet yesterday.

CAPITALIST KILLED.

Santa Cruz Man Pitched Out of Cart Which Pony Backed Into a Moving Train.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SANTA CRUZ (Cal.) June 4.—A. E. Whittaker, a retired capitalist, died late today from injuries received when a pony-drawn vehicle in which he was riding backed into a moving train. The small rig was wrecked and Whittaker was pitched out on his head. His skull struck the car truck and was crushed. Two men with him were not hurt. Whittaker was 70 years old.

New Heat Wave in the East.

Schools Closed in St. Louis; Record Temperatures in Many Cities.

Two Persons Killed and a Dozen Injured in a Storm in Massachusetts.

Freak Weather Reported from the Atlantic Coast to Pacific Slope.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 4.—"Freak" weather conditions extended from Pennsylvania to the Pacific Coast today.

Oregon reported hail, snow and heavy winds that gave the State the appearance of December rather than June, while St. Louis was suffering the hottest day of the year, street thermometers there registering more than 100 deg. Schools were dismissed during the afternoon because of the intense heat.

At Somerset, Pa., two persons are reported dead and a dozen injured and a number of buildings destroyed by a terrific storm of wind, rain and lightning. Many towns are cut off from all communication tonight.

At Green Bay, Wis., scores of families were driven from their homes and many others are held prisoners as a result of an electrical storm that later struck Chicago, which was accompanied by a heavy rainfall.

Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma report a heat wave accompanied by the highest temperatures of the year. Many prostrations are reported from these States.

CLOSE SCHOOLS IN ST. LOUIS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—St. Louis experienced its hottest day of the year today, when the thermometer at the government station read 95 deg. at 5 o'clock. Street thermometers in some instances registered 100 deg. All the public schools and many of the private institutions dismissed classes because of the intense heat.

RECORD HEAT IN MIDDLE WEST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) June 4.—A heat wave today swept over Western Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. Record temperatures for the year prevailed in several cities, and prostrations were numerous. In Kansas City schools were dismissed because of the heat, the thermometer reaching 91 deg. Bartlesville, Okla., reported a temperature of 101 deg. Weather Bureau officials here say no relief is in sight.

STORM KILLS TWO IN PENNSYLVANIA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SOMERSET (Pa.) June 4.—Two persons are reported to be dead, a dozen injured and a number of buildings destroyed by a terrific storm of wind, rain and lightning which swept along the Valley of Casselman River late today, according to meager and unconfirmed advices reaching here.

SAYS NEW LAWS ARE SOCIALISTIC.

SHERMAN ACT AND INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION ARE CONDEMNED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WALLA WALLA (Wash.) June 4.—The Sherman Act, the Interstate Commerce Commission, the proposed trade commission, the new banking legislation and other anti-trust legislation were assailed as socialistic tendencies which are restricting business by Charles O. Richardson, president of the Pacific Cold Storage Company of Tacoma, in an address before the Washington bankers' convention, which began here today. Over 200 bankers of the Northwest are in attendance.

The features of the afternoon meeting were the addresses of Russell Lowry, vice-president of the American National Bank, San Francisco, who read a paper on the "Federal Reserve Association," and a talk by Secretary Fred E. Farnsworth of the American Bankers' Association.

MONA LISA'S ABDUCTION.

Trial of Perugia for Stealing Da Vinci's Masterpiece From Louvre Begins at Florence.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

FLORENCE (Italy) June 4.—The trial of Vincenzo Perugia on the charge of stealing Da Vinci's masterpiece, "Mona Lisa," from the Louvre in Paris, began here today. The disappearance of the picture on August 22, 1911, caused a sensation throughout the world and search for it was not successful until December 12, 1913, when Perugia offered it for sale to a Florentine antiquary.

Dr. Amaldi, a prominent alienist, said at today's hearing he had made a careful observation of Perugia and was convinced he was only partially responsible for his actions.

Grand Opera in a Court room.

Schumann-Heink,

Who appeared as a witness in her own behalf yesterday in her suit for divorce from William Rapp, Jr. Rapp charges in his cross bill that the songstress was more attentive to other men than she was to him. This she vehemently denies.

Ernestine.

DIVA DENIES THE YARN A "COP" WAS HER TRISTAN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 4.—Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink unfolded the story of her domestic woes before a jury today in her suit for divorce from William Rapp, Jr., of New York. Rapp, she said, had been very friendly to "a blonde lady in New York," whom she subsequently named as Mrs. Catherine Dean.

Two depositions were read, one from Mrs. Julia Williams, a maid formerly employed by Mrs. Dean, and one from a New York detective, who told of numerous visits to a Fifth-avenue restaurant by Mrs. Dean and Rapp. According to his deposition, the detective followed Rapp many nights from his offices to places where he met Mrs. Dean.

The deposition of Mrs. Williams was to the effect that Rapp had lived at the apartment of Mrs. Dean for several months in 1913. In the cross-examination Mme. Schumann-Heink frequently expostulated with her husband's attorney.

"Let me say what I wish," she begged. "I do not mean to say the wrong thing."

Rapp had charged in his cross-bill that his wife had been too friendly with other men. She denied all such accusations.

MUSICAL POLICEMAN.

The singer denied she had any love for Edward McNamara, a one-time policeman, who visited her in New Jersey. She said he came for music lessons, not for love-making.

"Who was with you in Caldwell, N. J.?" the attorney asked. "Wasn't there a man named McNamara?"

The question aroused Mme. Schumann-Heink's wrath and her eyes blazed.

"I never have lived with any man," she answered. "I have lived alone since my husband left."

"I hadn't asked you that," the lawyer replied.

The singer told of a consultation with Rapp at her Chicago home last July. She testified that her husband said at that time that he wanted a divorce.

"I didn't want a divorce, I told him," she said. "I am happy as I am with my children and my art. I told him I would never think of marrying again. Always I said I never wanted a divorce."

Rapp's counsel asked about a visit to Culver Military Academy when her son graduated. The singer said she met nearly every officer of the academy on the maneuver drill and that the officers had visited her at her home.

DIVA AS HOUSEWIFE.

Mme. Schumann-Heink gave her residence as No. 3672 Michigan avenue. Her domestic traits were remembered by the spectators with smiles, when, in insisting that this was her real home, the witness said:

"When I am here I live there, and every day I help in tidying up and cleaning the place. I do washing, too."

She and Rapp separated three years ago.

Direct examination by Attorney Mayer ceased abruptly without any attempt to go into the witness's life with Rapp or his alleged relations with Mrs. Dean.

The singer's eyes filled with tears in speaking of improving her house in New Jersey, and she apologized for her limited command of English.

She has eight children, one adopted and seven by previous marriages. The oldest, she said, is 32 years of age.

BORN IN AUSTRIA.

Ben M. Smith, counsel for Rapp, directed his first queries to ascertain whether the witness, who was born in Prague, Austria, fifty-three years ago, has a right to sue in this country. She said she had been singing in the United States for fifteen years.

"Were you at home last Christmas?" was asked.

"At home last Christmas? Of course I was. I could not forget the most important things in my life," came the answer.

In June of last year the singer went to Culver, Ind., to be present at the graduation of her son, Franz George Washington Heink.

"Did you go alone?" insinuated Smith.

"My daughter, my chauffeur, my

"Congenial Industrial Union."

WESTINGHOUSE EMPLOYEES THREATEN STRIKE TODAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH, June 4.—According to officials of the Allegheny Congenial Industrial Union, a labor organization formed here last February, 10,000 employees of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, the Westinghouse Machine Company and the Pittsburgh Meter Company will go on strike tomorrow morning.

Officials of the Westinghouse interests question tonight refused to put any credence in the strike report and said it was "nothing but the talk of a few hotheaded workmen."

The union officials claim the Westinghouse interests have refused to recognize their union and that the various companies have discharged 500 men since last February for alleged inefficiency.

Instead of inefficiency, the union states, the companies used this means to discriminate against the union.

FURIES BEARD THE KING IN BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

Royalty Adopts "Rough House" Tactics to Suppress the Wild Women.

George V and Queen Mary Shocked at a Court Reception When an Unknown Militant Suffragette in the Approved Style of Dress Admonishes Them Against Violence to Her Partners in Crime.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, June 4.—London is seething as never before with indignation against the suffragettes tonight. One of the "wild women" succeeded in holding up King George and Queen Mary at the court drawing-room at Buckingham Palace. At midnight she was still a prisoner in the palace. Her name has not been given out.

Despite the extraordinary precautions taken by the police, the "furies" made good on their threat and achieved what everybody in the court circles feared and yet believed was utterly impossible. Never before in the history of England has the King been bearded in his own palace.

There were wild scenes in the royal drawing-room before the suffragette was ejected. The woman followed the course of the other women guests at the great state function. She was superbly gowned. She joined in the solemn procession to the throne. When her turn came she was presented to Their Majesties and in the customary manner made a sweeping courtesy, sinking absolutely to the carpet and bowing her head to the royal knees.

ON HER KNEES.

Then as she rose she flung herself on her knees in front of the King and in a voice trembling with agitation and yet so vibrant with emotion that it reached every quarter of the great room she cried out: "Your Majesty, for God's sake do not use force. Do—"

For a moment there was utter consternation.

Only a few moments before the Lord Chamberlain, Lord Sandhurst, had whispered to the King that the last carriage had entered the gates and not a soul had been admitted who was not known.

No one seemed to know what to do. Had the suffragette been physically able she could have completed her address. But she was so deeply moved that her voice failed her. She finished only in a whisper. But her admonition, whatever it was, reached King George!

The King looked helplessly at the stately courtiers ranked on either side of the throne. Queen Mary darted a fierce and angry glance at the trembling woman kneeling at the throne, but Her Majesty remained seated and apparently quite undisturbed.

LEADER'S PRESENCE OF MIND.

The first to realize the extraordinary situation was the humble commoner conducting the band in the drawing-room gallery. Before the suffragette had reached her second sentence he knew that a scene was coming. With a wave of his baton he roused his musicians and at once the band began playing loudly so as to drown the screams which the conductor evidently expected would in a moment rend the air.

By that time the Lord Chamberlain and other court officials had recovered from their shock. The appalling breach of etiquette had literally stunned them. They stepped to the DEFEAT PROHIBITION, SAVE YOUR INDUSTRIES.

Grape Men at the Annual Convention of the California Fruit Growers' Association Formulate in Concrete Form Their Slogan for the Initiative Amendment Campaign—Say They Will Look for Justice.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DAVIS, June 4.—Following a warm and rather heated discussion this afternoon, a committee of three was appointed by the grape men at the forty-fourth annual convention of the California Fruit Growers' Association to condense their arguments against the proposed initiative prohibition amendment as to its effect on the wine, table and raisin grape industries, to be voted on at the election in November. Frank Swett of Martinez (chairman,) Frank B. McKevitt of Vacaville, and W. S. Allen of Lockford composed the committee.

W. C. Brown, secretary of the San Joaquin Table Grape Growers' Association, presided at the meeting.

Frank T. Swett of Martinez, the first speaker, laid the entire matter before the meeting in concise form.

"To the men and families who are induced to take the savings of a lifetime and invest in the land, the State owes something," said Swett. "As a commonwealth, for half a century California has encouraged viticulture in every branch, raisin, table and wine. Viticultural commissions, the State university and the Department of Agriculture have bent every effort toward the upbuilding of a great vineyard industry.

"It is this development of half a century that will be swept away by the passage of this law.

"In November the men and women of California, to whom we all look for justice and good judgment, are to decide whether one of California's greatest industries is to endure or to be ruthlessly dynamited.

"The proposed amendment would annihilate the wine-grape industry. It would cripple the raisin industry and would seriously damage the table-grape industry. The vineyard area is set forth as 346,873 acres. About half of this enormous area is in wine grapes, with about 110,000 acres in raisin grapes, and the remaining area in table grapes. About 50,000, or one-seventh of the whole part of the raisin grapes, go to the wineries; part of the table grapes goes to the wineries.

"The total acreage of all orchards in California outside of oranges and lemons falls short of the vineyard acreage. The acreage of wine grapes is twice that of prunes, five times the walnuts, nine times the lemons, eleven times the almonds. Of the total horticultural acreage in 1910, including citrus and nuts orchards, there must be 566,000 acres. Of this 60 per cent., or 344,000 acres, are in vineyards.

"The total amount of all farm mortgages stands at $60,000,000. If the people of the East could not buy California wine they would simply order from Italy and France, and enrich those countries with the millions of dollars now annually coming to our State to maintain an established industry. They would apply a drastic embargo to effectively bar out of our State all income from the export of wine amounting in a ten-year

GIANT LINER AQUITANIA DUE IN NEW YORK TODAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 4.—The great liner Aquitania, newest and biggest of Great Britain's fleet of trans-Atlantic flyers, was off Nantucket at 9:30 o'clock tonight, and is due to dock on her maiden voyage here from Liverpool about 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Not so speedy as the Mauretania and Lusitania, the Aquitania is larger than either, and is luxuriously equipped. She is 901 feet in length, is of 47,000 tons gross tonnage, and has accommodations for nearly 5000 persons.

STEAMER RUNS ASHORE IN LONG ISLAND SOUND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 4.—A few minutes before midnight the wireless station at the Battery picked up a message sent by the Northland of the Eastern Steamship Company, stating that the steamship was ashore on Gull Island in the race at the eastern entrance of Long Island Sound. The message asked that a revenue cutter be sent at once. Within a half-hour a message was sent from Seagate to the New York navy yard stating that the Northland had run ashore, but there was no immediate need of assistance.

The Northland, which had been steaming between New York and Portland, Me., left her pier No. 18, Hudson River, at 5 o'clock, with more than 200 passengers.

Hush!

ALL WAITING ON CARRANZA.

Wilson's Work of "Pacifying" Mexico Is Halted.

And the Mediators Are Out Viewing the Falls.

Mars and Earth Stand Still in Their Orbits.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) June 4.—Gen. Carranza announced today through agents here that he would not make answer to the communication of the A.B.C. mediators, nor issue his proclamation dealing with the formation of a provisional government in Mexico until he had reached Saltillo. At the same time it was announced here that the Constitutionalist commander-in-chief departed today from Durango on his way to Saltillo by way of Torreon.

The delay in the issuance of the proclamation was interpreted is occasioned by some phases of the Niagara Falls conference, and by the reported desire of Carranza to establish himself formally as provisional President at Saltillo, capital of the State where he served as Governor under the Madero government. Gen. Villa was reported locally today as preparing to move south from Chihuahua City to meet Carranza at Torreon, and thence to proceed south, entering upon the campaigns against Zacatecas and San Luis Potosi. However, the creation of a new central military zone in command of Gen. Natera, which was made yesterday by Carranza, continued to cause much speculation as to its effect on Villa's military plans.

The opinions of those surrounding Carrahza regarding the three-cornered conferences at Niagara were reflected once more in a semi-official statement sent to the Associated Press from Durango.

THE MESSAGE.

The message follows:

"'Hamlet,' with Hamlet left out,' is the way many Constitutionalist leaders here expressed themselves today regarding the conferences at Niagara Falls. The assurance with which the mediators are reported, in news dispatches received here, to have approached the formation of a new plan for the solution of problems in Mexico, is regarded by these leaders as evidence of misinformation on the part of at least some of the parties to the conference as to conditions in Mexico.

"That a plan can be found to settle interior affairs in Mexico without the participation of the Constitutionalist government is regarded by them as impossible. They point out that the only party directly interested in Mexico which has been represented in the formation of the Niagara Falls plans has been that of Huerta. This party, defeated by the Constitutionalists at every point, they say, is in the throes of dissolution and is in no condition to fulfill any pledges that might be made. The Constitutionalists have declared repeatedly that the differences between them and the Huerta party were not possible of mediation, and that the sole solution of the internal difficulties of the country was the elimination of Huerta and his party from politics.

"The Constitutionalists emphasize the fact that they will recognize only a government established under the plan of Guadalupe at the triumph of the revolution. By this time the commander-in-chief of the Constitutionalist party will be provisional President of Mexico, while elections are being verified and Constitutionalist order is restored to the country. In a word, the Constitutionalists think it would be well for the commission to acquaint themselves with the facts before committing themselves to a programme which there is no possibility of their carrying out."

MEDIATORS AS WAITERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NIAGAGA FALLS (Ont.) June 4.—Mediation waited another day for word from Gen. Carranza on Constitutionalist participation at the conferences here, but no word came. The silence was regarded as a favorable omen, for it was interpreted as meaning that the Constitutionalists were carefully weighing the advantages of mediation. A feeling of conference was general that they would take the hand extended them and enter the negotiations. There were no conferences again today between the mediators and either of the delegations. An answer from Carranza, or at least an intimation of its character, is expected tomorrow. In that event the mediators may declare a short recess.

OTHER WAITERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Waiting on Carranza was the attitude of the Washington government today in so far as progress in Mexican mediation was concerned. It was apparent that the Constitutionalist leader was expected to make the next move in the diplomatic negotiations toward composition of Mexican affairs, but tonight no word had come as to what that move would be.

At Constitutionalist headquarters here no immediate action was expected.

Rafael Zubaran, Gen. Carranza's chief representative in Washington, said:

"I transmitted the note to Gen. Carranza last night. He, I am sure, will give it all the necessary attention and consideration before sending an answer to the mediators, so that it probably will be two or three days before the response is dispatched.

"Gen. Carranza is about to leave for Saltillo on a tour of inspection, which also will operate to delay his decision, but this matter will, of course, be considered in preference to any other subject."

Asked directly about the chances for Constitutionalist representation at Niagara Falls, Mr. Zubaran said:

"Affairs are getting better, or to quote Mr. Bryan's phrase, 'the situation is encouraging.'"

Apparently there was no attempt to disguise the attitude of the Washington administration, although officials would not discuss the situation for publication. John Lind, who represented the State Department in dealing with the Constitutionalists, urged them to use their influence to have their chieftain make favorable reply to the proposals of the South American mediators.

Luis Cabrera, who has been mentioned as a probable delegate to the peace conference, should Carranza agree to participate under the terms proposed, was in conference with Mr. Lind for several hours.

While mediation waited on Carranza, the subject of ammunition bound from the United States for Gen. Carranza's forces was uppermost in the discussion in official quarters, and it became known that Admiral Badger had been cabled to keep watch on the Mexican Federal gunboats in the vicinity of Puerto Mexico, in view of reports from Mexico City that Huerta proposed to prevent, if possible, the landing at Tampico, of the munitions en route to Carranza on the steamer Antilla.

Admiral Badger was instructed to keep the vessels under surveillance. In consequence the Paducah is watching the gunboat off Alvarado and the Tacoma and Sacramento are keeping in sight two vessels in the harbor at Puerto Mexico.

Naval officers expressed doubt as to whether the Mexican boats could maintain a successful blockade of Tampico with their base of supplies so far removed from Tampico, even if no attempt were made by the American ships to prevent a blockade.

"It was generally regarded here as likely that the ammunition shipped from Galveston, Monterey and New York Tuesday for the Constitutionalists, would reach their destination unmolested.

Conflicting statements as to the probable attitude of the United States regarding shipment of arms to the Mexican contending factions were difficult to reconcile. In some quarters the view was expressed that the American government would endeavor to prevent the delivery of arms to Gen. Carranza's forces in order to influence him if possible to incline a favorable ear toward peace proposals at Niagara Falls.

It is pointed out that it would be easy for Admiral Badger to stop any of these consignments from entering Mexican ports if he were ordered to do so. But while officials have asserted the right to stop such shipments at American ports, they have not yet made up their minds to extend their authority to the high seas so as to prevent the delivery of the goods.

PARCEL POST NEEDS MONEY.

Burleson Asks for Half a Million Dollars to Meet Deficiencies.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 4.—An urgent deficiency appropriation of $425,600 to meet extra demands of the parcel post service was asked of Congress today by Postmaster-General Burleson. He wanted $390,600 for wagon service, and $35,000 for indemnity for articles lost.

PRIESTS FLEE FROM VILLA.

Spanish Refugees Landing in New York Tell Harrowing Tales of Suffering in Mexico.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 4.—Two hundred and fifty refugees from the interior of Mexico, most of them Spaniards, arrived today on the Spanish liner Manuel Calvo from Vera Cruz and Puerto Mexico. The majority had come from Torreon and Saltillo and they brought stories of the advance of Villa's army and of terrible suffering and hardship.

Without exception they had lost their property and their business, and in some cases all their money. They were for the most part merchants who had remained neutral in Mexico's internal conflict, but had fled when their lives were threatened. The fear of Villa was still in the hearts of the bedraggled lot.

Five Catholic priests from Torreon said Villa did not like the clergy and that they had fled for their lives.

Perhaps the most distinguished refugee on board was Abiguel Nicochea, editor of El Imparcial, in Mexico City.

"Huerta will never flee," he said. "In Mexico we have very little hope of successful mediation. President Huerta will not resign, I think."

An Englishman on board said the next boat from Vera Cruz would bring even a larger number of refugees.

COSTS OF POLITICS.

Nominations at Pennsylvania Primaries Prove Expensive, Especially Democratic Governor Candidate.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HARRISBURG (Pa.) June 4.—Figures given by candidates in sworn statements today show the recent State-wide primaries for nominations for various State officers to have been expensive for some of them. Vance McCormick, the successful Democratic candidate for the nomination for Governor, spent $33,274. His Republican opponent, Martin G. Brumbaugh, used $3139. Senator Boies Penrose, candidate for the nomination to succeed himself, certifies to $12,867, while Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer, Democratic candidate for Senator, spent less than $3000.

Outbreak.

YAQUIS BACK MAYTORENA IN HIS SONORA FIGHT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) June 4.—That agents of Civil Governor Maytorena of Sonora obtained the support of the Yaqui Indians in the present internal difficulties in that Mexican State by promising to restore to them the land they regard as rightfully theirs was a report which reached Douglas today.

As the land question was the chief cause of the Indian outbreak, the alleged promise has had the effect of making all the Yaquis on the warpath supporters of Maytorena, and at the same time rendered uncertain the loyalty of many others who are nominally enrolled in the military forces opposing him, it was said.

Yaqui warriors in the vicinity of Cumuripa, under the leadership of Chief Espinosa are said to total 500. Espinosa is reported to have sent scouting parties into the northern part of the Sahuaripa section, and into the southern parts of the Arizpe and the Moctesuma districts.

Meantime the main body of Yaquis, consisting of several divisions, continue to hold their lines firmly around Cumuripa, La Mesa and other small towns, the surrender of all of which has been demanded by the Indians and refused by the inhabitants.

So far as can be learned there are no soldiers in any of the towns in the Indian-infested districts. Citizens and ranchers from neighboring valleys are their sole defenders.

Residents of the Moctesuma district are said to be fearful that the Yaquis will move northward and make descents upon the ranches and villages near the town of Terupa, which formerly was the center of an extensive Indian agricultural community, but which now is the home of a few so-called "tame" Yaquis known as Terupans.

Most of the land in that section is held by Americans who purchased it from Mexicans. The Indians declare it is theirs, by virtue of claims more than fifty years old. They demanded the return to them of this land, together with tracts in the Yaqui River Valley about a year ago from the Sonora government. Restitution was promised. State surveyors went to work to run the necessary lines for the subdivision of tracts. Later, for some unknown reason, the surveyors were called from their labors there and the survey never was completed.

Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens for the Daughters of the Confederacy, who had erected it.

In the affair today there was no trace of the sectional feeling which cropped out at the G.A.R., exercises last week because of the first refusal of President Wilson to participate therein. The presentment which some of Mr. Wilson's friends have felt because of the cold reception given him by the Union Veterans when he did appear last Saturday, found not the slightest expression in his speech. His main thought was of the glory of the American people that they have refused to allow "fraternal misunderstanding" to cloud their common ideals.

The President's speech was not concluded before a heavy thunderstorm compelled his retirement from the amphitheater. He hurried back to the White House in a closed automobile.

TORRENTS DRENCH BLUE AND GRAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 4.—A terrific thunderstorm broke over Arlington National Cemetery today while President Wilson was addressing a great crowd for the unveiling of the monument erected there to the Confederate dead.

Torrents of wind-driven rain drenched the blue and gray veterans, women and children before they could seek shelter, and then there was a wild dash for automobiles and trolley cars.

The President, who had cut short his speech as the rising wind and darkening skies announced the storm's coming, hurried to his car with his two daughters, Mrs. McAdoo and Mrs. Sayre.

The machine's top afforded poor protection and the party was thoroughly drenched on the seven-mile drive back to Washington.

The ceremonies were held at the base of the magnificent monument in the Confederate section of the cemetery. Only a slight canopy afforded protection to the speakers, and the crowd was without shelter.

Mrs. Daisy McLauren Stevens, President-General of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, made the address presenting the monument to the President on behalf of the women of the Confederacy.

COMPLIMENTS WILSON.

Tumultuous applause greeted her when she said:

"Yours, Mr. President, was Jefferson's spirit when at Mobile you said the United States had no interest in Mexico or any other foreign lands, except to see that the citizens enjoyed the right to the pursuit of happiness under a constitutional and just government."

The President acknowledged the tribute with smiling approval.

Gen. Washington Gardner, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and Gen. Bennett Young, Commander-in-Chief of the United Confederate Veterans, were notable figures among the speakers, and both were cheered with equal enthusiasm by veterans in gray and those in blue.

Col. Robert E. Lee, grandson of Gen. Lee, also spoke, while the sculptor, Moses Ezekiel, a Confederate veteran, who designed the monument, was present.

Master Paul Micou, a grandson of Col. Hilary S. Herbert, pulled the cords which released the draperies from the monument.

All speakers commented on the appropriateness of delivering the memorial to the government through a southern-born President, and when Mr. Wilson was introduced he was given an enthusiastic reception.

WILSON'S REMARKS.

The President said:

"I assure you that I am profoundly aware of the solemn significance of the thing that has now taken place. The Daughters of the Confederacy have presented a memorial of their dead to the government of the United States. I hope that you have noted the history of the conception of this idea. It was proposed by a President of the United States who had himself been a distinguished officer in the Union army. It was authorized by an act of Congress of the United States. The corner-stone of the monument was laid by a President of the United States, elevated to his position by the votes of the party which had chiefly prided itself upon sustaining the war for the Union. And now it has fallen to my lot to accept in the name of the great government which I am privileged for the time to represent, this emblem of a reunited people.

"I am not so much happy as proud to participate in this capacity on such an occasion; proud that I should represent such a people. Am I mistaken, ladies and gentlemen, in supposing that nothing of this sort could have occurred in anything but a democracy? The people of a democracy are not related to their rulers as subjects are related to a government. They are themselves the sovereign authority, and as they are neighbors of each other, quickened by the same passions and moved by the same motives, they can understand each other. They are shot through with some of the deepest and profoundest instincts of human sympathy. They choose their governments. They consult their rulers. They live their own life and they will not have that life disturbed and discolored by fraternal misunderstandings.

"This chapter in the history of the United States is now closed and I can bid you turn with me your faces to the future, quickened by the memories of the past, but with nothing to do with the contests of the past, knowing that we have shed our blood upon opposite sides, we now face and admire one another.

"The generosity of our judgment was made up soon after this great struggle was over, when men came and sat together again in the Congress and united in all the efforts of peace and of government; and our solemn duty is to see that each one of us is in his own consciousness and in his own conduct, a replica of this great reunited people. It is our duty and our privilege to be like the country we represent and speaking no word of malice, no word of criticism even, standing shoulder to shoulder to lift the burdens of mankind in the future and show the paths of freedom to all the world."

The dominant figure of the monument unveiled today is a woman of heroic size, typifying the South in peace, surmounting a relief upon which there are thirty-two figures depicting the heroism of the South in war. It was dedicated to all heroes of the Confederacy. Flags of the Confederacy and the Stars and Stripes were draped together over the monument and decorated the speaker's stand. The Fifth Cavalry band played "Star-Spangled Banner" and "Dixie".

REBELS CAPTURE TWO MORE TOWNS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

DURANGO (Mex.) June 3 (Via El Paso, Tex., June 4.)—The towns of Tantima and Tantoyuca, in the State of Vera Cruz, have been captured by a force under Gen. Candido Aguilar, newly-named Governor of that State, according to a message received today by Gen. Carranza.

Gen. Aguilar has occupied a large portion of the country, has established civil and military authorities in office and offered full guarantee to commerce and industries.

In answer to representations made by the United States State Department, Gen. Carranza today ordered that collectors in the State held by Constitutionalists make no effort to collect again the back taxes paid by foreign companies to the Huerta government. Some collectors had refused to receive payment for current taxes from the companies on the ground that the back taxes had been paid to Huerta and not to the present government.

SHE SPURNED A NOBLEMAN.

THEN ELOPED WITH MAN SAID TO BE MARRIED AND IS IN TROUBLE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 4.—Like a chapter from a best seller, is the story unfolded by Hazeldell Knapp Hastings, arrested here today with her husband, de facto, if not de jure, Edward B. Hastings, on telegraphic advices from Chicago.

They were taken into custody on complaint of the Chicago police by George A. Knapp, a jeweler of No. 1817 Washington boulevard. The girl, who is young and pretty, was not surprised. Hastings characterized it as "spite work." Both elopers blamed an aunt of the girl's, a Miss Margaret Burney, No. 1309 First avenue, Watervliet, N. Y., for the major portion of their woes.

According to Knapp, Hastings married Grace Sturgis in Watervliet, seven years ago and never secured a divorce. He was unable to get along with his wife and cut the Gordian knot by a runaway marriage with Miss Knapp, his cousin.

"They wanted me to marry a nobleman and I refused," exclaimed the young woman. "It was the ambition of my aunt to see me married to a well-known nobleman, a count, whose name is familiar enough in this country."

The girl at first admitted that she knew Hastings had a wife, but later denied such knowledge.

Hastings and Miss Knapp were married in Chicago May 16, by the Rev. Ernest Ray O'Neill. They came direct to San Francisco and Hastings at once went to work as a salesman for Nelson & Co., brokers. Hastings had no money and the couple pawned all of their belongings to secure fare to San Francisco.

Shortly after her incarceration Hazeldell received a note from her lover.

"Hazel, dear, be brave. Only God can separate us. Do not lose courage. Be true—be brave. Yours, Ed."

procession and urged the titled and other society women in it forward toward the throne. Then, holding the almost-fainting suffragette with her face still toward Their Majesties, as court etiquette requires, they led her calmly away until she was hidden behind the throng of women presented just before her who had stopped in their march from the room.

WOMEN WILDLY EXCITED.

When the women grasped the truth that a suffragette had actually bearded the King on his throne they became wildly excited and it was almost impossible to continue the drawing-room. For several minutes there was the greatest disorder.

The suffragette made no noise. She offered no resistance to the court officials. She seemed more dazed than they themselves. She held the long train of her court dress tightly clutched in her right hand and held her left hand over the low bosom of the handsome gown. Out in the first corridor the officials gripped her bare arms. She submitted quietly, apparently willing to accept whatever treatment might be coming to her.

She was held by the police in the palace. Who she is, is known to the authorities, and also to the King and Queen. It is also known to them who the woman was who presented her to Their Majesties. It is rumored that the result will be the disgrace of one of the great families of England. Another rumor is that the suffragette was introduced by a well-known American woman who was willing to sacrifice her position at the English court for the sake of the cause.

How the suffragette succeeded in getting into the palace through the remarkable precautions taken by the authorities, is still a mystery at the palace. It is anticipated that there will be an immediate upheaval in the royal household.

Lord Sandhurst is furious. Every person invited to the court had to bring five separate cards and some of them were more than a foot square in size. Every one of these cards was signed by Lord Sandhurst himself, in ink. The names of the invited were also written in in ink. The carriage cards were not issued until this morning and it was therefore thought that the threat to forge cards had been rendered futile.

Before any carriage was allowed into the park the coachman had to hand over one of his cards at the gates and the person in the carriage had also to hand over a card. At the gates of the palace the state carriages were again held up and both coachman and guest had to hand over cards. Every card was closely scrutinized at each point before the carriage was allowed to proceed. At the entrance to the palace the guest had once more to present an invitation card. Always precious, these cards could not possibly be obtained by any one outside the sacred circle of the court, it was thought.

REPUBLICANS SEVEN THOUSAND BEHIND DEMOCRATS AND PROGRESSIVES COMBINED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, June 4.—The Progressive party now leads the Democrats by 7738, according to the compilations furnished by the Secretary of State's office tonight and based on the registration reports from thirty-seven counties. The total registration at closing hour today was 766,478, of which the Republicans had 290,778, the Progressives 153,059 and the Democrats 145,321. The Socialists have their heaviest registrations in Los Angeles, with 16,652 electors and many more registrations to make. Registrations and transfers close July 25.

The Republicans are 137,717 votes ahead of the Progressives and 145,425 ahead of the Democrats.

cooks, my waiters and a gentleman went with me," was the reply.

"And who was the gentleman?"

"Mr. George Baldwin."

Witness rented a cottage there and remained five days.

"Where did Baldwin live?" asked the lawyer, but an objection shut off the answer.

Mme. Schumann-Heink then told when Smith asked her if a Mr. O'Connor Namara visited her at her New Jersey home.

"No man came to live with me in New Jersey," she laughed. "He came to me to take singing lessons. We sang together on the stage."

Mayer explained that the singer referred to is Edward J. McNamara.

Hans Schulger, a butler employed by the singer, testified that no man had ever spent the night at her home here.

RAPP'S PLANS FOR DIVORCE.

A letter written by Rapp to his wife in June, 1893, giving seven reasons why Rapp thought it would be better for his wife to bring action for divorce, was introduced in evidence. After the hearing closed for the day Rapp created some commotion in the courtroom by declaring vehemently to his attorneys and bystanders that by the complainant's attorneys the translation of the letter as introduced was not correct. He also declared that some of the testimony given today was not true. The letter in part read:

"I insist in advance that my determination has come to me from headquarters in the last year of the war, that you are secretly desirous of marrying again, is founded on fact, that is true, a plan can be carried out under which you will have the following advances:

"(1.) You will be complainant instead of my suing you. It will be better thus, because, if I bring suit I will have to bring up all the undurable circumstances in your life that compelled me to leave the same. The contradiction between facts and your St. Louis interview will not appear very flattering to you. Your letters of 1904 will be the last in which you praised my foresight for the children, you name their faults and your own carelessness in looking after them, and you bewail your own neglect of them and beg me to undertake their bringing up and to love after their persons, and in addition give me the highest compliments. I will have to bring these as proofs.

"(2.) The suit can be brought immediately. You in that way make a whole year and can immediately marry again, while otherwise, under the Illinois law, you cannot marry for a year after the divorce. Therefore, the matter should be hurried.

"(3.) You could then control the time for the hearing instead of waiting weeks before the courts and losing the advantages of many concerns if you will be compelled to await the close of your case on the calendar.

"(4.) You will be compelled to stand a cross-examination on the part of my lawyers.

"(5.) I will not put in any defense in court.

"(6.) I will furnish everything necessary for you in order to procure the decree.

"(7.) It will be in all circumstances more decent and less sensational than a case fought in court before open mouths."

Rapp said he did not use the word "insist" in the first sentence, but merely wrote the German word for "assume."

The above is not a rash statement. One or two old, reliable firms in any line will show a steady growth in a community year after year, while others more spectacular in their advertising and outward appearance stop advertising, dwindle and disappear.

There can be only one conclusion. The old, reliable, steadily growing concerns give better values, price and quality considered.

Curiosity and inexperience will send enough trade to keep these transient stores busy for a while, but the only safety and guarantee of permanent satisfaction lies in patronizing the old, reliable firms.

MONEY PLENTY TO MOVE CROPS.

McAdoo Says There's No Sign of Tight Market.

Federal Reserve Board Will Soon Be Completed.

Expect to Start Business About August First.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 4.—With the selections of the entire Federal reserve board expected to be sent to the Senate by President Wilson within the next few days, Secretary McAdoo announced tonight after a conference with the President, that the election of directors of the new reserve banks would be completed about July 1, and the banks should be fully organized and ready to begin business about August 1.

The Secretary declined to give any definite information concerning the personnel of the reserve board. Paul M. Warburg of New York, W. P. G. Harding of Birmingham, Ala., and J. D. Miller of San Francisco, already accepted membership on the board, leaving two members to be elected.

Charles S. Hamlin, now Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, and E. C. Simmons of St. Louis have been most frequently mentioned for the remaining positions.

Secretary McAdoo gave out a statement in which he said that the organization of the Federal reserve banks had proceeded rapidly and satisfactorily and was ahead of the schedule mapped out.

"It is pleasing to note that the anticipations of tight or insufficient currency to move the crops has not proved true this year. There will be no difficulty about providing all the currency that may be required to move the crops this fall, no matter how big a record-breaking it may be," said the statement.

Treasury officials said today that the banks of New Orleans and several other cities had decided to appeal to the Federal reserve board against the designation of reserve bank cities.

...ll Introduced in House Provides for Selection of an Island for the Colony.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The presence in Washington of John Early, a dread leper, resulted in the introduction today of two bills to provide for a national home for lepers.

Representative Johnson of Washington introduced a bill to authorize the surgeon-general of the public health service to select an island in any insular or territorial possession for use as a national leper home, appropriating $150,000. Representative Mann of Illinois introduced a bill to appropriate $500,000 for a national sanitarium, at a site to be selected by the surgeon-generals of the army, navy and public health service.

INCOME TAX PENALTIES.

House Passes Resolution Remitting Fines Paid and Extending Legal Period for Making Returns.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The Senate today passed a joint resolution remitting penalties imposed by the income tax for failure to make returns by March 1, last, extending the legal period for making returns until June 1, and provided for remitting of fines already paid. The bill goes to the House.

SAFETY FIRST."

Interstate Commerce Commission's Bulletin Shows a Decrease in Accidents on Railroads for the Quarter.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 4.—A total decrease of 175 persons killed and 4,647 injured in all classes of railroad accidents was shown in the accident bulletin issued today by the Interstate Commerce Commission for the quarter ended December 31, 1913, as compared with the corresponding quarter of 1912. There was also a decrease of 384 in the number of train accidents. The report shows 1450 collisions and 2207 derailments for the quarter, with property damage of $2,000,000.

Practically all of the figures show decreases.

President Wilson and Secretary Daniels Leave Washington on the Mayflower to Attend Exercises.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 4.—President Wilson and Secretary Daniels boarded the Presidential yacht Mayflower in Washington late today and left for Annapolis to attend the graduation exercises tomorrow at the Naval Academy.

The Mayflower is fitted with wireless and if necessary the President will be informed en route of any important developments in the Mexican situation.

The President will present the diplomas to the graduates at Annapolis and probably will make a brief address.

Pay for Railway Mail Service.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 4.—A year's study of the Congressional Joint Commission on Railway Mail Pay culminated today in a bill prepared by Representative Tuttle of New Jersey to pay the railways, not on the weight of mail carried, as at present, but on the space required. It is expected to save $400,000 a year.

Turkish Ambassador Arrives.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

Treasury Statement.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The condition of the United States treasury at the beginning of business today was:

Balance in general fund, $75,-

Total receipts yesterday, $3,089,365.

Total payments yesterday, $2,282,527.

Deficit this fiscal year is $36,-against a surplus of $7,596,- last year, exclusive of Panama canal and public debt transactions.

ANTI-TRUST BILL IN THE SENATE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 4.—With testimony today by two railroad attorneys, the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee practically completed its anti-trust hearing, and next week will take up the task of settling upon one or more bills to report to the Senate.

The committee early in the coming week probably will receive a portion of the anti-trust legislation approved by the House, and from out of all this material will be shaped one or more bills which it will ask the Senate to pass.

President Wilson has not sent word to the committee that he is ready to accept any legislation which proposes to accomplish less than that offered in the House, and in the absence of such word from the White House an effort probably will be made to report out a comprehensive bill.

A motion is pending before the committee to report only a trade commission bill, and defer action on other subjects until next winter.

The committee listened today to objections to the House so-called railway capitalization bill from George F. Brownell of the Erie Railroad and E. S. Jouett, general counsel for the Louisville and Nashville.

An effort to adjourn the House to permit members to attend the unveiling of the Confederate monument in Arlington National Cemetery today resulted in a semi-filibuster, which delayed consideration of the railroad securities bill, the last measure on the administration anti-trust programme.

Efforts to settle the difficulty without parliamentary obstructive tactics failed and a roll call was forced. Representatives favoring adjournment declared their intention to force the House to quit. Threats of a filibuster had the effect of keeping the House in session and the debate on the bill continued.

HOME RULE FOR FILIPINOS.

Resident Commissioner Quezon Generally Approves the Jones Bill and Tells President About It.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 4.—General approval of the Philippine home rule bill submitted to President Wilson yesterday by Chairman Jones of the House Insular Affairs Committee was given today by Manuel L. Quezon, resident Philippine commissioner, who called on the President to discuss the subject.

He said on leaving the White House that while the bill did not give all that the Filipinos wanted, he thought it was the best that could be obtained at present, and that it would receive his support.

The President has not finished reading the bill, but is understood to approve it in general terms.

CUMMINS ATTACKS REPEAL.

"J. C. R." IDENTIFIED.

Chicago Mother Remembers a Little Scar on the Foot of Man Without a Memory.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 4.—"The man of mystery," who has been known only as "J. C. R." by officials of the Oak Park infirmary, and by hospital attaches at Rochester, Minn., from which he escaped, was identified today as Earl W. Lles, a mining engineer, who has been missing since 1906.

The identification was made by Lles's mother, Mrs. H. E. Pitkin of this city, and the proof was considered complete when the man revealed an obscure scar of a cut on his right foot, which he had suffered when a boy. Lles showed feeble signs of recognition, although his vocal chords have long been paralyzed, and he was unable to speak.

The man of mystery was found unconscious on the streets here last November. He was unable to speak, but wrote the initials J. C. R., and at times J. R. H.

Mrs. Pitkin said her son had last been heard from in the Goldfield mining district, in September, 1906, "He started for home to visit us," she said, "but never arrived."

He was believed to have been injured or suffered paralysis, which caused complete loss of memory.

AGAINST HIGHER RATES.

Hardwood Lumber Users Declare Proposed Increase Would Force Many Dealers Out of Business.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—Users of hardwood lumber from Chicago and Omaha testified today before Special Examiner Gutheim of the Interstate Commerce Commission, who is investigating the proposed increase of hardwood lumber rates by railroads operating in the Southwest. They agreed that if the higher rates were established the smaller dealers would have to discontinue, as the present rate was considered high by some of the manufacturers.

R. Rasmussen, F. S. Krapp and F. T. Weldy of Omaha said they thought the present rates were high enough and that if the commission permitted the increase it would force many dealers and manufacturers out of the lumber industry.

The hearings probably will be concluded tomorrow.

STATE AUDITOR SUED BY "WIFE."

DECLARES HE CONFIDED TO HER EVENTS THAT WOULD SHOCK ILLINOIS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 4.—James Joseph Brady, auditor of the State of Illinois, was sued for $50,000 today in the Circuit Court for alleged breach of promise.

Mary Quinlan Kuhns Brady, who asks a financial balm for wounded affections, was introduced by the auditor to Springfield society as his wife. He married her in Detroit two days after she was divorced in Chicago.

Charges involving the private and official life of the auditor are promised by Mrs. Brady as she insists on being called, among them being:

That he induced her to become his bride forty-eight hours after she obtained a divorce, paying her fare to Detroit.

That he told her he was big enough politically and officially to ignore the Illinois Supreme Court's ruling that such marriages are illegal.

That he introduced her to society as his wife only after his mother insisted on it and later drove her out of his home, because his mother, apprised that she was not his legal wife, ordered her out.

That he related to her as his wife details of the conduct of the auditor's office that would shock the State of Illinois, give several banks some nervous days and expose machinations of a high office of the State to work private preferment and profit.

TELLS OF ABDUCTION.

Iowa Minister Who Attacked Roman Catholic Clergy Testifies He Was Forcibly Taken From Hotel.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DENVER, June 4.—The Rev. Otis L. Spurgeon of Des Moines, Iowa, was the principal witness today at the trial of ten men charged with abducting and robbing the minister following the delivery of a lecture in which he attacked the Roman Catholic clergy. The Rev. Spurgeon told the jury that he was forcibly taken from his hotel on the night of April 5, placed in an automobile, spirited out of the city, beaten and robbed of $10. He said a crowd of three or four hundred was in the lobby and about the building when the ten defendants entered his room and carried him away.

George R. Merritt, a police sergeant who had been sent to the hotel to protect the lecturer, and O. P. De Ford, the proprietor of the place, also testified.

De Ford said he believed there were not more than thirty or forty in and about the hotel at the time the Rev. Spurgeon was taken away.

TO GIVE "SHAKUNTALA."

Mountain Players' Club Will Present Aancient Indian Drama in U. of Greek Theater.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, June 3.—The most famous of all the plays of ancient India is to be presented in the Greek Theater of the University of California on Saturday, July 18. Under the auspices of the summer session of the University, the Mountain Players' Club will give the drama which it presented some weeks ago in the open-air theater on Mt. Tamalpais.

This play is the wonderful old drama "Shakuntala," by Kalidasa. It is the story of the love of an ancient Indian king for a girl of the people, and in its production on Mt. Tamalpais the result was so notable and artistic an achievement that the Musical and Dramatic Committee of the University has invited the club to repeat the performance in the Greek Theater.

Since several thousand people will be gathered together for the summer session, from June 22 to August 1, coming from all parts of California and from most of the States of the country, this repetition in the Greek Theater will give opportunity to many thousands of people to become familiar with one of the world's masterpieces.

The play was translated from the Sanskrit original by Dr. Arthur Ryder, assistant professor of Sanskrit, in the University of California. His published translation of the "Shakuntala," his volume of Indian love lyrics called "Woman's Eyes," and his other translations from the Sanskrit into English verse, have won him reputation as an interpreter to the modern world of the literature of India of two thousand years ago.

Prof. Ryder's translation of "The Little Clay Cart," written nearly two millenniums ago in India by King Shudraka, was presenetd by the English Club in the Greek Theater some years ago. Because of its literary beauty, its human charm and its dramatic vitality that play and its actors, including the only live elephant that ever trod the Greek Theater stage, scored a memorable success.

Ironmaster Adds Two Million Dollars to Endowments of Pittsburgh Institutions of Learning.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH, June 4.—Announcement was made today that Andrew Carnegie has given another endowment gift, amounting to $2,000,000 to be divided equally between the Carnegie Institution of Technology and the Carnegie Institute, both of this city. Today's gift brings Carnegie's donations to local institutions of learning to $24,000,000.

SWEDISH LUTHERANS MEET.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SYCAMORE (Ill.) June 4.—The synodical council of the Swedish Lutheran Church, the governing body of the Church of the United States in Canada, convened here today. Dr. G. A. Brandell of Denver, Colo., vice-president, presided. The ministerium will assemble June 9.

Two Million Dollars

Already expended in factories and equipment, in waterworks, sewers, public utilities, in fine modern business buildings, in beautiful bungalows, in parks, in paved and curbed and surfaced streets, make the most remarkable real estate investment in California.

For every dollar which the small investor is able to put into this remarkable Industrial City plan, a thousand dollars invested by others is pushing toward enormous increases in value.

Torrance has Six Factories

In operation NOW. THREE MORE large and important industries have definitely contracted and arranged to locate their plants at Torrance. A great many other manufacturers who plan to take advantage of the enormous industrial expansion coming to the Pacific Coast with the opening of the Panama Canal contemplate plants at Torrance.

RIGHT NOW is the time to take advantage of all this. Torrance investments are now within the reach of small savers.

Cook in a Cool Kitchen-

A good oil stove will do away with the swelter and discomfort of a blazing hot range. Get an oil stove this summer and do your kitchen work in comfort. The does all that any wood or coal stove will do. It bakes, broils, roasts and toasts perfectly. The long chimneys concentrate the heat just under the utensils. It is not wasted or thrown out into the room. The New Perfection doesn't smoke or smell; doesn't taint the food. It burns kerosene, the clean, cheap fuel. Think of the comfort—no coal or wood to lug; no ashes to dirty the kitchen. Ask your dealer for the New Perfection.

New Perfection

Professor in Massachusetts Institute of Technology Accused of Desertion and Cruelty in Suit.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 4.—Mrs. Helen Kline Jaggar, living here at present, filed suit for divorce today against Thomas A. Jaggar, alleging cruelty, desertion, failure to provide and infidelity in her complaint.

The couple married in this city in April, 1903, and have two children, Kline, 8 years of age, and Eliza, aged 2. Jaggar is a professor in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is at present studying volcanic action in the Hawaiian Islands.

Mrs. Jaggar alleges that her husband deserted her a year ago and since that time has not contributed to her support. She declares that he struck her, used the "roughest kind of language toward her" and told her he had been out with two girls in Boston. The wife says Jaggar earns $600 a month. She asks $300 a month allimony and the custody of the children.

UNIONISTS CROWD JAIL.

Twenty-seven Arrested in Canon City, Colo., in Connection With the Coal Strike.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CANON CITY (Colo.) June 4.—Twenty-seven men were arrested here today on indictments returned by the grand jury, charging grand larceny, in connection with the capture of the Chandler mine of the Victor-American Fuel Company on April 26 by strikers. Capiases were issued for the arrest of thirty-seven others on similar charges.

The twenty-seven men arrested today were placed in jail in default of bond in the sum of $2500 each. Their arraignment in District Court here was set for Saturday morning.

Motions to quash the indictments against the twenty-six men arrested here last week on murder charges growing out of the Chandler capture were filed today. Irregularities in the drawing of the grand jury are alleged. The motion to quash will be argued in District Court Saturday morning, Atty.-Gen. Fred Farrar appearing for the State and Horace N. Hawkins, general attorney for the United Mine Workers of America, for the defendants.

GRADUATES AT BRYN MAWR.

Miss Allen of Los Angeles Receives Degree of Bachelor of Arts in Chemistry and Biology.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—Ninety young women were graduated from Bryn Mawr College today and others received degrees of doctors or masters for researches that were in some cases of an unusually practical nature.

The simple exercises that brought a good-sized crowd to the gymnasium, in spite of bad weather, were marked by three features. One was the announcement that "Bryn Mawr College will benefit more than $150,000 under the will of the late Miss Elisabeth Shippen of Philadelphia. This is the first time the approximate amount has been made known.

Among the graduates to receive awards were Miss Eleanor Bradford Allen of Los Angeles, who received the degree of bachelor of arts in the group of chemistry and biology. Miss Charlotte d'Evelyn of San Francisco won the resident fellowship in English, valued at $500. Miss Jessie Lunt Prebie, Berkeley, Cal., was awarded a fellowship in philosophy.

TO ELIMINATE FOOD JOBBER.

Express Company Strikes Blow at Middlemen.

Fish, Eggs, Berries, Delivered Day They Are Received.

New Bureau for Buyer and Seller Established.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—What is regarded as the most effective blow yet struck at the high cost of living, an innovation that sets up a formidable rival of the parcel post and tends to the elimination of the middleman, is the establishment of an order and food products bureau by the Adams Express Company, announcement of which was made here today.

By means of this bureau, the company will promote more intimate relations between the producer or dealer and the consumer, and create a market for food products that, in the ordinary complicated and cumbersome system of handling commodities, frequently means a loss to the grower and entails unnecessarily high costs to the ultimate buyer.

The company will become a clearinghouse for excess production, disposing of fruits, berries, butter, eggs, poultry, fish, meats and other food articles at a minimum expense to seller and buyer. The company is responsible to both, delivering the commodities to the buyer's door and the money to the seller without any intervening agency. The rate on the class of merchandise for which the bureau has been designed is 25 per cent. below the commercial rate fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and is no higher than parcel-post charges. To the cost of carrying must be added the money order charge, ranging from 3 cents for $2.50 to 15 cents for $40.

A feature of the bureau system is immediate delivery service. Fish, fresh from the water at Chincoteague, Va., in the morning, are delivered in Philadelphia the same day. The same prompt delivery applies to crabs from Maryland waters, fruit and vegetables from Delaware and Maryland, poultry, butter and eggs from the farms of either State or any other source of supply in the Philadelphia zone, where the bureau has established connections with producers or dealers.

While the bureau system contemplates quantity purchasing it is adapted to consumers as well as retailers or jobbers and commission houses. Each Monday morning, William Tunis, chief industrial agent of the company's order and food products bureau, mails to several thousand dealers, clubs and other quantity buyers a price list for the week, subject in case of dealers to violent fluctuations, due to excess production or unlooked-for scarcity.

MASTER PLUMBERS INDICTED.

Violation of Sherman Law Charged Against Thirty-six Officials Including Many Iowa Men.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) June 4.—Indictments were returned against thirty-six officials and members of the National Association of Master Plumbers and officials of State organizations in Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska and Iowa by the Federal grand jury here this afternoon. The indictment charge conspiracy in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

It is specifically alleged that the National Association of Master Plumbers has been operating in violation of law ever since its organization in 1884.

Those indicted include W. J. Hilliard, Elmhurst, Ill.; Frank U. Patterson, Springfield, Ill., and E. D. Hornbrook, directors of the national association; Joseph Bixby, Omaha, national State vice-president; George E. Wentz, Lincoln, Neb., national State vice-president, and J. B. Conningham, Omaha, secretary State association.

Officials residing in Iowa among the indicted are Robert Knauer, Des Moines, State vice-president; James A. Walace, Des Moines; Charles G. Bosch, Burlington, director national association; R. E. Knauer, Boone, organizer Iowa association; Fred Kubias, Cedar Rapids; Louis Smid, Cedar Rapids; Ambrose Clayton, Davenport; Richard Mullen, Dubuque; H. B. McGarten, Dubuque, former president Iowa association; J. J. McConnell, Iowa City; E. F. Hawk, and W. C. McGarten, Marshalltown; John Garvey and Thomas J. Daley, Mason City; William Scott, Oelwein, national State vice-president; Hugo W. Kuyper, Pella; V. J. Logan and John F. Gearson, Sioux City; Ralph A. Ellis, Waterloo, former director national association, and John R. King, Keokuk, former president Iowa association.

Judge Smith McPherson this afternoon ordered that warrants for the arrest of the indicted men be issued. These will be served as rapidly as possible.

The indictment is in blanket form and among other things recites that "the object of the National, State and local Master Plumbers' Associations has been to secure to the members all of the business of the United States growing out of the furnishing and installing of plumbing supplies and this to the absolute exclusion of all others engaging in, or endeavoring to carry on such business."

The basis for the monopoly of the plumbing business charged by the government was what is known as the "Baltimore resolution," adopted at the national convention of master plumbers in 1884, according to B. F. Welty, special assistant to the Attorney-General, who has been assisting Claude R. Porter, District Attorney, in the investigation before the grand jury. This resolution provided an agreement between members of the plumbers' association and supply-house men to confine the sales of plumbing supplies to persons legitimately engaged in business or master plumbers. Another resolution adopted at New Orleans in 1903, Welty said, defined a master plumber as a member of the association.

Only the Middle West is represented in the present investigation, but it is the plan to extend the inquiry to all parts of the country, according to Dist.-Atty. Porter. He said the extreme Western States probably will be taken care of at the meeting of the Federal grand jury in Salt Lake City next month, after which the inquiry would be adjourned to Philadelphia.

MILLIONAIRE AND REPORTER CLASH.

FATHER OF GIRL WHO SAID CHICAGO MEN WERE "NIT WITS" IS WRATHFUL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 4.—Mark Morton, his ire aroused by the publicity given a prankish trip of his daughter, Helen, to Virginia, was accused of attacking a newspaper reporter, binding his hands and then wrecking an automobile containing his prisoner against a fence post.

The reporter declared that he would sue the millionaire for damages and also lodge a charge of assault against him. The attack is said to have been caused by an attempt to gain an interview in which Morton charged the reporter with trespass.

After her trip to Virginia Miss Helen Morton was quoted as saying that Chicago men were "nit wits" and that she fled, not to be married, but to associate for a time with real men and enjoy herself in her favorite pastime—the training and riding of horses. She returned to Chicago this week "under an armistice," she said.

CURRENCY SCARE AT TAMPICO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TAMPICO, June 3 (By way of Brownsville, Tex., June 4.)—Business in Tampico is greatly embarrassed by the lack of Mexican currency of any kind, either national or Constitutionalist. Banks remain closed, but negotiations are in progress for the resumption of business. The city is filling up with returning American refugees, many of whom, however, are unable to obtain employment owing to the reluctance of the companies to resume activity on account of the uncertainty of conditions.

The health of the crew on the Dolphin has not improved. Both officers and men have become debilitated by many months of tropical service.

After tomorrow the only warships left in the river will be the American Ozark and Dolphin. The foreign warships anchored off the port to avoid exposure to malaria.

STRAPPED TO SEAT, DIES ON SEAPLANE.

TWO ENGLISH NAVAL AVIATORS DROWNED FOLLOWING EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PORTSMOUTH (Eng.) June 4.—Commander Rice and Lieut. Thomas S. Creswell were drowned today, when a seaplane in which they were making a flight over Southampton water suddenly plunged into the sea. The seaplane was engaged with several other air craft in maneuvering.

A torpedo boat rushed to the spot and recovered Creswell's body, which was strapped to the seat, but the body of Commander Rice was not found.

The seaplane was one of the largest in the naval service and was of the latest model. It had a wing span of sixty-three feet, carried a 200-horse-power engine, and was equipped with wireless. The condition of the machine indicated that the accident was due to an explosion attributed to the ignition of escaping petrol fumes by a spark from the wireless apparatus.

Boy Wins Spelling Match Without a Break.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—[illegible] M. Carey Thomas, president of Bryn Mawr College, in an address to the graduating class today, asserted that if institutions of higher education in the United States expect to meet effectively and successfully the new demands that are being made upon them for more advanced and [illegible] teaching methods they must set themselves to the task of making the teaching profession more lucrative and more attractive.

By this means, she said, men and women capable of becoming brilliant teachers will not be diverted from the educational field by the rewards offered by business, commerce and industry.

Dr. Thomas said the students today are demanding new methods, more definite teaching and other improvements in the educational system that make it imperative for the colleges to stir themselves in an effort to get the services of brilliant, up-to-date instructors.

Romance of Chico Boy, Who Won Point at Olympic Games, Is at the Altar.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—[illegible] announcement was made here today of the coming wedding of John Loomis, the Chico boy who won fourth place in the high hurdles at the Stockholm Olympic games, to Miss Frances Marian Calkins of Tacoma, niece of P. M. (Borax) Smith, Oakland multimillionaire. Both the announcement there is a romance, not inseparable from the point Case won for the United States at Stockholm.

Case first saw Miss Calkins at Stockholm, where at once he formed an attachment for her. He met her again while touring Europe, and then again on the Atlantic coast. But it was not until that third meeting, when back in the United States, that young Case discovered that during the time the two were meeting in remote quarters of the globe their homes were only a few miles apart. He had not even learned that she was a Californian.

Although Case received the preliminary education in his home town of Chico, he finished at the University of Illinois.

The wedding will be next month.

DENIES MELLEN WAS A "GOAT"

Former New Haven Director Takes Positive Stand.

Tells How He Prevented Change in the Minutes.

Explains His Position in Express Company Deals

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Charles Mellen's recent testimony that [illegible] president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, considered himself to be indicted in the Grand Trunk case to shield the late Pierpont Morgan, was flatly denied before the Interstate Commerce Commission today by Lewis Cass Ledyard of New York, who was a director of the New Haven at the time.

"I want to say in the most unqualified terms," Ledyard asserted, "that Mr. Mellen did not offer himself as a [illegible] sacrifice for Mr. Morgan."

MELLEN'S LETTER.

Telling of the letter in regard to the Grand Trunk investigation to the United States District Attorney at New York, written by Mellen in the presence of E. D. Robbins, counsel for the New Haven and himself, Ledyard said:

"That letter was not the letter of a man accepting responsibility. It was the letter of a man claiming innocence."

Ledyard took the stand as a voluntary witness in the commission's investigation into the New Haven financial affairs and was not served with a subpoena issued for him some time ago had been withdrawn, but he said that he be allowed to make a statement.

Earlier in the day William Skinner completed his testimony, begun yesterday. He said he could not recall any instance in which Morgan had attempted to dominate the board of directors.

Ledyard said that when he began to take an active part in the affairs of the New Haven about $12,000,000 already had been expended for the abolition of the Westchester road.

BILLARD COMPANY.

Taking up Billard company matters, Ledyard said:

"While I was in Europe in 1908 the Boston and Maine stock was sold to Mr. Billard and after my return I protested Mr. Mellen if the sale was bright or a 'dummy' transaction. He told me the sale was made outright.

"I asked who Mr. Billard was and replied: 'He is a wealthy Connecticut man.' I asked why the sale was made to Mr. Billard and Mr. Mellen replied that it was because Billard was a 'friend of the New Haven interests.' I then inquired why this was not mentioned in the reply to the Massachusetts Legislature. Mr. Mellen left the chair and became excited. He seemed to think I was showing lack of confidence to him. Before the amendment to the Massachusetts statute was amended in accordance with my suggestion."

Ledyard said several important things happened that year while he was in Europe.

"In the first place," he stated, "the road brought by the government as a result of the acquisition by the New Haven of the Boston and Maine was continued. This was on June 24, 1910, and the government's action confirmed the opinion of Mr. Olney himself that the acquisition of the New Haven and Maine was not a violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

"The bill to authorize the incorporation of the Boston Railroad Holding Company was approved by the governor of Massachusetts about that time, and the Billard deal was executed and on July 9 approved by the directors of both the New Haven and the New England Navigation Company.

"By the time I returned home Mr. Mellen had sold back to the navigation company the Boston and Maine stock. I went to a meeting of the Executive Committee of the New Haven board on October 2. I was outspoken in expressing my opinion regarding the Billard transaction and the big profit that had gone to Mr. Mellen. Mr. Morgan was present and also was angry about the matter. Dissatisfaction shown, I believe, led to Mr. Mellen afterwards stating that the profit could be cut down, but no resolution was adopted by the committee meeting.

"A year later, July, 1910, on my return from another trip abroad, I found Mr. Mellen in New York and he told me he had learned an erroneous report in the Billard case had been made in the minutes of the New Haven meeting. He said it was misleading and might make trouble. He said to me: 'You know we never owned any stock or made the profits. That fact indicates that Billard's profit really went to the New Haven.' Mr. Mellen wanted to change the record, but I reminded him the laws of New York strictly forbade anything of that sort."

Ledyard said in September, 1910, he saw Mr. Morgan, who asked him to postpone his trip abroad and attend the next New Haven meeting, at which Mr. Morgan said Mellen was going to lay before the directors certain data in relation to the Grand Trunk.

"I wanted to know what it was," said Mr. Ledyard, "and Mr. Morgan replied he did not know. I told Mr. Morgan that if that matter came up I ought not to do anything until I had gotten the advice of independent counsel, some able attorney. He advised me to suggest some one and I suggested Richard Olney of Boston." Ledyard went to Europe and returned in October, to find a conflagration all around the New Haven and Mr. Mellen in the process of being indicted. I saw Mr. Mellen and his story at that time was just about the same as he has told here. He told me about having had trouble with Mr. Chamberlain and other members of the Grand Trunk in regard to some traffic agreement. He said he had not discussed the acquisition of the Northern and New England railroad. He added, "The papers are full of it. My office boy and my stenographer have been subpoenaed by the Pujo jury."

Mr. Mellen said, "While I was talking with Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Morgan strolled in and I finally asked what we had been talking about. We told him and he finally remarked that there never would be peace until we got the Boston and New England road. He went out and there was no discussion as to the Northern and New Haven."

Ledyard told Mr. Mellen I did not think he would be indicted. Mr. Robbins came in and Mr. Mellen said he would write a letter to the United States District Attorney at New York. He [illegible]

Former New Haven Director Takes Positive Stand.

Tells How He Prevented a Change in the Minutes.

Explains His Position in Express Company Deals.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Charles Mellen's recent testimony that he, president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, allowed himself to be indicted in the Rapid Transit case to shield the late Pierpont Morgan, was flatly denied before the Interstate Commerce Commission today by Lewis Cass Ledyard of New York, who was a director of the New Haven at the time. "I want to say in the most unqualified terms," Ledyard asserted, "that Mr. Mellen did not offer himself as a voluntary sacrifice for Mr. Morgan."

KELLEN'S LETTER.

Some of the letter in regard to the Grand Trunk investigation to the United States District Attorney at New York, written by Mellen to the president, D. Robbins, counsel for the New Haven and himself, Ledyard said:

"The letter was not the letter of a man accepting responsibility. It was the letter of a man claiming innocence."

Ledyard took the stand as a voluntary witness in the commission's investigation into the New Haven's railroad affairs and was not sworn. A subpoena issued for him some time ago had been withdrawn, but he said that he be allowed to make a statement.

Earlier in the day William Skinner concluded his testimony, begun yesterday. He said he could not recall any instance in which Morgan had attempted to dominate the board of directors.

Ledyard said that when he began to take an active part in the affairs of the New Haven about $12,000,000 to $13,000,000 had been expended for the acquisition of the Westchester road.

BILLARD COMPANY.

Discussing Billard company matters, Ledyard said:

"When I was in Europe in 1908 the New Haven and Maine stock was sold to Billard and after my return Mr. Mellen told me the sale was not a 'dummy' transaction. He said the sale was made outright.

"I asked who Mr. Billard was and Mellen replied: 'He is a wealthy Connecticut man.' I then inquired why this was not mentioned in the reply to the Massachusetts Legislature. Mr. Mellen left the chair and became excited. He seemed to think I was casting a lack of confidence to him. His answer to the Massachusetts resolution was amended in accordance with my suggestion."

Ledyard said several important things happened that year while he was in Europe.

"In the first place," he stated, "the road brought by the government as a result of the acquisition by the New Haven of the Boston and Maine was dissolved. This was on June 24, 1909, and the government's action was on the opinion of Mr. Olney that the acquisition of the New Haven and Maine was not a violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

"A bill to authorize the incorporation of the Boston Railroad Holding company was approved by the governor of Massachusetts about that time and the Billard deal was executed on July 9 approved by the directors of both the New Haven and the Grand Trunk New England Navigation Company.

"By the time I returned home Mr. Billard had sold back to the navigation company the Boston and Maine stock.

"I went to a meeting of the Executive Committee of the New Haven board on October 2. I was outspoken in expressing my opinion regarding the Billard transaction and the profit that had gone to Mr. Morgan. Mr. Morgan was present and I was angry about the matter. Ledyard said in September, 1910, after Mr. Morgan, who asked to postpone his trip abroad and attend the next New Haven meeting. Mr. Morgan said Mellen was to lay before the directors all in relation to the Grand Trunk.

"I wanted to know what it was," said Ledyard, "and Mr. Morgan said he did not know. I told Mr. Morgan that if that matter came up I meant not to do anything until I had gotten the advice of independent counsel, some able attorney. I asked me to suggest some one and I named Richard Olney of Boston."

Ledyard went to Europe and returned in October to find a conflagration all over the New Haven and Mr. Mellen in danger of being indicted. I saw Mellen and his story at that time was about the same as he has told it. He told me about having had with Mr. Chamberlain and the affairs of the Grand Trunk in relation to some traffic agreement. He said he had not discussed the acquisition of the Northern and New England. He added, 'The papers are full of it. My office boy and my chauffeur have been subpoenaed by the grand jury.'

Mellen said, 'While I was talking with Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Morgan strolled in and asked what we had been talking about. We told him and he remarked that there never would be peace until we got the Boston and New England road. He said that there was no discussion as to the Northern and New England.

"I told Mr. Mellen I did not think he would be indicted. Mr. Robbins and Mr. Mellen said he would write a letter to the United States attorney at New York. He called in a stenographer and did so. The stenographer, I think, brought the letter back, and I think possibly Mr. Mellen made a few corrections.

"I want to say in most unqualified terms that Mr. Mellen did not offer himself as a vicarious sacrifice for Mr. Morgan. It was a letter, not of a man accepting responsibility; it was a letter of a man claiming innocence, for it was a letter to the District Attorney, stating that as he was the only one who conducted whatever the negotiations were, as he was the only one who knew what had been done, therefore he desired to go before the grand jury and tell his story of what those negotiations were."

Mr. Ledyard denied that the letter was written at the suggestion of himself and Mr. Robbins.

The suggestion, he said, came from Mr. Mellen himself and that he (Ledyard) then had acquiesced.

PULLMAN CONTRACT.

Discussing the Pullman contract, Ledyard said he and Mellen were principally responsible for it. He said he told Mellen that he felt the only way to get steel cars at once would be by making such a contract and that he favored it.

"I had no interests whatever in the Pullman company," the witness said, "but on account of accidents that had happened I was anxious for the steel cars."

EXPRESS BUSINESS.

Ledyard said: "I tried to get for the American Express Company the business of the New Haven, but it was never a condition of the sale of the Boston and Maine stock. Mr. Mellen has testified that what I was after was to get an extension of the contract between the American Express Company and the Boston and Maine.

"There is not a word of truth in that statement. After I had become a director of the New Haven, Mr. Mellen sent for me and said he wanted to take the road's express business away from the Adams company, and asked if the American Express Company would take the business. I told him it would not.

"I said: 'Do you think I would let you turn the Adams company off and have people say that this was due to my using my influence as a director?'"

BOSTON AND MAINE.

Ledyard spoke of his connection with the acquisition by the New Haven of the Boston and Maine.

"I discussed the matter," he said, "with Richard Olney of Boston, formerly Attorney-General and Secretary of State, who was interested largely in the Boston and Maine, personally and as a trustee. We both were of the opinion that it was a wise thing for the New Haven to acquire the Boston and Maine.

"The New Haven had the right under its Connecticut charter to acquire the Massachusetts trolleys. Mr. Olney and others were surprised when they learned the New Haven, by its six-mile holding in Massachusetts, had become a Massachusetts corporation and was bound by the laws of that State.

RELATIONS WITH MORGAN.

"Much has been said," continued Mr. Ledyard, "in the press and elsewhere as to my relations with Mr. Morgan or his firm. For many years I was an intimate friend of Mr. Morgan's, but had no business relations with him."

Counsel, in Dissolution Suit at Philadelphia, Explains Why Reading Got Control.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—Counsel for the Reading company and the Jersey Central Railroad, defendants in the suit to dissolve the alleged illegal combination which the government alleges exists in the anthracite coal industry, contended in their argument in the United States District Court today that the Reading and Jersey Central are not competing lines, and that the Reading's control of the Jersey Central was not contrary to law. Jackson E. Reynolds, general attorney for the Jersey Central, asserted that the Reading had not secured control of the Jersey Central to stifle trade, but that control was acquired by George F. Baer, president of the Reading, because he feared the Jersey Central was about to be purchased by the Baltimore and Ohio, thus depriving the Reading of an outlet into New York harbor.

R. W. Deforest, vice-president and general counsel of the Jersey Central; A. M. Beitler, counsel for the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, and W. J. Turner, counsel for the Lehigh and New England Railroad Company, speaking for their respective clients, denied that the defendant railroads are violating the commodities clause.

G. Carroll Todd, assistant to the Attorney-General, concluded the argument for the government, asserting there was a commingling of interests among the Reading company and between the Jersey Central and the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company, as charged by the government.

Todd said the increase in the cost of production of coal since 1898 was 54.4 cents a ton, and the cost at tidewater in the same period had increased 94 cents a ton.

A decision in the case is not expected until fall.

ANOTHER FAREWELL BY BERNHARDT.

TRAGEDIENNE WILL TOUR THE WORLD, INCLUDING ENGAGEMENT IN LOS ANGELES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 4.—Mme. Sarah Bernhardt will sail for New York October 10 to begin a world's tour that will last twenty-six months. She will be in this country but fifteen weeks, curtailing her tour here that she may fill engagements in other countries. She will bring with her a company of fifty.

Mme. Bernhardt and her company will sail in March for the Mediterranean, stopping at Algiers and Tunis in Northern Africa, and then touring the European capitals. A special performance of "Phedre" will be given at the Greek Theater, Syracuse, Sicily, and also at the Roman Theater at Carthage. An engagement of two weeks in London will end the first part of the world's tour.

From London Mme. Bernhardt and an organization of vaudeville and dramatic artists will sail for South Africa, Australia and the Orient. From Japan the company will sail for Vancouver, playing in Coast cities right down the Pacific Coast to Valparaiso, then crossing South America by the trans-Andean Railroad Buenos Ayres and Rio de Janeiro will be visited. From Rio the organization will sail for Madrid, Spain, where the tour will end.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR EXPOSITION.

EXPENSES OF CUSTOMHOUSE ARE PROVIDED FOR.

California Fares Well at Hands of Committee Which Had in Charge the Sundry Civil Bill, National Parks and Public Buildings Being Remembered.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 4.—Two big appropriations for the Panama-Pacific International Exposition are contained in the Sundry Civil Bill reported to the House today by the Appropriations Committee.

For salaries and expenses of a customhouse at the exposition $200,000 is allowed.

For a branch copyright and patent office, according to the terms of Representative Kahn's bill, $40,000 more is appropriated.

The bill makes no appropriation for a government building to house the government exhibits at the exposition, for which $500,000 has been asked by the President, the State Department and the California Congressmen. Senators Perkins and Works, however, will insert the appropriation bill when it goes to the Senate.

Representative Kahn will have inserted in the bill in the Senate an appropriation of $8000 for a road through the Marine Hospital grounds.

For completion of the sub-treasury $50,000 is appropriated.

Reconstructing wharf at the quarantine station, $35,000.

Other California appropriations are: Public buildings, Berkeley, $40,000; Chico, $20,000; Hanford, $2100; Santa Barbara, $20,000; Pasadena, $60,000; Bakersfield, $2500; tower for observatory on Mt. Wilson, $2000; placing electric wiring underground at Benicia Arsenal, $8000; California Debris Commission, $15,000; Yosemite National Park, $100,000; Sequoia National Park, $15,000; Gen. Grant National Park, $2000.

The principal appropriation for Alaska outside of the regular annual allotments is $200,000 for public education.

For seacoast artillery in the Philippines and Hawaii $750,000 is allowed.

Hawaii appropriations are: Hilo public building, $25,000; Honolulu quarantine, $12,000; Scofield Barracks, $750,000; light and fog signal, Kauai Island, $3000.

HUERTA STANDS BY FRIENDS.

Demands Legalization of His Official Acts to Protect Backers From Severe Losses.

[BY MEXICAN CABLE AND A. P.]

VERA CRUZ, June 4.—The price Provisional President Huerta demands for his retirement is the legalization of his official acts since his appointment to the provisional Presidency, according to advices from the capital today.

This is said to have been the proposal Gen. Huerta authorized his delegates to offer at the mediation conference at Niagara Falls.

Gen. Huerta is said to realize he has only a slim chance of winning out, but he is understood to be determined not to abandon power without adequate provision being made for the protection of his own future, and for that of the men with whom he has surrounded himself.

The Constitutionalists, it is said, have insisted that no act of Gen. Huerta's administration shall ever be regarded as legal and in this case Gen. Huerta foresees enormous financial losses for those who joined in the flotation of his loans as well as personal risks for the members of his Cabinet, for the new Congressmen installed in place of those whom he imprisoned and for thousands of minor officials and even private citizens who willingly or unwillingly aided his government.

TWO KILLED IN NORTHERN OHIO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLEVELAND (O.) June 4.—Northern Ohio was swept by severe lightning, wind and hailstorms today. Two persons were killed, two others seriously injured and property damaged to the extent of many thousand dollars. Hail seriously damaged crops.

OREGON BUDS HERE TODAY.

Bevy of Pretty Girls Will Spend Day in City to Boost Portland Rose Festival.

Queen Thelma and her royal retinue will descend upon the city this morning for a day's visit in the interest of the Portland Rose Festival, which begins June 9.

The queen, who before assuming her regal title, was Miss Thelma Hollingsworth, is attended by eleven maids chosen from among the beauties of the Rose City and by a manager and chaperona. They will be met at the Salt Lake station when they arrive at 7 o'clock by a committee representing the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and escorted to the Alexandria Hotel, where breakfast will be served.

At 8:30 o'clock Mayor Rose will visit the hotel and formally welcome the visitors in behalf of the city, after which the queen and her party and Mayor Rose will be taken for an automobile ride of the city. A stop will be made at Exposition Park, where an Oregon rose bush will be planted. A luncheon will be tendered the Rose beauties in Pasadena by the Pasadena Rose Tournament Association. Then the party will take special electric cars for Long Beach, where a 5 o'clock tea will be served at the Hotel Virginia. The party will leave for the north at 8 o'clock tonight.

Following are the names of the queen's maids: The Misses Hazel Hoyt, Alice Husby, Helen Fitzgerald, Estella McCarl, Lina Ostervold, Helen McIver, Sadie E. Vigus, Leola Martin, Anna Tierney, Beulah Barringer and Mary McKinnon.

SAN CARLOS DAM.

Though the San Carlos dam is yet in rather nebulous shape, litigation will be started this week at Florence over the irrigation priorities of the lands the dam and reservoir are planned to serve. Immediately at issue are the priorities of the Florence and Casa Grande sections, though the rights of the Pima Indians, stretching back before the white man's coming, are to be represented. There is also likelihood that the farmers of the upper Gila Valley, around Safford, will intervene, to establish prior claims upon the ordinary flow of the river that might otherwise be included within the water to be impounded.

Los Angeles Traveling Man Secured Part of "Willie the Weeper's" Bond Posted in Court.

EL PASO, June 4.—George Sommers, a Los Angeles traveling man who invested $350 in "Willie the Weeper's" game in Juarez, regained $200 of his money today in the county court, when he won his suit from James Russel, alias "Willie the Weeper."

Sommers asserted he had intrusted $350 worth of travelers' checks, indorsed, in the "Weeper's" hands while on a sightseeing trip across the Rio Grande. The "Snow Kid," the "Irish Consul" and other famous men are alleged to have assisted in the painless removal of the traveling man's bank roll. Russel posted a bond of $200 in Police Court and Sommers brought action to recover his money and got the $200.

FOR CONGRESS OF MAYORS.

John Purroy Mitchel of New York Suggests Conference at Panama-Pacific Expedition.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

AUBURN (N. Y.) June 4.—Mayor John Purroy Mitchel of New York in an address tonight before the New York State Mayors' Conference suggested that a nation-wide conference of municipal authorities be called to meet next year at the Panama-Pacific Exposition under the auspices of the New York State body.

DEADLOCK OVER HINDUS.

Investigation at Vancouver at a Standstill Over Question of Admitting Aliens From India.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) June 4.—There is a deadlock in the Hindu situation today. The investigation now being carried on by the officials as a board of inquiry is at a standstill because the Hindus refuse to leave the ship to attend. The first cases taken up by the board of inquiry last week were of the twenty men who claimed free entry to British Columbia because they were previous residents. Twelve of these were admitted after brief investigation and walked ashore. Two have since been allowed to enter after proving their statements before protracted hearings of the board. Three others have been heard, but decisions reserved. Three still remain out of the twenty to be heard. This trio was to have been gone on with the Senate, but when the official boat went out to get them they declined to appear.

It is stated that this new move has been adopted by Gurdit Singh and was as much of a surprise to G. Edward Byrd, counsel for the Hindus, as it was to the officials and the Hindus ashore. Mr. Bird and the officials remained at the immigration wharf most of the day waiting for the party to appear, but the three declined to come.

Awards Express Contract.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 4.—The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad system today awarded its express business to the American Express Company, commencing July 1. The United States Express Company, which has this system's express contracts now, announced several months ago that it would retire from business on June 30.

COULD NOT STAND ON FEET

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich. — "I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong." — Mrs. ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

Not Well Enough to Work.

In these words is hidden the tragedy of many a woman, housekeeper or wage earner who supports herself and is often helping to support a family, on meagre wages. Whether in house, office, factory, shop, store or kitchen, woman should remember that there is one tried and true remedy for the ills to which all women are prone, and that is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It promotes that vigor which makes work easy. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

LYTLE'S SON DIES A PAUPER.

AND THE LEGIONAIRES OF FRANCE WILL MOURN HIS PASSING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 4.—Reduced to poverty through a chain of misfortune dating from the death of his wife seven years ago, Charles A. Lytle, 58 years old, son of Gen. William H. Lytle, author of the famous poem, "I Am Dying, Egypt, Dying," died today penniless at the Poor House.

Lytle, who had been ill over a year, was for a long time a prosperous commercial traveler of San Francisco and had scores of friends who would have gladly come to his rescue, but he was too proud to ask them for aid. The direct cause of his death was typhoid fever.

As soon as the news of Lytle's death reached his friends who are scattered throughout the city in business and professional circles, they started immediately a fund with which to give him proper burial.

Friends of the man say he was dispossessed from his last rooming-house after the landlord had exacted from him as a last payment for rent a pocketbook containing medicine and the few scanty personal belongings he had left. In a dying condition he was found on the street and taken to the County Hospital.

JAP SHIPS NEAR SHORE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OCEAN PARK, June 4.—Mariners and ex-seafarers were apprehensive today for two Japanese men o' war when the two ships came in very close to shore. They were on their way to the North, having left Los Angeles Harbor after their visit there. The big boats were close in and it looked as if they would ground if they did not change their courses. Eventually they swerved out to sea and made their get-away around hazy Point Dume. Many people lined the shore and some had field glasses which brought the Oriental warriors close to view.

TAFT LAYS CORNER-STONE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) June 4.—Former President William H. Taft today laid the corner-stone of New Haven's new marble postoffice, which is to cost $1,600,000. Mr. Taft delivered an historic address.

A Quaint Welsh Custom.

[The Argonaut:] One of the quaintest of all Welsh customs is the unsheathing of the sword of Taliesin, that takes place every year on the shores of Llyn Geirionydd, near Trefriw, North Wales. A short distance from the lake is a large, flat-topped boulder, supposed to have been Taliesin's pulpit. On this rock the old bard (who is said to have flourished about 540 A. D.,) performed his weird religious rites, and ever since the rock has been known as the "Court of Taliesin." Once a year, in August, a group of bards assemble at the "court"—the chief bard standing on the rock, and the others on a circle of white stones surrounding it. Here the rites are performed solemnly and quaintly in the presence of a large crowd. The naked sword is returned to its sheath when the chief bard has ascertained from the people that there is peace in the land. The sword remained unsheathed during the three years of the Boer War. The ancient ceremony is followed by witty and humorous bardic addresses, recitations and songs.

Postmen's Stair-Climbing Record.

[The Argonaut:] City postmen in the British Isles have long had a great reputation as stair climbers, but some may be surprised to learn that an investigation shows that a postman in Glasgow has to climb on an average 210 flights of stairs a day, which works out 5400 steps a day, going up and coming down. Another postman has to ascend and descend 51,400 steps during one week, the daily average being 9560, and the daily work of a third necessitates his walking fourteen and three-fourths miles on the level and a total "stair" rise of 3266 feet.

RESISTANCE TO DISEASE

Why is it that one person can work al day standing in cold water, slush and snow with no harmful effects, while another with less exposure contracts colds, pneumonia, rheumatism, sciatica or something equally distressing and dangerous?

Because, in the first case the body was in such perfect balance that there was "resistance" to disease. In the second there was lack of tone that invited ill health.

Keep your system toned up with Dr. Williams's Pink Pills and foods that once distressed you will be harmless, exposure will bring no fears of rheumatism and neuralgia and even germ diseases need hardly to be dreaded.

Dr. Williams's Pink Pills assist digestion, correct the lassitude, the palpitation of the heart, shaky nerves and the pallor of face and lips that are the results of thin, impure blood.

Try Dr. Williams's Pink Pills for anaemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness. Take them as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that will keep you well and strong. Get a box from the nearest drug store and begin this treatment now.

Send to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a free booklet, "Building Up the Blood."

Mother Stanislaus Tells of Recovery

Neglected throat trouble, and continued coughs and colds, often weaken the system. Investigate reports of recoveries brought about by Eckman's Alterative. Here is one:

Convent of St. Anne, Sanford, Fla.

"Gentlemen:—In February, 1911, four doctors examined my throat and pronounced the necessity of an operation. Having heard at Peekskill, N. Y., Mother-house of the Sisters of St. Francis, where I was visiting, of Eckman's Alterative, I determined as a last resort to try it. After taking four or five bottles large pieces of diseased tissue came away. I continued the Alterative, to my grateful and daily relief. In ten months I was restored to perfect health. I would like them to see and hear from my own lips, if they so desire, all I would say of it."

(Abbreviated.)

(Signed) MOTHER M. STANISLAUS.

Eckman's Alterative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and upbuilding the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Sold by leading druggists. Write Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet of recoveries.

Defeat Prohibition.

period to probably $100,000,000 to $150,000,000—enough to pay every farm mortgage in the State twice over."

In closing, Swett said: "We are making a straightforward, clean cut fight for the viticultural industry. There are no campaign funds coming from other sources. There are no alliances with other interests. We have faith in our cause and firmly believe that this amendment will be defeated."

ISSUE IN CONVENTION.

Chairman C. C. Teague of the Resolutions Committee said this afternoon that it has been decided not to take up any issues such as the universal eight-hour law and the prohibition amendment for the reason that there may be a division of opinion among the fruit growers themselves on such questions. These matters will be left entirely to those in separate conventions.

The grape men, who feel disposed to form an organization among themselves to combat the prohibition amendment probably will do so without attempting to commit the entire convention to their ideas. The Resolutions Committee will take up only matters upon which there is harmony of belief and which concern the fruit industry, as a whole.

Because of the fact that the convention is being held on State property, some delicacy is shown about taking a stand on subjects, which may cause a difference to arise among all the people of the State?

JURY SAYS "YES."

Returns Verdict Against Defendant in Suit Brought to Make Him Support a Child.

Dr. L. L. Ginsburg is the father of the year-old baby of Mrs. Anna F. Schwartz, according to a special verdict of a jury in Judge Jackson's court last night. The verdict was returned in the suit of Mrs. Schwartz to have the doctor pay $50 per month toward the support of the child under the new act making a father responsible for his illegitimate children.

The interrogation "Is the defendant the father of the child?" was put to the jury and it answered in the affirmative. The case was then continued by consent until Monday at 2 p.m. for further testimony and to determine the amount to be allowed.

Dr. Ginsburg and Mrs. Schwartz met at a picnic at Ocean Park July 4, 1910. She testified that the physician had promised to marry her after she had received a final decree of divorce, March 6, 1913. Three weeks after this date the baby came, but the doctor had been married to another woman some months before.

Arizona.

FOR PROMOTION OF GOOD ROADS.

Work of Most Active County to Be Rewarded.

Prospects for Wool Clip Are of the Best.

Indians Kill Elk Brought from Wyoming.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) June 3.—During the Frontier Day celebration in Prescott are to be held meetings of the Arizona Good Roads Association and of a newly-formed Arizona division of the American Automobile Association. Considerable formality is to be attached to the gift by the two associations of a handsome silver cup to the Arizona county that has made the greatest progress in the construction of roads within the year 1913, with allowances made for the amount of funds available for such uses in the smaller counties. The claims of the several State subdivisions will be presented by their Supervisors and road superintendents, who all have been invited to attend the good roads meetings.

It is probable also that something of an effort will be made at the sessions to work up a sentiment for pushing through Northern Arizona a scenic highway that will permit the tourists to visit the Grand Canyon and a score of other attractions now missed by the automobile traveler on other routes. The automobile features of the celebration are to be elaborate, the four days' entertainment concluding with an eighty-eight-mile race around the loop road, for $1000 and $300 prizes.

WOOL OUTPUT.

According to Hugh M. Campbell, president of the Arizona Wool Growers' Association, the past season has not been a bad one with the industry. The wool clip was about the same as the winter before, 8,000,000 pounds, sold for the bettered price of 22 cents a pound, in Boston. The past winter was much milder than the previous season and the prospects for the current season are of the best.

INDIAN ELK SLAYERS.

Reports received by the State Game Warden tell that Navajo and Apache Indians are killing some of the elk brought into Northern Arizona a year ago from Wyoming at the cost of the Arizona membership of the Order of Elks. The animals found the conditions of the Arizona forests very congenial and it is believed that none have died from natural causes.

WATER DEVELOPMENT.

Two large water development plans are being worked out by the Santa Fe Railroad Company. One is at Smith's Springs, above Flagstaff, where the Sharp-Fellows Company of Los Angeles has taken a contract for building a 50,000,000-gallon reservoir, costing about $100,000. Near Seligman a storage dam is to be placed in the canyon of Walnut Creek, and is to be connected with the railroad service by a twenty-mile pipe line. Much of the water used on the main line now is coming from the Del Rio Springs, on the Prescott branch road.

Wickenburg has sold a bond issue and is to have municipal water service. Two wells are to be connected with a 100,000-gallon reservoir and 14,000 feet of pipe will be laid, with due provision for fire protection.

While being lowered in a cage within a great smelter stack at Clarkdale Thursday, Felix Grosso and F. A. Davis were killed, Jessie Slagle was badly hurt by a fifty-foot fall, and T. C. Hughes escaped injury by clinging to the side of the cage, which overturned when caught by a hook within the stack.

Work now is progressing upon the business buildings within the "ready-made" city of Clarkdale, following the erection of scores of residences and cottages for the officers and workmen of the controlling corporation, the United Verde Copper Company. Every building will be of fireproof construction. Work also is being driven on construction of the immense smelter, with the expectation that its furnaces will be started August 1 on ores brought by broad-gauge railroad from Jerome.

Made Minister to Guatemala.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

GUATEMALA, June 4.—Announcement of the appointment by provisional President Huerta of Benjamin Barries as new Mexican Minister to Guatemala was made today. Barries is a Mexican citizen of English extraction, and is an international lawyer with a large practice among London concerns.

Mr. Gordan Says:—

You probably want to be well-dressed but not foppish.

You want your clothes to look right—then you want to forget them.

Your busy man has no time for fussiness. Nor, can he afford to be careless.

Generally he passes his clothes responsibility on to some one else—his wife—or his tailor.

And, the right kind of tailor is glad to assume the burden.

He knows or ought to know how to fit each personality properly without making it the slave of the style of the moment.

Some of my patrons have been coming to me since back in '86.

And whether they pay me $40 or $45 for suitings of Domestic woolens or a bit more for Imported

ANOTHER CANDIDATE.

John L. Fleming Out for Nomination for Judge of the Superior Court—Many Indorse Him.

Attorney John L. Fleming announced his candidacy yesterday for a Superior Court judgeship. Fleming was born at Downey in 1876, and has resided in the county all his life. He received his legal training in the Los Angeles law school, and in the law office of Judge Wilbur, Judge Rives and George P. Adams. He has never held public office of any kind, either as principal or deputy.

Since his admission to the bar, in April, 1900, his time has been devoted to the general practice, both civil and criminal. He has adopted as his campaign slogan the words, "If you do not know him, ask your lawyer," believing that his qualifications for the office are best known to his brother members of the bar, and he is willing to abide by their opinion.

He is a member of Hollenbeck Lodge, No. 319, F. and A. M.; Worthy Patron of Hollenbeck Chapter, No. 248, O.E.S.; member East Gate Chapter, No. 102, R.A.M.; Helmet Lodge, No. 25, K.P.; Ramona Parlor, No. 109, N.S.G.W., and Past Regent Angeleno Council, Royal Arcanum.

He presents the following indorsement:

In connection with the announcement of John L. Fleming, as a candidate for the office of Superior judge of this county, we, the undersigned, practicing attorneys of the Los Angeles bar, take pleasure in indorsing him for the position. Our knowledge of him, both as a man, and a lawyer, extending over several years, warrants us in stating that his long experience, judicial temperament and legal ability, eminently qualify him for the position to which he aspires, and if elected, he will perform the duties of his office with ability, fairness and impartiality.

ASSAULTED AND LEFT ON TRACK.

NEGRO ATTACKED HER, DECLARES INJURED WOMAN.

Discovered Unconscious in Glare of Train Headlight, She Says Passenger Hit Her and Forced Her from Car—Taken on Elks' Special to Santa Monica Hospital.

With blood streaming from a number of wounds on the head and body, Miss Helen Rogers, 25 years old, of No. 1314 Hoover street, was discovered lying across the Pacific Electric tracks at Sixteenth and Hoover streets late last night, and was taken to the Receiving Hospital at Santa Monica, where she regained consciousness and asserted that she had been attacked by a negro.

That she was not run over by a passing train was due to the vigilance of the motorman of the Elks' special train, which left Glendale en route to Venice. He discovered the body within the focus of the searchlight of the car.

The train was stopped and a number of Elks assisted in carrying the unconscious girl inside, and it was then decided to take her to Santa Monica rather than wait for the arrival of the police ambulance.

After restoratives had been applied the girl regained her senses and said that she had boarded a car filled mostly with negroes, with the intention of going home.

When she was preparing to alight, she said, one of the negroes hit her on the head and pushed her from the car.

What followed the dazed girl was unable to state, but she was certain that her assailant did not leave the train.

An investigation showed that a train filled largely with negroes left the Hill Street Station about the time given by the girl, but the crew of the train did not see any white woman aboard.

The girl was not dangerously injured, although she has several cuts and bruises that may have been caused by falling off the car.

America's Richest Women.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer:] The four richest women are:

Mrs. Mary Harriman, widow of E. H. Harriman, is estimated at $175,000,000. That of Mrs. Hetty Green is believed to be next, amounting to about $100,000,000. Mrs. Margaret Sage, widow of Russell Sage, is a close third, with about $90,000,000. And Mrs. Frederick C. Penfield, who was Mrs. Anne Wightman Walker before her last marriage, is the fourth of the quartette, with a fortune of $80,000,000.

Each one of these women, though left with a large sum of money, has shown her ability, not only to increase it, but to spend it wisely!

Each seems to have made it her aim to continue the policies and to carry out the wishes of her husband.

Each seems to possess the remarkable business capabilities which made the husband a giant of the financial world.

Aside from great wealth, all four women possess a remarkable personality which distinguishes them.

All are interested in the workers and the workings of the world, doing something definite to help; contributing largely and consistently to many philanthropies and charities.

will be sent to property owners in he district north of Sixth street. The etter in its first draft, and subject to he action of the organization, outines the purposes as follows:

"To permanently establish a stable alue on our central business property y improving with class "A" build-ngs, retaining high-class tenants and ecuring others.

"It is proposed by the directors to uild either a first-class building at hird and Broadway or in the block etween Second and Third streets, or n both places, to be followed later
y other buildings on Main, Spring, Broadway and Hill. We are coninced that one or two of these build-ngs are necessary and can be filled with first-class tenants and, moreover, we are assured by private property olders that if we build, they will ollow with other buildings which otherwise would not be erected.

"To assist and lend all our influnce toward the organization and quick construction of a direct line for apid transit between Pasadena and he business section of Los Angeles owned by this organization.

"To co-operate with the city offiials in bringing about the quick contruction of the tunnels or open cut n First street, as may be determined upon.

"We shall also use our best endeavor o bring about the conditions favorable to the quick construction of the Pacific Electric subway from Hill-

"The capitalization is $5,000,000, divided into 50,000 shares, par value of which each. No stock will be sold less than par.

"No commissions to be paid for the selling of the stock.

"A project to build a rapid transit electric line, connecting Los Angeles with Pasadena on a fifteen-minute schedule was presented yesterday to Miss Gregory, secretary of the Civic Center Association and of the Business Stability Association, by Commissioners Allen and Loughery of Pasadena. The plan is to carry passengers by subway through the residence part of Los Angeles beyond Elysian
Park and then through the Arroyo Seco by elevated to a subway connection in Pasadena.

"Much of the route lies in the two municipalities and the projectors believe there will be no trouble in securing all necessary rights of way.
The projectors asked Gregory for the moral support and encouragement of the Civic Center Association and stated that they desire some financial aid.
The matter has not yet been taken up with the Business Stability Association, but probably will be soon.
Some of that association said last night that they favor the idea of a rapid transit line to Pasadena, but that they have not gone far enough into the matter yet to declare for or against any plan that has been considered or presented.

"It has been virtually decided that the completion of the organization and sufficient subscriptions that the association will build a class A build-

GLOBE ELECTION IS UNDECIDED.

SOCIALISTS POST GUARD OVER THE BALLOTS.

Judge Thomas Dismisses Libel Charges Brought Against Primary Election Board—Miami Cary ister Killed With Wooden Plane While Many Men Are Around House.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLOBE (Ariz.) June 2.—It is evident that the last city election is not yet decided, for the Socialists have contested the majority vote for Marshal Pinyan, and even have posted a guard over the vault wherein are locked the election ballots cast. It has been found that the ballots were left loose in the boxes and had not been sealed up in envelopes as prescribed by law. When the votes were canvassed by the old City Council, the result for Marshal was the same as that before announced. The matter will be taken into the courts if necessary, in the effort to unseat Pinyan, who is under arrest on an allegation of extensive registration frauds.

LIBEL CHARGES DISMISSED.

The criminal libel charges brought by William Sparks against officers of the Fifth Ward primary election board, have been dismissed by Judge Hinson Thomas as unsustained. At the same time the Justice fined Sparks and Clerk Kaleb $20 each for indulging in a personal encounter in the courtroom at the hearing of the case. Sparks declares that he is doing nothing more than trying to rectify illegal and fraudulent election conditions that have been known in this city for years past. He is not representing any party or individual, in his opposition to persons who he claims to have been instrumental in perpetrating frauds against the elective franchise.

MURDERED WITH PLANE.

At some time between 10 a.m. and shortly after noon, J. C. Hawthorne, a carpenter, was murdered in a bunk house near the new Inspiration mill in Miami. The crime was committed in a most unusual manner. Probably while the victim was asleep, his skull was crushed by a blow from a large wooden plane, taken from Hawthorne's tool-chest, and which, covered with blood, had been replaced in the chest by the murderer. At least a half dozen blows had been struck and the skull was crushed into fragments. According to the examining physician, "It looked like the work of a drunken man, a maniac, a man crazed with the sight of blood, or else the work of a man who once well igto the crime, determined to make sure of the death of his victim, upon the theory that dead men tell no tales."

Despite the horrible character of his injuries, Hawthorne lived till 7:15 that evening. The Coroner's jury found the bunkhouse a veritable shambles, the walls and floor being covered with blood. Following pay day a number of men in the house had been drinking heavily and had been gambling. Hawthorne is understood to have kept sober, and to have won about $400 at cards within a couple of days, though his associates declare that he did so honestly. It is evident that the crime was committed at a time when several hundred men were around the bunkhouse, liable to enter at any time. Hawthorne's room-mate, E. D. Hart, is under arrest, but the officers do not claim to have a good case against him. Possibly the strongest assumption against him is that the deed was undoubtedly done by some one very familiar with the premises and with the habits of the men who lived there and that the murderer changed his clothing after the commission of the crime. Hart claims to have discovered the dying man, as he returned to the room for a noon rest.

TWO KILLED IN MINES.

Through a misunderstanding of signals, Fred Berringer was killed in the Scorpion shaft of the Inspiration Company last Thursday. A fellow-workman not authorised to touch the ropes gave a lowering signal to the engineer, who suddenly dropped the cage, which fell like a hammer upon Ber-ringer's body. A Coroner's jury demanded that strict compliance with the State bell signal law be enforced by the company.

Wednesday in the Miami mine,
Francis L. Dupen, a young mining engineer employed as a shaft boss, fell into an open shaft, a distance of 350 feet, and was found dead. He had been climbing the shaft at the time and it is believed he became giddy and lost his footing upon the ladder.

THREE KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Saturday evening near the Warrior
Mine occurred the fifth violent death that had been known in this district for the week, by the roadside being found the bodies of Fred Horn, a well-known miner, and his horse, both killed by the same lightning bolt.
While riding to the Warrior, of which he was caretaker, Horn was struck, the lightning tearing the leather from his saddle and felling his horse as it passed to the wet ground. Two other deaths from lightning are reported from other southwestern points. Near Gila Bend, Tomas Dominguez, a Southern Pacific section hand was killed during a storm Sunday afternoon and a companion stunned. Near Central, N. M., lightning struck an automobile, killing Capt. J. O. Walkup, of the staff of the army sanatorium at Ft. Bayard, and badly shocking Capt. and Mrs. B. J.
Tillman and their daughter, and Brig.-Gen. Francis Moore, retired, father of Mrs. Tillman.

THE ANSWER.

Fourteen Thousand, Six Hundred and Five Separate "Liner" Advertise-ments Were Printed in The Times for the Seven Days From Monday, May 25, to Sunday, May 31, Inclusive.

This Contest Will Be Closed Sunday, June 7.

The prize of $5.00 in gold has been awarded to Mrs. Louis Kellogg, No. 2962 Roxbury street, city, whose estimate of 14,505 "Liners" was the first correct answer received in last week's contest. This answer was received at The Times office at 1:55 p.m., May 31. D. Shanhan's esti-mate of 14,605 "Liners" was also correct, but it was not received at The Times office until 3 p.m., May 31.

During the week mentioned, The Times printed 3994 more separate "Liners" than its nearest contemporary.

On Monday, June 8, The Times will award $5.00 in gold to the per-son making the nearest correct estimate of the total number of classi-fied, or "Liner," advertisements printed in The Times during the pre-ceding seven days.

This contest does not involve luck, chance, guessing or the solving of problems. Accuracy in counting the total number of "liner" adver-tisements that appear from day to day in The Times, including those printed in the classified Business Directory in the Sunday issue, is all that is necessary to win the award.

Answers should not be submitted until after the publication of The Times for Sunday of the week for which the contest is held, and they must be delivered at The Times office, Broadway at First street, before 10 a.m. the following Tuesday.

Estimates will be numbered in the order of their receipt at The Times office, and the prize will be awarded to the person sending in the first correct, or nearest correct answer.

The name of the prize winner will be published Wednesday, June 10.

This contest is not open to employees of The Times Mirror Company, and this company's advertisements should not be counted.

Address letters to "Contest Editor," New Times Building, Los Ange-les, Cal.

Month after month, year in and year out, The Times regularly prints more advertising than any other newspaper in America, and more "lin-ers" than the two other Los Angeles morning papers combined.

TIMES "LINERS" PAY BIG.

Four Flush.

POSING AS CROESUS, ELOPES WITH CHILD.

James Hasapis,

A forty-seven-cent "millionaire" and masher, who was arrested last night when about to elope with a fifteen-year-old girl.

POSING as a millionaire and the owner of a large market-house in San Diego, James Hasapis, 28 years old, a fruit peddler living at No. 2215 Palmer street, attempted to elope last night with Lizzie Word, a 15-year-old school girl, from Florence, but was captured by the police as he was leading his sweetheart into a hotel near Sixth and Los Angeles streets.

Upon being searched at the Police Station, a large bundle of love letters from various infatuated girls was dis-covered, together with a total capital of 47 cents.

That he also had a reputation as a gay Lothario was shown by a letter signed "Letta," which accused him of being a trifler with women's hearts and declared that she had consulted "the cards and had seen a blonde lady by his side on board a train."

According to a confession which the youthful prisoner made to the police, he had known Miss Word less than a month. Yesterday morning he met her by appointment, and spent part of the day visiting picture shows.

The pair returned to Florence early in the evening and the girl obtained part of her effects and left her home through a rear door.

James Word and his wife were sus-picious that all was not right and noti-fied Detectives Ziegler and Fitzgerald, who picked up the trail at the elopers stepped from an incoming car.

The girl carried a small suit case containing a dress and other articles dear to a woman's heart, and as the officers followed the pair through the downtown district he appeared ex-cited and tried to lead the young girl through an alley as if to elude pur-suit.

At one place the pair stopped a few moments and he told her that he was unable to obtain money tonight as his bank was closed, but that he would cash a check early today. An old bank book with a large number of credits, supposed to be fictitious, was displayed by the man, and his com-panion seemed convinced that he was one of the wealthiest men in the city.

Upon arrival at the hotel, the of-ficers interfered and took both to the Central Station, where the girl was confronted by her brother and his wife. Miss Word then broke down and told the whole story, at the end of which her brother forced his way passed the detectives with the appar-ent object to taking the law into his own hands.

He was not permitted to harm the cowing husband-to-be, but he de-clared that he would make things in-teresting for Hasapis if he ever caught him.

With the first romance of her life shattered, the girl agreed to follow the advice of the officers and return to her home with her brother.

Hasapis was held pending a further investigation, but may be released, as the girl's family objected to appearing in court.

Two-thirds Vote.

WAY CLEARED TO UNITE CITIES AND COUNTIES.

REPRESENTATIVES of the San Francisco and Los Angeles Cham-bers of Commerce, meeting yester-day with city officials, paved the way, it is believed, for an early agreement on the form in which the constitu-tional amendment permitting city and county consolidation will be submitted to the people by approving a provi-sion that no city can cross the line of an adjoining county except by a two-thirds affirmative vote of the elec-torate of the county to be invaded.

Oakland interests had opposed the amendment on the grounds that its veiled purpose was to permit their being gobbled by San Francisco. Other cities in the metropolitan district about San Francisco Bay also opposed it. On the other hand, San Francisco was against any amendment which would forever preclude its expansion. Los Angeles' position was that of a mediator between the two.

City Attorney Woolner of Oakland had been invited to be present at the meeting, but was prevented by a press of business. He was informed last night by telegraph of the agreement reached at the meeting here and asked for his opinion. The San Fran-cisco delegates also wired various civic organizations in their city of the re-sult and asked for opinions.

City Attorney Stephens will give a luncheon to the visitors at noon to-day. Replies to the telegrams sent yesterday will probably be received by that time and a conclusive idea obtained of the sentiment towards the action taken at yesterday's gather-ing.

"I want to make it plain," said City Attorney Stephens, "that Los Angeles had no axes to grind, but was anx-ious that the interested cities get to-gether on this matter. San Francisco viewed the amendment in one way and Oakland in another, and both wanted an amendment of some kind. So Los Angeles saw fit to act as media-tor."

"We want a good, broad amend-ment; one that will be serviceable to both north and south," said Vice-President and Manager Lynch of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Milton S. Esberg, chairman of the Executive Committee of the San Francisco chamber, was also present, as was R. J. Montgomery of the Leg-islative Committee of the Commercial Club of Oakland. Montgomery was present merely to get enlightenment on the subject and was not empow-ered to act for Oakland interests.

City Attorney Stephens, Deputy City Attorney Robertson and Council-men Conwell and Wheeler represent-ed the city. The Chamber of Com-merce was represented by its Law Committee, compos d of Bradner W. Lee (chairman,) Norman S. Sterry, Force Parker, J. W. Kemp, H. J. Goudge and ex-Judge Bordwell. The visitors were entertained by the cham-ber at a noonday luncheon at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, with Presi-dent Cole presiding.

STREAMS SALTED BY MT. LASSEN.

CRATER IS MUCH LARGER AND EMITS MORE STEAM THAN EVER.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

RED BLUFF (Cal.) June 4.—A great enlargement in the crater on Mt. Lassen was noted by Forest Su-pervisor A. J. Rushing of Mineral, who returned last night from an in-spection of the mountain.

Rushing states the orifice now measures 50 by 300 feet, with more steam than ever issuing from it. The original dimensions of the crater were given by Forest Ranger Harvey Ab-bey as from twenty-five to thirty feet in width and forty feet in length. The crater has, therefore, more than dou-bled in size.

The steam is now smoky in color, due, it is thought, to the volcanic ash formation being mixed with it. Ash and cinder that has blown out of the fissure now covers the ground to a thickness of one foot for a distance of 500 feet.

Rushing accounts for the great quantity of steam by stating that the point of eruption is but a few feet from the edge of a frozen lake and that ice is gradually melting and pouring into the geyser. It is then emitted as steam.

Steam was noticeable from here yesterday, with the aid of field glasses.

Rushing returned to the crater to-day.

Word from Shingletown, Shasta county, has been received that the streams are rising on the north slope of Mt. Lassen due to the sudden melt-ing of the snow.

An unusual feature is that the wa-ters of the streams formerly fresh have taken on a salty taste.

GREAT OIL PIPE LINE MATERIAL IS ORDERED.

THE Royal Dutch Shell combine, in the name of the Valley Pipe Line Company, its subsidiary, yes-terday at San Francisco placed orders for material for its pipe line, which is to extend from Coalinga to Martinez. It is assured that construction will be started at an early date.

The order, which was placed with James H. Gilhuly, sales manager for California of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, is one of the largest ever given in the West for tubular goods. It calls for 115 miles of eight-inch pipe and fifty-seven miles of ten-inch line. The pipe will weigh about 30,000,000 pounds and amounts to about 750 carloads. Were the pipe to be transported in one ship-ment, the train bearing it would be about six miles long.

The construction of the Royal Dutch line, which with all its appurtenances, like a refinery and storage and pumping stations, etc., is expected to cost close to $5,000,000, will be one of the most significant moves by the big European rival of the Standard Oil Company. The combine now controls about 18,000 barrels of oil a day in California, and as the pipe line will have capacity for about 30,-000, it will be necessary for the Royal Dutch either to buy oil in the fields, or to take over more properties.

Should the former course be pur-sued it will mean another competitor in the purchasing field, and in view of the fact that the Royal Dutch com-bine will seek new and undeveloped markets for a large portion of their oil products, this competition will prove an important asset for the Cali-fornia industry.

FOR SALE— SAN FERNANDO VALLEY.

SAN FERNANDO VALLEY.

And in the very best part of this wonderful valley! Absolutely the best valley in Southern California; 20 minutes from the best water connections, and immediately adjoining the great city of Los Angeles. The value of Owens River water to land in this valley can hardly be estimated, but it is a reasonable assumption that land having Owens River water will go to almost unbelievable figures if we should have a couple of dry years, as may be expected at any time.

We have for sale several snaps, due to tight money conditions which have prevailed for the past few months. Conditions are already much better, but we can deliver at bargain prices if quick action is taken. Will absolutely guarantee Owens River water. One piece of especially fine citrus land at a bargain. Another snap especially fine for alfalfa; fine soil, level as a floor. Another 10-acre, a fine proposition for deciduous fruits, oranges or walnuts. Don't fail to investigate these few properties if you mean business.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

Snatches Woman's Purse.

While the streets were crowded with shoppers yesterday noon a Mexican, about 25 years old, snatched a purse containing $14 and two watches from Mrs. Harmon Loreno.

Burglars Get Jewelry.

Burglars secured $500 worth of jewelry and other articles early yesterday morning when they entered the home of A. S. Fleming, No. 1243 West Fiftieth street. Entrance was made by forcing a kitchen window when no member of the family was at home.

Choral Society Concert.

The Choral Society of the First Presbyterian Church will give its first concert this evening in the assembly-room of the church, Twentieth and Figueroa streets, consisting of choruses, solos and recitations. Frank Thackelford, a tenor recently from Kansas City, is musical director of the society.

Protective Association Meeting.

The Arroyo Seco Protective Association will hold a meeting this evening at the schoolhouse on Avenue 35, for the purpose of completing an organization and to receive the report of a committee on protective measures. All persons interested in the welfare of the community are invited.

Help for Defective Children.

Dr. Thomas J. Orbison, as representative of the Psychopathic Association of Los Angeles, will attend a meeting at San Francisco today, in the interest of defective and backward children. This is the first meeting of the State Committee on the subject, of which he is a member.

Boosters to San Diego.

A "pre-exposition glad hand excursion" to San Diego is planned by the Chamber of Commerce for the 13th inst. A special train of ten cars will be chartered and everyone who desires to see the exposition grounds is invited to accompany the party. Tickets may be obtained through the chamber.

Operetta at Polytechnic.

The operetta, "Florinda," will be presented in the Polytechnic High School auditorium on Saturday evening by the music department of the Sentous-street intermediate school. The orchestra glee club and choruses of the school will have special place on the programme. All seats are reserved, the prices being 15 and 25 cents.

Commission Hearings.

Commissioner Loveland of the State Railroad Commission will hold hearings today in the Supreme Court rooms in the Bullard building of applications of the Southern California Gas Company for certificates of public convenience and necessity in Burbank, Tropico, Fernando and Compton. He will also hear the application of the Glendale and Montrose Railway for an order authorizing a grant of real property to the city of Glendale for street purposes.

Kruttschnitt Goes East.

Hurrying back here from the Imperial Valley, where he had intended to spend three days, Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Southern Pacific and allied railroads, left yesterday for the East over the Salt Lake. Kruttschnitt had originally intended to go East over the Sunset route so that he might visit his son, T. H. Kruttschnitt, who is assistant superintendent for the Southern Pacific at Tucson. President Sproule of the Southern Pacific stated yesterday that the change in plans had no significance.

Temple B'nai B'rith.

The regular weekly Sabbath services at Temple B'nai B'rith will be held this evening at 8 o'clock and tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock, after the children's service, which begins at 9:45 o'clock. Dr. Hecht will be in charge and will speak tonight on the subject: "The Right Leaders." Tomorrow morning he will talk expositorily of the current Scripture lesson, and address the children at their service. The music will be according to Prof. Dunkley's setting, and the solo this evening, "If With All Your Hearts Ye Truly Seek Me," from Elijah, will be sung by the tenor, Haydn G. Jones.

Portland Buds Arrive Today.

Miss Thelma Hollingsworth, queen of the Portland Rose Festival, and eleven of her maids of honor, will arrive here this morning in a special car on the Overland Express from Salt Lake City. They will be met at the Salt Lake station by a delegation from the Chamber of Commerce and taken to the Alexandria for breakfast. At 8:30 o'clock they will leave for Exposition Park, accompanied by the Mayor and other city officials, where they will plant an Oregon rose. The visitors will be the guests of officials of the Pasadena Rose Tournament Association at luncheon at the Annandale Country Club at noon and will leave for Long Beach at 2 o'clock, where they will have tea with the ladies of the Hotel Virginia. Miss Hollingsworth and party will depart at 8 o'clock in the evening for the North.

Wisconsin's Big Night Tonight.

Every one who ever lived in Wisconsin is requested to bring a flag, or bunting, or Wisconsin pictures—notables or scenery—or something else that looks like Wisconsin to the Wisconsin booth at Fiesta Park tonight and help decorate appropriately. Invitations will also be formulated at this time to be extended to various speakers for Wisconsin Day at the Carnival of States, the 18th inst.

JONQUIL CASES ARE LUGGED INTO COURT AGAIN.

Trial of Attorneys on Charges of Trying to Blackmail Business Men on Strength of Lily-White Inmate's Nasty Stories Gives Irene Levy a Little More Notoriety.

The trial of Attorneys Charles S. McKelvey and W. H. Stevens, charged with blackmailing operations involving the claims of Irene Marie Brown-Levy against certain individuals while she was an inmate of the Jonquil apartment-house and with using the mails to defraud, began in the United States District Court, yesterday. It brought out two important points of professional ethics.

One arose when Jennie Weinstein, a former stenographer in the employ of the defendants, was placed on the stand. The point was raised that she could not testify, as her communications with either Stevens or McKelvey were privileged, and therefore could not be given to the jury. The point was argued at length and Judge Wellborn will make a decision this morning.

The other point that the jury must decide is as to how far an attorney is justified in going to try to settle a damage suit out of court without making himself liable to the charge of blackmail. This will appear later on, when the letters alleged to have been written by Stevens to W. H. Evans of Monrovia, and Kyle MacBratney of El Centro, are read to the jury. While the indictment against the men is based on these two letters, it is asserted that there is not a word in either of them that might not have been employed by any reputable attorney in an effort to settle a damage suit in behalf of any client.

When Mrs. Weinstein had been dismissed, Irene Marie Brown-Levy testified at length and even brought out a new name of an alleged visitor at the Jonquil. The girl detailed her conversations with Stevens in relation to bringing suits against these men, and the payment by Stevens to her mother of $500 that she said he secured from one of them. Later on she gave Stevens the name of Kyle MacBratney of El Centro, who claimed to be Sheriff of Imperial county, and recited a trip that she made with Stevens to El Centro to see MacBratney about the suit that Stevens proposed bringing against him. She said that instead of MacBratney being Sheriff, he conducted an optician's shop over a jewelry store. She said Stevens told her he thought MacBratney was a rich man as at the time of their visit he was building a new concrete house. The witness said that she had never talked to McKelvey, the other defendant, about the proposed actions. She said that Stevens urged her to give him all of the names of the men with whom she had been intimate, with a view to bringing suits and compelling them to settle out of court.

When Asst. Dist.-Atty. Stone made a statement of the case to the jury, he declared that not less than $2500 had been paid as "hush money" to the defendants by persons who were interested in seeing that their names were not mentioned in public in connection with the orgies at the Jonquil apartments. As this allegation did not appear in the indictment it was vigorously objected to, and went out of the record.

Who Is Going to Start This?

Must it be left for the ladies to do?

We seem to expect the ladies to do all the clean-up tasks!

A splendid compliment to the ladies, but not so for the men, don't you think?

We have two friends from the East who walk along the street holding crumpled pieces of paper in their hands looking for a trash can to put them in.

Have you our story now?

Our streets are littered with paper and things that other cities train their inhabitants to carefully put into trash cans which are placed at the corners.

When are we going to clean up Los Angeles' streets and have ourselves trained to keep them clean? We talk much about "cleaning up"—who is going to start this much needed clean up?

We have done our part. Let's hear from you.

And now we want to talk clothes for a minute. We believe in good clothes as well as clean streets and good manners. We sell Benjamin clothes, for which we are exclusive agents, and we sell furnishings of corresponding quality. Our best service is at your service and we would be glad to have you use it.

Homely, Yet Admired and Envied; Her Secret

The convention crowd made a path for her, cast admiring side glances, then with longing eyes followed her to the elevator. It was at the Panchartain in Detroit. The incident was recalled when I chanced to sit across table from the woman. What was it about her that caused all that commotion? Her complexion. Really, I've never beheld its equal. Venturing to pick up acquaintanceship, I learned the secret.

"I've tried to make the most of my one charm," she said. "I know when I abhor make-ups and artificiality. I bar cosmetics; there are two things I use to promote natural loveliness and youthful appearance. When my complexion begins to age, I get an ounce of mercolized wax at the drugstore, apply at night like cold cream, wash it off in the morning. This gradually takes off the outer skin; then I have a brand new complexion, magnetically beautiful, as you see.

"Wrinkles never bother me. At their inception I bathe my face in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. It works like magic."—Mona Morrow in Tattler.

Greatest Event in Woman's Life

All human experience looks back to motherhood as the wonder of wonders.

The patience, the fortitude, the sublime faith during the period of expectancy are second only to the mother love bestowed upon the most helpless but most marvelous creation—a baby.

Women are quick to learn from each other those helpful secrets that add to comfort, and yet are perfectly safe to use and among these they recommend "Mother's Friend."

It is entirely an external application designed to lubricate the broad, flat muscles and skin that protect the abdomen. It has been in favorable use for nearly half a century and is known to mothers in almost every settled community in the United States who highly recommend it. You will find it on sale in drug stores. "Mother's Friend" is utterly harmless, contains no deadening drugs, very beneficial, very soothing and a wonderful help.

Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today at any drug store and write to us for our instructive little book to mothers. Address Bradfield Regulator Co., 312 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Sick Skins Made Well By Resinol

No matter how long you have been tortured and disfigured by itching, burning, raw or scaly skin humors, just put a little of that soothing, antiseptic Resinol Ointment on the sores and the suffering stops right there!

Healing begins that very minute, and in almost every case your skin gets well so quickly you feel ashamed of the money you threw away on tedious, useless treatments.

Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap clear away pimples, blackheads, and dandruff. Sold by all druggists; for trial size of each free, write to Resinol, Dept. 22-R, Baltimore, Md. Beware of imitations of Resinol; they are of little value and may even be harmful.

No More Unsightly Hairs After You Apply This

(Aids to Beauty.)

Beauty-marring hairs can be quickly banished from the skin with the aid of a plain delatone paste. This paste is made with a little of the powder and water, then spread on the hairy surface, and after 2 or 3 minutes rubbed off and the skin washed. You will find this a quick, harmless method and one application usually is sufficient, but to avoid disappointment make sure that it is delatone you buy. —[Advertisement.

NURSES GRADUATE.

California Hospital Presents Diplomas to Twenty-six, and All Enjoy a Dance Afterward.

The commencement exercises of the California Hospital Training School for Nurses were held last night in the Gamut Club Auditorium, in the presence of a large audience of friends of the graduates. The address to the class was delivered by Miss Mary Foy, who spoke without notes upon "A Woman's Experience With Politicians and Statesmen."

Miss Foy referred at some length to her experience in Washington and of her interviews with President Wilson. She pictured the politicians and statesmen of early-day history in Los Angeles, and referred with particular feeling to the late Hon. Volney E. Howard, who was a noted and highly-respected jurist of this city thirty years ago. She told her hearers that every nurse is a power for good in the community in which she lives, and while it matters not whether a nurse favors votes for women or not it is their duty to register and be prepared to vote on all questions of sanitation and education.

Dr. Arthur Godin addressed the nurses on behalf of the faculty; Dr. W. W. Hitchcock, president of the hospital, presented the diplomas to the twenty-six graduates—two men and twenty-four women; Miss Anne A. Williamson, superintendent of nurses, presented each with the class pin and awarded her own special prize to Miss Anita Zopp for having made the best record in three years, by unanimous vote of the class. She received a gold-mounted traveler's clock. Sixteen of the graduates are from California, two from Canada, and eight from various other States. Following is a list of the graduates:

Sigrid Elizabeth Anderson, Mary Lutetia Anderson, Alice Marguerite Canon, Sue Sophia Dauser, Ruth Freeman, Ismena Jane French, Roberta George, Axel Walfred Gustafson, Lois Morse Harkness, Ellen Francis Hodgdon, Maude Marie Hull, Helen Irving, Alta Blanche Jenkins, Hannah Christine Kling, Margaret Kendall, Lorena Lawson, Irene Motte, Romania Pratt, Marie Petersen, Elizabeth May Parry, Franz Rothschedl, Sarah Fidelia Stanton, Gladys Alida Scott, Rose Graham Thomson, Ethel Gladys Williams, Anita Velia Zoppi.

At the close of the ceremonies, Senorita Viola Yorba and Senor Ernesto Martinez gave an exposition of modern dancing, and a dance followed, under the floor management of Drs. P. O. Sundin, W. B. Bowman, E. W. Earing and Walter Reeves, with music by Arend's orchestra.

Announcement.

J. S. TORRANCE A BRIDEGROOM.

Capitalist Is to Marry Mrs. Helena Childs.

Ceremony in San Francisco Tomorrow Afternoon.

Society's Expectations of Years Fulfilled.

An engagement that has been predicted by Los Angeles and Pasadena society for many years, and in which countless congratulations have been all but on the point of the tongue several times, was announced in the town City yesterday. It is that of Mrs. Helena Childs and Jared S. Torrance.

The wedding will take place in San Francisco tomorrow afternoon, for which city the prospective bride and groom and Mrs. Childs's daughter, Mrs. Alexander Nottmeyer, and her son, Robert Childs, left Pasadena last night.

Mrs. Childs has long been a widow. She is one of the best-known members of Pasadena society and has a great many friends in this city. Torrance, for whom the manufacturing town of Torrance was named, is one of the most prominent capitalists in the East. He is well past the fifty-year mark in age.

The announcement was made at the home of Mrs. Childs, No. 330 Arlington drive, Pasadena, to a small party of friends. The reception was a very quiet one, and those present were simply apprised of the approaching nuptials and told that it is the intention of the couple to pass the next few months in Europe.

The wedding ceremony in San Francisco tomorrow will take place at the home of a sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. William J. Ruddick. The guests have made reservations to sail for Europe on the Olympic, the 20th inst.

Mrs. Childs and Torrance have been friends for many years. The death of the former wife preceded that of her husband, Frank C. Childs. Later rumors of the engagement were heard, but as no announcement was forthcoming, society concluded that there was to be no wedding after all. Several years ago Torrance purchased a palatial residence at Buena Vista drive and Meridian street in Pasadena, and the rumor of an approaching marriage again became current. However, the millionaire proceeded to make his home in the new house with a widowed sister, and society again concluded that it had been mistaken.

Those present at the Childs home Saturday afternoon, when the announcement was finally made, were: Mrs. F. B. Wetherby, Mrs. E. Kayser, Mrs. George Cruickshank, Mrs. Alexander Nottmeyer, Mrs. C. C. Clarke, Mrs. Henry Vilas, Mrs. Edward Pyle, Mrs. James Warner, Mrs. Martin Rist, Mrs. William Workman, Mrs. Paul Honberger, Mrs. E. M. Mackey, Mrs. H. I. Stuart, Mrs. J. B. Durand and Mrs. Fred R. Harris.

No plans further than the European trip have been given out.

Capitalist to Wed Society Woman.

J. S. Torrance,

Who will take as his bride Mrs. Helena Childs at the home of relatives in San Francisco tomorrow afternoon. The bridal party left Pasadena for the North last night.

DECISION REVERSED.

The District Court of Appeal has reversed the judgment of Judge Bordwell, who found for the defendants in the action brought by Yahachi Shimonda against John Bundy and R. H. Arnold, to recover damages in a personal injury case. The Japanese was run down by an auto owned and operated by the defendants.

"Engaged" for a Comic Opera in Beach Town.

Glittering Prospects Vanish With Director.

Promised fame and fortune in the world of comic opera within a remarkably short time, a dozen Los Angeles girls and nearly as many young men with aspirations to "star" engaged themselves to perform various roles in a modern play, "Muchly Merry." That was three weeks ago.

Today these same girls and boys are much enlightened, they say, and have no desire to become stellar attractions before the footlights. The sequel to the organization of the company came yesterday afternoon when seven of the girls and three of the male "performers" went to the office of the City Prosecutor and requested that a complaint be issued for their leading man, charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses. The man they accuse is H. L. Kramer, who until yesterday morning conducted a "stage craft" studio at No. 650 Figueroa street. A complaint against him was issued by Deputy Prosecutor Brown.

According to the story told by the young persons who were to play in the new comedy, the opening was to have been last night at the Venice Auditorium. For three weeks, they said, the company had rehearsed faithfully for a finished production when yesterday morning they found that, according to all appearances, Kramer, who was to have taken the leading role in "Muchly Merry," had disappeared. Also, they assert, he took with him the "leading lady" and certain funds that the individuals of the company paid him as "fees" for operatic instruction.

Speaking for other members of the company E. F. Price, who was to have had one of the leading roles, said that Kramer recently advertised for experienced and non-experienced players. Price added that Kramer promised the applicants that he would provide them places in his new show and later when that company broke up he would qualify them for positions on "big-time" vaudeville circuits. Some of the applicants paid him, they say, $15 or $20 for instruction and rehearsals for the play, which was to have been staged last night.

Each girl member of t he "Muchly Merry" company was to have received a weekly salary of $15 for the first month and more after that. They were promised $25.

In addition to obtaining money falsely for stage instruction Kramer is alleged to have collected money for music, orchestrations and costumes from each member of the company.

NO REHEARSAL.

The dress rehearsal was to have been yesterday afternoon, the members say. All arrived at Kramer's studio at the appointed time. There they learned that Kramer had paid his bill and departed, apparently for parts unknown. The leading lady, a Miss Blossom, also was said to be gone.

The members of the company who made the complaint against Kramer are Alma Hopkins, Lucille Jackson, Bessie Thomas, E. F. Price, Goldie La Mar, C. E. Elair, Everett Gordon, Mabel Collie, Leslie K. Haskell and Lucille Ray.

"ARREST" AWAITS HONEYMOON PAIR.

BRIDE FROM HOSPITAL READY TO SHARE CELL, BUT FINDS IT JOKE.

When George C. Dopp and his bride arrived in San Diego Wednesday evening following their romantic marriage here at the Angeles Hospital, where the bride was a patient, they were met by a number of friends. But as they left the depot, an officer touched Dopp on the shoulder and told him he was under arrest.

The pretty young bride immediately grasped her husband's arm and said if her husband went to jail she would go, too. Later, it was learned the warrant was for grand larceny and had been issued by the Aschenbroedel Society, of which Dopp was secretary for a long time. Dopp was charged with stealing a wife.

Afterwards the pair were driven to the Aschenbroedel clubrooms, where a banquet had been prepared for about twenty-five persons. Dopp and his bride went to La Jolla today, where they will make their home.

MESSAGE HITS SERIOUS SNAG.

MAYOR'S PROPOSITIONS GIVEN AN ICY HAND.

Abandonment of Silver Lake Project Declared Poor Policy and Open Cut for First Street Considered a Joke—Committee to Make Reply.

Members of the City council took turns yesterday in jumping upon the message of Mayor Rose, the substance of which was printed in The Times yesterday morning, and which advocated the abandonment of the Silver Lake Parkway project, recommended an open cut for First street, and the immediate beginning of work on the Second street tunnel.

The open-cut project was declared to be out of the question, and was not given serious discussion.

As to the Second-street tunnel, Councilman Snowden explained that the Council has taken such steps as it believed were best suited to speedy advancement of the project, and that the present delays are due to property owners who are most vitally interested in it.

As to the abandonment of the Silver Lake parkway project, various members declared their belief that it would be poor policy to abandon it at this stage in the proceedings, as the city has already expended from $8000 to $10,000, and has secured the condemnation of the lands at prices that could not be equaled in the future.

The subject of overlapping assessment districts was discussed, and City Attorney Stephens stated that he now has a man engaged in making an investigation, and in a short time will have a report ready to present to the Council showing just where such overlapping districts occur.

Councilman Snowden stated that he has become convinced that the assessment district for the Second-street tunnel is too extensive, and that it should be modified materially.

As to the Mayor's suggestion that the abandonment of the Silver Lake parkway project would clear the way for the Pacific Electric subway it is explained that the desired result can be effected either by State legislation or an amendment to the city charter, but that the former is probably the most speedy and practicable. City Attorney Stephens said he expects to introduce a bill at the next session of the Legislature providing for the desired changes, so that the proposed subway may be run underneath the lands condemned for the Silver Lake Parkway project.

The message was referred to the Public Works Committee, with instructions that it formulate a reply.

Federal Government Certain to Be Contributor.

After voting unanimously yesterday to accept the report of the special engineering board calling for an ultimate expenditure of $9,500,000 for the control of the flood waters of county streams, the Board of Supervisors issued a call for a convention of Federal, State and city representatives and delegates from interested commercial bodies in this city July 1 to discuss the project and devise ways and means for its financing.

The confinement of certain streams to restricted channels, the diverting of others, and the retarding of the seaward flow of still others by means of boulder washes are features of the report, which is a survey of all possible means of extracting the de-

BEARS GIFT FOR PRINCE.

Norwegian Lodge Here Sends Special Envoy With Navajo Rugs.

Bearing a gift from Los Angeles Norsemen for Crown Prince Olaf of Norway, G. Gisleson of No. 2600 Hoover street will leave today for Christiania, to represent Peer Gynt Lodge, No. 22, Sons of Norway, at the Centennial Celebration on America day, July 4.

With the eyes of Norwegians the world over turned homeward because of the giant celebration of 100 years of independence, Angelenos from Norway determined at a recent meeting to take a fitting part in the general rejoicing. They decided their part should be a gift, as typical as possible of California and the great Southwest, sent direct to the young heir presumptive, who is now 11 years old.

A committee was named that has selected a collection of the finest Navajo rugs obtainable and Gisleson, who for three years has been secretary of the lodge, will journey half-way around the world to present them in person to the little Prince.

Heartbreak.

NEWS OF DUKE'S DEATH PROSTRATES FIANCEE.

WHILE press wires were busy Wednesday night with news of the tragic death at Park City, Utah, of Woodward W. Duke, son of Brodie L. Duke, the tobacco king, his young and pretty fiancee, Miss Lalla Rookh Setchell of No. 737 Westlake avenue, waited vainly for another of the messages that had told her of every stage of his journey.

Worried because she heard nothing, she rose early yesterday and sought her morning paper. There she found the bald statement that he was dead—drowned while pinned beneath the motor car in which he planned to drive to New York.

She screamed and fell sobbing into the arms of anxious parents, who hurried to her, and those who yesterday asked to see her were refused. Alone, in her own room, she was fighting out the tragedy of a broken heart.

For months before young Duke began his motor trip east he was a constant caller at the Setchell home. Often he and the pretty young girl motored together in the same car that held him to a cruel death Wednesday. And friends' interest ran high, and there was much speculation as to the probable outcome of a romance all too evident to those who knew the young people.

While there was never a formal announcement of an engagement, it became known yesterday following the news of the tragedy. And while friends who inquired were told that Miss Setchell was "not well," each knew that a young girl, alone in her room, was fighting the pain of a broken heart.

REWARD OFFERED FOR ANARCHIST.

POLICE RAISE PRIVATE FUND FOR THE CAPTURE OF I.W.W. WHO SHOT OFFICER.

Members of the police department have raised a fund of $100, which will be paid for information leading to the arrest of R. S. Rynex, the I.W.W. painter, who is accused of having shot Patrolman Edward P. Watt at Seventh and San Julian streets last Tuesday night.

The money has been raised by voluntary contribution, and any person knowing the whereabouts of the fugitive may communicate with the police in confidence and receive the reward without red tape or publicity.

The following is a complete description of the anarchist:

R. S. Rynex, commonly called Dick Rynex, 46 or 47 years old, but looks eight or ten years younger; 5 ft. 8½ or 9 in., 150 to 160 pounds, high cheek bones, lower part of face slim, smooth shaven, rather sandy complexion, blue eyes, light brown or sandy hair, worn rather long in back, but is almost bald on top and front of head, looks like an Irishman and has rather a consumptive appearance. Born in Washington, D. C. When last seen was wearing blue serge suit, also had a salt-and-pepper suit. Lost his hat, size 7¼, so cannot say what he is wearing on his head. May have black velour hat with letters "R.R.S." on band. Occupation, painter and paper hanger.

DYNAMITE INJURIES IN DRAMA.

While enacting a sensational scene in a new picture drama called "How Desmond Died" at Universal City Wednesday afternoon, Edward Druggy, ball player, was struck on the head with a beam when a two-story building was dynamited. More than sixty players were in the scene when the explosive was touched off, and all reached a place of safety except Druggy. His injury is not considered dangerous.

ALEXANDER ARRESTED.

Man Wanted in Connection With Long Beach Blackmailing Cases Caught in Maryland.

Secret Service Agent Bowen of the Department of Justice received a telegram yesterday announcing the arrest at Westminster, Md., of Sol. Alexander, one of the men alleged to have been connected with the swindling of Mrs.-Mary T. Feles at Long Beach, out of a large sum. The arrest was made by an agent of the Department of Justice from Baltimore, Westminster being but a few miles from that city. It is understood that Alexander will be brought here immediately in the custody of an officer.

Leagues of Brilliant Lights in Unique and Rosy Outdoor Spectacle.

Fifty-mile boulevard system connecting Van Nuys, Owensmouth and surrounding territory.

In the panorama Sherman Way, South Sherman Way, part of the State highway and some of the connecting laterals are shown. These are the boulevards that form the important part of the fifty-mile system the completion of which will be celebrated by many thousands of people tomorrow afternoon and evening. Thirty-one miles of the highways, including virtually all the roads pictured in the foreground, will be illuminated for the first time tomorrow night and over the lighted way will extend a parade of automobiles. The new town of Van Nuys is shown near the foreground, Owensmouth in the distance. Above is a night scene when the lamps from nearly 1000 electroliers illuminate the roads and bordering hedges of rose bushes and ornamental trees. Below is a photograph of a part of Sherman Way, showing the double boulevard with railroad tracks between, peach orchards on each side and bordering hedges of rose bushes and ornamental trees. The photograph was taken from the top of the Johnson Piano and Organ factory, the largest building in Van Nuys.

Triumph of Development.

BLAZE OF LIGHT TO STRETCH FOR MILES.

City, State and County Officials, With Thousands of Other Visitors, to Aid in Celebrating Completion of Magnificent Boulevard System in San Fernando Valley—Direct Route to Sea Assured.

SAN FERNANDO VALLEY, with its thriving towns, its magnificent system of paved boulevards, its orchards and rich fields, will be viewed by many thousands of visitors tomorrow when the people of the valley will act as hosts in celebrating the culmination of efforts to create a beautiful, prosperous, highly-developed farm community. It will be the greatest outdoor electrical display ever featured in Southern California.

Invitations extended to men of prominence throughout California have been generally accepted. Los Angeles people, who have a vital and personal interest in the prosperity of their near-by neighbors, will be there in force. San Fernando Valley residents, who have achieved wonderful results in only a few years, and confidently hope to accomplish even more in the next two or three years, will take a day off and make merry with their guests.

The programme includes a band concert at Van Nuys at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, inspection of boulevards and improvements, a barbecue at Owensmouth at dusk and an automobile ride around one of the finest and most remarkable boulevard circuits on earth. An impressive feature of the celebration will follow the barbecue when darkness begins to steal over the valley. By the turning of a switch there will blaze forth brilliant electric lights on handsome electroliers along thirty-five miles of smoothly-paved highway. The automobile parade that will follow will be through these long lanes of white light and the great Sherman Way, beautiful in its rose-bordered splendor by day, will scintillate with new and different attractiveness by night.

SUBURBAN FARM HOMES.

Time was when San Fernando Valley was in the hands of Indians and the early Spanish padres. Later it was a great ranch given over chiefly to grazing purposes. Scarcely half a decade has passed since the latter stage existed in much of the valley. Now the whole valley is a fascinating picture—an agricultural fairyland minus illusions, plus material prosperity and comfort rarely attained by men of moderate means.

In making the trip over the valley one is first impressed by the excellence of the boulevard system, highways that extend like white ribbons all through the valley, that cost many hundreds of thousands of dollars and will endure. The next feature to catch the eye is the uniformly high character of the improvements and the bright green verdance that stretches as far as the eye can see on every hand.

Peach orchards that show in three years a growth ordinarily attained only in five or six years alternate with other fruits, great fields of beans, sugar beets and grain that is so heavy that it taxes the capacity of the harvesting machinery. Beautiful suburban homes, every one suggesting beauty and comfort, dot the valley from end to end. Public and business buildings, built with a view to harmonious and artistic beauty as well as utility, aid in producing a general effect that is as unique as it is beautiful and serviceable.

CHARM OF ENVIRONMENT.

Aside from its prosperity, its rich crops and its value as a great productive region, there is a peculiar, compelling charm about San Fernando Valley that enthralls every lover of natural beauty. The San Francisquito Mountains on the north, the Santa Monica range on the west, are somber but harmonious and effective background for the verdure that stretches in unbroken line almost to the city limits of Los Angeles.

The vegetation is more vividly green than in most regions. Subdivision has been accomplished with rare skill. Art has gone hand in hand with more material essentials. From the head of the valley at the north, where the clear waters of Owens River first tumble from the mouth of the aqueduct, to the southerly end of the valley, there is hardly an undeveloped or eye-offending spot. And roses there are by the mile; roses that grow with luxuriant profusion and glorious in form and coloring. There are roses in almost every dooryard and on every farm and orchard. The highways are lined with them for miles. They constitute the one touch necessary to complete the picture made by the boulevard ribbons, the green-mantled lands and the artistic buildings.

Tomorrow's celebration will be an occasion for jollification and sightseeing. It will signal the completion of over fifty miles of paved boulevard in the vicinity of Van Nuys and Owensmouth and the illumination of thirty-five miles of them. City and State officials and representatives of many commercial bodies will be there.

THE HIGHWAY SYSTEM.

The system of highways includes sixteen miles of the magnificent rose bordered Sherman Way, eleven miles of State Highway, the good road from Owensmouth to Chatsworth Park, where the city of Los Angeles purposes to build a reservoir, and the mid-valley cross road connecting the State Highway, Sherman Way and the San Fernando-Chatsworth road, these three having just been completed. About nineteen miles of Sherman Way and connecting laterals have been already lighted. Eleven miles of State Highway and South Sherman Way will be illuminated for the first time tomorrow night, completing a circuit of thirty-one miles of paved and lighted boulevard.

The following highways are included in the illuminated circuit; Sherman Way, North Sherman Way, South Sherman Way, State Highway, between Sherman Way and Encino avenue, side streets in Owensmouth and all streets in Van Nuys townsite. The lighting system has been secured by the people whose property has been assessed for the purpose. The installation cost approximately $75,000.

There are 140 five-light electroliers, 540 three-light electroliers, sixty-one light fixtures and sixty lamps on gooseknecks. The electroliers are of cast iron with shaft the same as those on Broadway, Los Angeles. The tops are like those installed on East Fifth street. The boulevard outside the townsite have three-light fixtures. Inside of the townsites five-light electroliers are installed. These weigh 770 pounds each.

The electroliers are imbedded in massive concrete bases. Like the expensively paved highways, they were built to last. The individual lights are bright enough and the fixtures are sufficiently close together to clearly illuminate the roadways and borders on the darkest nights.

LIGHT AND MIRTH.

Tomorrow night when the full illumination of the circuit is seen for the first time thousands of automobilists will be there to see and appreciate the result. No out-of-door illumination on so grand a scale has ever before been staged here. In San Fernando Valley the long miles of white way have an effective setting to enhance the spectacle.

Rolling over the smooth surface between glowing lights the visiting automobilists will complete their unique trip at Van Nuys, which will also be brilliantly illuminated. There the celebration will be merrily concluded in true carnival style.

In the afternoon drive scores of new schools, churches and public buildings recently constructed will be seen. There are two grammar schools, each costing $40,000. Van Nuys is to have a high school costing $125,000 soon. The Presbyterian and Methodist church buildings in Van Nuys each cost more than $10,000.

Among new industries that are regarded as inevitable by valley residents are two or more canning factories to take care of the crops which the rapidly growing trees in the big orchards will produce. Some of the three-year-old orchards have a good crop this year. In two or three years more hundreds of acres of fruit trees will come into full-bearing and new records for high-priced crops will be established.

PRIZE PRODUCTS HERE.

Imperial Valley Fruits and Vegetables on Exhibition in This City Today and Tomorrow.

Prize fruits and vegetables that received awards aggregating $500 in cash and several silver cups at the third annual fruit and vegetable day of the Imperial Valley, held at El Centro Wednesday, will be on exhibition today and tomorrow at No. 609 South Spring street under the auspices of the Imperial Valley Chamber of Commerce. Thirty-six packing cases were required to transport the exhibit, which was brought by express in care of George B. Holbrook of El Centro, who will have charge of the Los Angeles exhibition.

There are over fifty different kinds of products in the exhibit, all of which are perishable, and it is strongly desired by the Imperial Valley organizations to have the public see the products in as prime condition as possible.

The total entries at the fair numbered ninety, and practically every variety of a fruit or vegetable known to a temperate or tropical clime will be displayed perfect as to shape and color. The doors will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. today and tomorrow, and admission will be free.

For Flood Control.

structive flood teeth from the county's many streams. It contemplates a remaking of the hydrographic map of the county, with particular attention to the vexing problem of carrying silt-bearing waters away from Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors, a subject in which both the State and Federal governments are interested and to which they are expected to contribute.

The estimate of $9,500,000 is the ultimate contemplated expenditure in handling the flood situation. Except for $1,700,000, which is the estimated cost of the harbor end of the work, the county would have to handle all the work alone. As the Federal government last year appropriated 30 per cent. of the total sum expended for the improvement of the Sacramento and San Joaquin Rivers on the premise that such aid was in the interest of navigation, it is considered probable that it would contribute the same percentage to the aid of the harbor work under the flood-control plan. A State contribution to the same end might be secured through the Legislature.

NEED IMMEDIATE.

The board of engineers, composed of Henry Hawgood, F. H. Olmstead, Capt. Charles T. Leeds, J. W. Reagan and J. B. Lippincott, intimated in the report that it had planned largely and expensively, but stated that the county would save money by grappling with the problem in full detail immediately, especially as last year's storm toll was $1,500,000.

No cognizance was taken of the cost of rights of way for the diverted streams nor of bridging. In the first case it is believed that private owners of property in the districts benefited will donate the rights of way, while the railroads have already tentatively proffered their aid in sharing bridging expenses, especially over the larger streams.

The question of financing was left to the county and promises to be a vexing problem. Because of this the Board of Supervisors decided on the convention for July 1. At that time the views of the interested can be ascertained and an idea secured of how much aid can reasonably be expected from the Federal and State governments. The rights of way and bridging matters will also be put in way of solution at that time.

The improvements for the Rio Hondo and New River contemplate their joining, and the conveyance of their waters to the ocean in one deep channel, with adequate levee protection. The Los Angeles River is to be straightened and a new ocean-going channel created for it. As is well known the many kinks in the Los Angeles River are among the reasons for its tendency to jump out of its channel. The shallowness of its lower reaches is another reason. Under the open, smooth-bored ditch plan there would be nothing to impede the flow. There would also be dikes to keep it off the lowlands.

TO REDUCE VELOCITY.

The San Gabriel River, as perhaps the chief offender, is to be the subject of particular attention. In the San Gabriel Canyon dikes will be thrown across the stream to reduce the velocity at which it issues from the mountains; also to check the tendency of the stream to carry out boulders and vast quantities of silt to obstruct its own channel. Percolating basins, created by dams thrown across the stream, with boulders and pebble-washes behind, are other features of the control plan outlined for this stream. It is argued that these settling or percolating basins will both absorb vast quantities of water to reinforce the underground reservoirs, on which vegetation must depend in dry years, but will reduce the flood flow.

Schemes to control the Verdugo Wash, the Arroyo Seco, in fact, every stream of any size in the county are included in the board's report. In fact, it is argued that the retarding of the flood water flow must begin with the mountains; in other words, that the waters must be caught while young.

Conspicuous in the report is the absence of any suggestions as to ocean outlets for diverted streams. The reason for this is that the Federal government will be the court of last resort in the matter. It will decide whether or not the outlets shall be in the Alamitos Bay country or some other place. It is known that the Federal authorities favor some plan by which all rivers will be carried away from the harbor country. In fact, it has been estimated that it will cost the government $1,500,000 before it has dredged out all the debris that was precipitated into the harbor by the floods of last winter. But the government, in pursuing its own ends may, and doubtless will, take cognizance of complaints, from, say, the Alamitos Bay country, that the dumping of three streams in their neighborhood would constitute a most apparent danger to them.

Members of the engineering board stated yesterday that, though the report has been submitted, they will continue relations with the Federal authorities in regard to the harbor end of the work. The board has been in existence for three months, and during that time has been over the entire county in the collecting of data. Hawgood was chairman of the board and Olmstead the secretary.

The Board of Supervisors will have printed 5000 copies of the report.

LEGISLATED OUT.

Board of Education Abolishes Medical Psychology, and Its Chief Loses His Status as a Teacher.

A year or so since, the City Board of Education, at the instance of George L. Leslie, then head of the Health and Development Department of the public schools, created a department of clinical psychology and elected Prof. Leslie as its head. Dr. A. M. Moore, a physician, was put in charge of health and development. The board has come to regard the new department as an unnecessary and expensive appendage, and Prof. Leslie now finds himself without office, a resolution having been passed yesterday abolishing the department and notifying him that his services would not be required after June 30. Prof. Leslie has been a valuable man in the schools, having developed the health department, and he will probably be taken care of in the assignment of teachers for the coming year.

The Board of Education has received applications from many architects asking to be given consideration in the erection of new school buildings, and A. F. Rosenheim has made a lump proposal to prepare the plans and superintend all the construction supposed to involve the expenditure of $2,000,000, for the sum of $[illegible].

A cake mixer to cost $165 and a potato masher at $12.50, asked for by the Lincoln High School, were among proceedings of the board for the day yesterday. A "shaper" for the Hollywood High School, estimated to cost $400, also figured in the proceedings, and the report was referred to the Supply Committee for further information. The mixer and masher are modern mechanical contrivances for cafeteria use, and the shaper is a powerful and intricate piece of machinery for the shops of the Hollywood school.

BURNED BY FLAMES.

Fireman Who Refuses to Leave Fire-Encircled Tank Before Workmen Is Seriously Burned.

Fighting against flames in a small steel tank which they were constructing, four men barely escaped with their lives early yesterday morning in the yards of the Pacific Coast Oil and Provision Company, No. [illegible] Leon street. An explosion of gasoline forge made the tank a veritable seething furnace; three of the men escaped without injury, but Fireman, H. D. Jones, was severely burned when he refused to leave until the others had safely come out. "You go first," shouted Jones to his companions. He stood waiting his turn while the last of the trio had passed safely up the ladder. Meantime the flames had caught his clothing and severely burned his face. He was rushed to the Receiving Hospital. He will recover. The other men are Edward Gains, Harry Brewer and W. [illegible]gall.

NOT HER BEAUTY.

That it was not because of the u usual beauty of Miss Watson th Converse married the girl is the co tention of Mrs. Converse. The moth of his two babies says she is co vinced that he did it as a grand fina to his reckless career of the past fe months.

"I don't believe he would have se ed the girl if he should have fled Canada," said Mrs. Converse. "It is just like him to marry this girl ju because she was beautiful. He would never have sent for her; of that I am certain. I am awfully sorry for the girl, but I am certain that she will be able to forget."

Converse married Reatha Watson in the office of a kidnaping adventure, f January, 1913, and of a romantic marriage in the same year, last Tuesday night after an acquaintance of [illegible] days. Mrs. Converse was in formed from some mysterious source that her husband had been unlawfully married, and she immediately employed an attorney, Gerald A. Doyle. A warrant for bigamy was issued yesterday morning, and wire advices were sent all over the Pacific Coast on the belief that Converse and the Watson girl had gone to San Francisco en route to Canada.

W. W. Watson, father of Reatha, was led by Converse to believe the latter was wealthy, declaring in case the present charge of bigamy should fail, he would immediately institute proceedings against Watson on his own account.

Reatha Watson, the "bride," who is missing, was married to "Jack" Wilkins in February, 1913. Since that time she has been known as Beth [illegible].

The preliminary examination of Converse on the bigamy charge was set by Justice Reeve for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Found.

LAWN IS BED OF BIGAMIST.

Supposed Fugitive Is Found Quietly Sleeping.

Marconiers With Wires Busy to Stop Flight.

Whereabouts of Beautiful "Bride" Mystery.

Instead of being, as supposed, a fugitive on a fast steamer or aboard a speeding train bound for the Canadian border, Lawrence Converse, the "man of mystery" and alleged bigamist, was yesterday morning found sleeping peacefully asleep on the lawn of his mother's home in Claremont. He was sheltered by a friendly rosebush and his head was pillowed on a cushion.

Since his "all too beautiful" bride of two days, Converse was arrested early in the day while aboard a Corona car, bound for this city, to surrender himself. Late yesterday afternoon he was again temporarily a free man, having been released on bail in the sum of $2500, which was furnished by his mother, Mrs. Flora Converse, and his sister, Miss Amelia.

The bigamy charge was preferred by the district attorney shortly before noon yesterday.

With the mysterious angle of the case, now that Converse has been found, centering itself into the question which is much perturbing the W. W. Watson family—where is Reatha Watson, the "all too beautiful" bride he is said to have married unlawfully last Tuesday night.

At the Watson home it is steadfastly asserted that they know nothing of the whereabouts of Reatha. Her father believes, however, that she will appear today. Watson asserts that he believes that his daughter is hidden away somewhere by Converse and that she does not yet know that she has been a party to a bigamous affair.

Though Converse was in Claremont yesterday, it was not learned in this city by the authorities until late in the afternoon. Constable Allen had gone for that place and recognized the man aboard an inbound Covina car. With him at the time were his mother and sister.

ALSO ISSUED CHECKS.

Converse's peculiar bed under the lawn, where he was discovered yesterday morning by his mother, had probably been sought by him as an alternative of chancing arrest the night before, not only on a bigamy charge but for passing worthless checks. It was learned yesterday, the latter, he actually passed a forged check on the driver of a taxicab, following the wedding ceremony Tuesday night, and also many others during the past few weeks of "high life."

Converse could not explain how he came to be asleep under the lawn. Nor would he tell the whereabouts of the pretty motion picture girl he married.

"That was just another of his many traits," said Mrs. Converse, this last evening. "He chose to lie on the ground rather than tell the predicament to his mother."

"Lawrence was determined to secure from his mother to escape," Mrs. Converse added, "and that is the reason he went to her home."

After a talk with his mother Converse finally decided to return to Los Angeles and give himself up. Several prominent persons of Claremont were approached and asked to put up bail for him, but this was refused, and mother and sister finally decided to become his bond. One prominent Claremont man, when asked for bail, replied: "I should say not; I would not give 15 cents for you."

NOT HER BEAUTY.

It was not because of the unusual beauty of Miss Watson that Converse married the girl is the contention of Mrs. Converse. The mother of two babies says she is convinced that he did it as a grand finale to a reckless career of the past few years.

"I don't believe he would have sent for the girl if he should have fled to Europe," said Mrs. Converse. "It is natural for him to marry this girl just because she was beautiful. He would not have sent for her; of that I am sure. I am awfully sorry for the girl, but I am certain that she will live to forget."

Converse married Reatha Watson, as a result of a kidnaping adventure, in August, 1913, and of a romantic affair in the same year, last Tuesday night after an acquaintance of three days. Mrs. Converse was informed from some mysterious source that her husband had been unlawfully wed, and she immediately engaged an attorney, Gerald A. Doyle. A warrant for bigamy was issued yesterday morning, and wire advices were sent all over the Pacific Coast on the belief that Converse and the Watson girl had gone to San Francisco en route to Canada.

Mr. Watson, father of Reatha, who was led by Converse to believe that his father was wealthy, declares that in case the present charge of bigamy should fail, he would immediately institute proceedings against Converse on his own account.

Reatha Watson, the "bride," who declares she was married to "Jack" Converse in February, 1913. Since that time she has been known as Beth Converse.

TEMPERANCE WOMEN.

Will Open Annual Convention in This City This Morning, to Continue for Five Days.

The annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Southern California will begin its session in the First Congregational Church at 9 o'clock this morning. Organization and reports of committees and officers will occupy the forenoon, the session closing with a memorial service for members who have died during the year. In the afternoon Mrs. Lucy S. Blanchard will deliver her annual address as president, and reports will be made from the field. Rev. E. P. Ryland will speak on "Parents' Problems."

This evening addresses of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Rose and Mrs. M. W. Law, with response by Mrs. Carrie C. L. Stokes, national organizer. An exhibition of living pictures will follow and a number will be given by the "Woodland Whistling Trio," composed of Fern Eileen Farnham, Shirley Irvine and Ethel Irvine.

The convention will reassemble tomorrow morning in the First Congregational Church, but the afternoon session will be held in Blanchard Hall, under the leadership of Mrs. Hester Griffith, to consider proposed constitutional amendments. The speakers will be Miss Cornelia A. Teal, Mrs. E. C. Bellows, N. W. Thompson, Mrs. Mary R. Coolidge, Mrs. Wilbur C. Chapman and W. E. Brown. Saturday evening a gold medal contest will be held in Blanchard Hall.

A mass meeting will be held in the First Congregational Church at 2:45 p.m. Sunday afternoon, and Dr. Brougher will preach the convention sermon in Temple Auditorium in the evening. The convention will adjourn finally at noon on Tuesday.

TO CHECK SPEEDING.

"Flying Squadron" of Automobiles Will Chase Fast Drivers—Chief of Police Arrests Violator.

Determined to put a quietus on the speed evil in Los Angeles, the Chief of Police is considering establishing a "flying squadron" to consist of several automobiles from the City Jail to patrol the city at night and arrest violators of the speed laws. Though there are nearly a score of speeders haled into court daily, the Chief declares hundreds in the city are not penalized because they are never caught.

Starting his campaign against speed violators, the Chief himself early yesterday morning arrested Henry Bigelow, a chauffeur, No. 706 West Thirty-sixth street, at Jefferson and Figueroa. The Chief was in a police automobile with Patrolman Barnes. They arrested Bigelow after an exciting chase of nearly a mile.

TRAGEDY.

Man Who Refuses to Leave Overheated Tank Before Working Is Seriously Burned.

Fighting against flames in a small tank which they were constructing, four men barely escaped with their lives early yesterday morning in the yards of the Pacific Coast Meat and Provision Company, No. 1000 Mesa street. An explosion of gas in the forge made the tank a veritable seething furnace; three of the men escaped without injury, but Jones, H. D. Jones, was severely burned when he refused to leave until the others had safely escaped.

"Get out first," shouted Jones to his companions. He stood waiting his turn until the last of the trio had passed down the ladder. Meantime the flames had caught his clothing and severely burned his face. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital. He is in a serious condition. The other men are Edward Harry Brewer and W. IN HIS LINE.

A famous second baseman married the other day. He may see the home plate in the future oftener than he actually makes runs.

AFTER YOU, PLEASE.

Huerta will resign as soon as political peace is established, and political peace will be established as soon as Huerta resigns. Huerta says to Political Peace, "After you, my dear Alphonse," and Alphonse says to Huerta, "It is impossible for me to move so long as you stand in the way."

TWICE CONQUERED.

Manatlan is falling. Sad city by the gulf! Already it has suffered too long. It is destitute of water and of light. For a long time the food supply there has been almost nothing. It is not much of a victory now for Obregon and the Constitutionalists. They can capture only a city's despair and a bay of sorrow.

A DISAPPOINTMENT.

Never talk to us again about a wise old owl. Every trip we have made lately through a scorching sun has revealed to us many of the day sleepers standing sentinel on the posts of wire fences. Would a wise owl sit all day long exposed to the fierce and burning eye of the heavens when he might as well have the shade of mesquite or chaparral Entirely batty, we call it.

PREMATURE ERUPTION.

The report that California has developed a full-fledged volcano seems to have been premature. The recent flutter around Mt. Lassen turns out to be only an over-grown geyser. Of course, if the market in volcanoes were active enough we could soon produce the real article to meet the popular demand. At present the tourist rush to the geysers is not sufficiently pronounced to drive us into the volcano business.

JAW BREAKERS.

We are told that Y. R. Hsich is about to take a leading part in remodeling the present half-formed Chinese republic. Now we have no objection to this gentleman and wish him all success. But why not call him Alcibiades—for short? We have just emerged from a welter of Balkan consonants and Mexican vowels, and our jaws and teeth are at present hardly strong enough to tackle the pronunciation of HSICH. Even for Chinese it looks rather raw.

APPROPRIATE.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Trade at Visalia has inaugurated a campaign to exterminate mosquitoes and flies. This is a proper division of the work. The business of shooting the elephants with green eyes and the mock turtles crowding the subterranean channels of Main street should be left entirely to the men. This is stern and masculine duty, and hatpins have no terrors for these ferocious denizens of some of our most prominent cities. Down with the monarchs of our crowded thoroughfares!

A DIFFERENT FIELD.

The farmers do not want an eight-hour law for their kind of labor. The farmer is accustomed to making hay and picking fruit while the sun shines. In this country the sun gets up long before daylight and does not set until considerably after dark. A day's work on a farm has always been from sun up till sunset, with the chores before and after taking. A day is just getting a good start with eight hours in the country, and it is a shame to quit work while the day is young. Far be it from the law to stop a farmer from doing himself an honest day's work.

SAN DIEGO HEROINES.

Since the immortal woodman was urged to spare that tree no more dramatic tree fight has been recorded than the battle that raged around the largest and oldest eucalyptus in San Diego county, when a grandmother, her daughter and granddaughter with hoes and picks headed off a city ax brigade bent on ruthless arboreal destruction. The Roman trio that guarded the bridge, as immortalized by Macaulay, had nothing on these San Diego heroines in the matter of "sparing neither son nor wife nor limb nor life in the brave days of old." All lovers of nature and beauty and grand, strong growths will take off their hats to "Grandma Blanchard," the modern Horatius of San Diego.

OUR MERCANTILE MARINE.

Great Britain has a mercantile marine of 19,240,517 tons. The United States comes next with 7,714,183 tons, and Germany third with 4,326,723 tons. Of our ships 6,782,082 tons are engaged in the coastwise trade and only 933,101 tons are registered for foreign carrying, while Great Britain has 17,860,460 tons—or nineteen times as much as the United States—engaged in the foreign trade, and only 1,380,057 tons employed in the coastwise trade of the United Kingdom.

Of our coastwise fleet 3,635,925 tons is engaged on the Atlantic seaboard, 2,949,924 tons on the great lakes, and 963,319 tons on the Pacific Coast.

Many new ships for both the coastwise and foreign trade are, or rather were, in process of construction in our ship yards. The threatened repeal of the tolls exemption law has checked the building of American ships.

STRONG HAND NEEDED IN CHINA.

It is impossible to enforce a drastic alteration in the political affairs of a nation without creating a long-continued and hazardous commotion among the people. The vacillations of France between republics and empires after the unseating of the Bourbons shows how unstable is the mind of the populace following a disruption of governments, and there is a predonderance of evidence that at such periods a strong, centralized authority is the only power that can check anarchy and develop the conditions permitting a democratic and representative government. A crisis of this nature has for some time been attracting the attention of the world to China.

President Yuan Shi Kai is condemned by the more radical members of Young China who are anxious to see a Utopia constructed over night in the immense nation that from time immemorial was under the oppressive rule of emperors. Dr. Amos P. Wilder of Berkeley, late Consul-General to Shanghai, is one of the few occidentals thoroughly conversant with Chinese affairs. He said, in speaking on this point at Nordhoff Wednesday evening: "While it is true that President Yuan Shi Kai is resorting to very drastic measures in suppressing opposition to himself and is proving reactionary to a disappointing degree, yet such conditions do not justify civil war with its untold wretchedness and suffering imposed on the innocent peasantry. . . . My own idea is that Yuan and his old-school mandarins, able but unscrupulous and at heart unconcerned about advance policies for China, are not the solution of the country's problems, but they make a useful temporary government to hold things together. They have prestige with the powers who have absolutely no confidence in Young China."

Although Dr. Sun Yat Sen is the chief opponent of President Yuan, Dr. Wilder does not look upon him as a seditious person, but rather believes that Dr. Sun is a misguided enthusiast, who "is irritated that the revolution of 1911 which he fomented has not automatically regenerated the country, and he is easily influenced by the ambitious military junta to believe that the star of destiny is calling Dr. Sun to throw out Yuan, as the Manchus were deposed."

The situation in China has an analogy in that of Mexico, where, as is the belief of many people, if Huerta had been left free to work out his policies the government would have been restored to a degree sufficient to care for the affairs of the country. As long as President Yuan seems able to hold China together it would hardly be a wise move on the part of either revolutionists there or of foreign nations to attempt to change the administration. Out of political chaos order is wrought only by slow degrees, and for the time he has been in office, under the conditions that have been imposed on him, and following hard on the most tyrannical monarchy of many centuries, it seems that President Yuan has really done as well as could reasonably have been expected of him.

Dr. Wilder is a distinguished scholar of brilliant parts and a thinker of practical views, and what he says about Chinese developments is worthy of great consideration. His Nordhoff address, as reported in The Times, will attract world-wide attention.

CELESTIAL POLYGAMY.

The long-haired Long Beach masculine apostles of the new cult of spirit marriages, combined with stripping unwary widows of their wealth, assume an attitude not unlike that of the Mormon delegate, Capt. Hooper, who, in the early seventies, represented Utah in Washington. The captain was a wealthy banker, a bon vivant, a wit and an adroit politician. He would, on occasion, defend polygamy, eulogize it and recommend its practice to others, but he could never be induced to practice it himself. He remained to the day of his death the husband of one wife. The monogamy of the captain was an affliction to Brigham Young, who made repeated efforts to induce Hooper to add to his store of domestic felicity. Hooper was too influential and wealthy to be disciplined as a weaker man might have been, but the prophet felt that something must be done.

The church had a doctrine of celestial or spirit marriage, and such maidens as escaped an earthly alliance had to be sealed, either before or after their death, to a good Mormon in order to be accessible for a residence among the blessed.

Brigham Young determined that if Hooper would not take another earthly spouse he must take a heavenly one, so he sent for the captain. "Brother Hooper," said he, "you are bringing a scandal on the church. You must live your religion. Your persistent refusal to take more wives enables our enemies to discredit our faith." "But, President Young," said Hooper, "I have my reasons ——" "And I," said Brigham, "have mine. Now there is Sister Brown, who died unmarried last month, and Sister Thompson who passed away last week, a single woman. I propose, Brother Hooper, to seal these maidens to you in celestial marriage." "Why, certainly," said the relieved Hooper, "just as many dead ones as you like!"

APPORTIONING THE PRAISE.

Gen. Francisco D'Villa has just added another laurel to his gory crown—he has developed the unsuspected virtue of modesty. In a message addressed to the world at large, and to no one in particular, he has openly confessed that the victories achieved by the Constitutionalist armies were not all entirely due to his own personal prowess, but that a little credit should also be given to the peons who followed his lead. The world is grateful to Gen. Villa for this valuable information. The world is so easily deceived.

But surely Carranza also deserves some mead in the general approbation. Has he not valiantly moved his seat of government from city to city in the rear of his victorious warriors as soon as railroad connection permitted? Also the cattle rustled from a hundred ranches have done their share toward the rebel successes.

If a bronze statue of Villa on horseback some day adorns a public square in Mexico City, a roped steer in gilt (no, not guilt) should be set up opposite to it as a graceful acknowledgment of the part Americans have played in adding to the Constitutionalist achievements.

For if American ranchers had not raised so many beef-steers among the hills of Sonora and Chihuahua for rebel raiders to rustle, what would have become of Gen. Villa's commissariat department? How could Carranza have maintained his exchequer?

Seeking a Quiet Place.

THE WORRIMENT OF WILSON.

The mysterious foreign question of "graver moment and more delicate nature" which President Wilson referred to in his speech urging Congress to repeal the tolls exemption law and take Great Britain into partnership in the management of our canal turns out to be his desire to secure the influence of England with Japan not to swipe the republic of the Philippines after such republic shall be created in the islands, of which islands Wilson proposes the United States shall divest itself.

The schoolmaster is looking a long way ahead and has created in his mind a mare's nest filled with horses' eggs. The present Congress has about all the knitting it can attend to without legislating to "give up" the Philippines, and the next Congress will be Republican, and its answer to Wilson's proposition to "give up" the Philippines will be, "Wherever American valor has planted the American flag, there the flag shall stay."

Mr. Wilson's worriment over this foreign question of "grave moment and delicate nature" is as baseless as was that of little Gladys Sniffkins, who was discovered weeping bitterly in front of the open fire. "What is the matter, Gladys?" said the mother. "Oh, mumzer," answered the 10-year-old, "I was thinking that if, when I grow up, I should get married and have a baby and it should crawl into the fire and get burned up, what a dreadful thing it would be. Boo-hoo, boo-hoo!"

A VETERAN JOURNALIST'S
Reminiscences of Gen. Grant.

BY MAJ. BEN C. TRUMAN.

For twenty-five years or more much had been said and written concerning the use of cigars by Gen. Grant, and the opinion prevailed generally that the great commander had smoked excessively much of his life.

About the first of April, 1862, Andrew Johnson, Military Governor of Tennessee, upon whose staff I was serving and who believed that the closing battle of the war in Tennessee and Alabama was imminent at some point on or near the Tennessee River above Waynesboro, suggested to me that I had better prepare to hasten to the scene where the armies of Gens. Grant and Albert Sidney Johnston faced each other. Of course I was perfectly willing to depart at once, partly because I was correspondent of the New York Times and partly to promptly carry out Mr. Johnson's suggestions, which I regarded as instructions. There were two ways of getting to my objective point—one via the Cumberland and Tennessee Rivers and the other via Franklin and Columbia by rail and then a hundred and odd miles in saddle. I chose the latter, and left Nashville on Sunday, the 6th of April, and arrived at Columbia about noon and reported to Gen. James S. Negley. He furnished me a horse and two soldiers as escort as far as Spring Hill and with a sealed letter to Col. Starkweather, who was in command at the latter-named point. The gallant Wisconsin colonel took good care of me that night and the next morning furnished me with a fine animal and an escort of six soldiers and rations for four or five days. The second day out I employed an old fellow as guide who took us in good shape to Waynesboro, where we arrived about 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, the 11th. Here I expected to remain over night, but in an hour or two a big steamer put in for wood, which had among its passengers Gen. Halleck, who was on his way to succeed Grant in command. I at once informed my escort of my determination to take the steamer up the river, bade its members good-by and sent a report to Col. Starkweather; I then settled with the guide, boarded the steamer and arrived at Pittsburgh Landing early the next morning.

The people at Waynesboro were in a great state of excitement and believed there had been a big conflict at some point less than twenty miles up the river, and described how distinctly the cannonading and other din of battle could be heard early on the morning of the 6th and how it became louder and louder all day until evening, and how on Monday morning, the 7th, the conflict had been recommenced, but that the sounds grew lesser and lesser until near evening, when nothing could be heard at all. As one old Waynesboro southerner put it: "I reckon we got the best of the Yankees all day Sunday, but that the tide of the battle was turned the next day. The noise came closer and closer all day Sunday, but on Monday they went the other way." I have always remembered what this old person said, as I discovered the next morning that Grant's army had been very nearly defeated on the 6th and had been pushed to the banks of the river at Pittsburgh Landing; but that, with the aid of two corps of Buell's army, Grant's forces had recovered their lost ground of the day before and utterly defeated and routed the Confederates; that up to the time of his death on the first day Albert Sidney Johnson was in command, and that afterward Beauregard had assumed command and sustained defeat of the Confederates on the second day—and this was the battle of Shiloh. The Waynesboro man "reckoned" right.

On the 14th I called on Gens. Logan and McClernand, with whom I had had a slight acquaintance in Washington in 1860, when they were Democratic members in Congress. They at once took me to Gen. Rawlings's headquarters, and shortly afterwards we called on and I was introduced to Gen. Grant. In returning to my own quarters, which had been assigned me by Gen. Tom Crittenden, Gen. Rawlings requested me to call often on Gen. Grant, "for," he continued, "he is lonesome and forlorn since the arrival of Gen. Halleck deprived him of command." From that time until the 29th of May—forty-odd days—I never missed an afternoon that I did not ride over to Gen. Grant's headquarters and we struck up an intimacy that was never lessened even when he and President Johnson became estranged. The general told me confidentially of his troubles and how true Gens. Sherman, Logan, McClernand, Hurlburt and all others had been, and what he thought of Gens. Halleck and Pope. Sometimes I would be accompanied by Whitelaw Reid, war correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, and sometimes by Capt. Sheppard of the New York World; and during all these visits I never saw Gen. Grant smoke a cigar or take a drop of liquor, although he generally directed his orderly to make me a punch out of the juice from a can of peaches and some commissary whisky upon each of my visits.

The next time I saw Gen. Grant was at the battle of Missionary Ridge, nearly twenty months after. I was near him on Orchard Knob most of the day and I particularly noticed that he smoked all the time. I did not see him again until after Andrew Johnson became President; and for several months in 1865 I met him often and never without a cigar in his mouth. He used frequently to come over to the White House of an evening to chat with the President, and afterward we would indulge in a rare Havana together. Sometimes Secretary Seward or Postmaster-General Randall, or both, would call, and I would trot out a little whisky for Randall and a good slug of fine brandy for the Secretary of State, while Grant would puff away genially and contentedly at the aromatic weed. Seward, Randall, Rawlings, Farragut and Grant, among the twenty-odd others, accompanied President Johnson upon his memorable "swing around the circle" in October, 1866. For nearly three weeks we had an abundance of everything to eat and drink on our special trains, and many banquets; and while nearly all the men took something stimulating at times, either vinous or spirituous, Grant smoked and smoked and smoked, but indulged in no liquors or wines. I was a member of the reception committee that met him in San Francisco when he was nearing the completion of his trip around the world. It was the same Grant and seemingly the same cigar. I once asked Rawlings if, as far as he knew, Grant had always smoked immoderately and his reply was "I never noticed his excessive fondness for cigars until he besieged Vicksburg!"

THE BULL MOOSE.
BY EUGENE BROWN.

The old resident called me up on the wire the other afternoon and asked me to come down and see the biggest bull moose that ever was.

"Sure I'll come," I exclaimed. "I didn't know the colonel was in town."

"It isn't the colonel!" he explained; "this one is stuffed."

"Oh! you mean Hiram Johnson?" said I, apologetically.

"Naw," he answered, testily. "This party is upholstered on different lines—it's the real article."

"All right, I'll try anything once," I returned, and hung up the receiver.

Within the hour we were journeying to Fiesta Park where I was told the meeting would take place. Under the big tent we found him—the frontispiece of the biggest moose we had ever known of. It was small wonder that Progressive voters took off their hats and shoes in the presence.

"He sure looks like some critter," exclaimed the old resident, involuntarily. "Is he dead?"

"Did you think we'd stuff him alive?" snorted the attendant.

"Well, I wouldn't say," replied the old gentleman with mild sarcasm. "I've heard of bull moosers being stuffed alive and there may be more of it going on if the Humane Society doesn't interfere."

"But this one hasn't even got any legs," explained the custodian.

"It can't be much of a bull moose if it can't kick," retorted the pioneer. "That's what a bull moose is for. Look at the colonel, and Al Beveridge, and our own hevixen, Frankie Heney! Ain't they the handy bunch of knockers, though?"

"If one of those things is a moose," interrupted I, "what would two of them be?"

"There can't be very many of them," said the old resident. "There's no plural of moose."

"That's singular," I exclaimed.

"That's what I said," returned the old resident. "Of course you can't call them 'mooses' or 'meece.' You've got to call 'em a pair of moose."

"Just as you'd call a couple of doctors a pair o' docs, I suppose?"

"Not as bad as that, but a couple of most anything is a pair, and even Hi Johnson and John Eshleman could be a pair of moose."

"I thought maybe from the way they are palpitating over the registration lists they might be a pair of pants," I replied, with sarcasm.

"It'll take a busy pair of suspenders to keep them up, then," retorted the pioneer.

The bull moose is a large and ungainly animal with a hump like Richard III and throat whiskers like Horace Greeley. He has antlers that resemble a double-barreled hat-rack. They weigh about a hundred pounds and have a spread of six or seven feet. When a bull moose gets peevish and scuttles through the brush it tears up the face of the country as if a surly cyclone had passed that way. It just plunges on without knowing why, or when, or where. This resemblance to a political bull moose is striking.

The moose has a pendulous lip that dangles down almost after the fashion of an elephant's trunk, but when he is angry and wants to bite people the gleam of his shining molars is said to furnish a striking likeness to the colonel when in the same mental attitude.

The call of the moose is a booming cry that is said to be different from anything else on earth. It is harrowing and stupendous. The amalgamated wail of the Progressives over a waning registration or the roll call of the various Johnson commissions can hardly be compared with it.

Naturalists declare that the North American moose is the same as the Irish elk, which is now extinct. The American elk is an entirely different mammal—as members of both fraternal orders will agree. But how the ancient moose got from Alaska to Ireland or vice versa is not easily explained. It's a longer swim than even the colonel would care to undertake.

Our Fiesta Park subject was even bigger than Hi Johnson. He was eleven feet long in his heyday. The custodian said he weighed 1800 pounds when he was shot, and when I asked how much he weighed when half-shot he turned away in scorn. It seems that there is only one other set of heavier moose headgear in the world. This is in the collection of King George of England, and the antlers of his moose have a spread of seventy-two inches as against seventy inches for the specimen now owned here and which was brought to earth near Dawson City ten years ago. If the State Legislature does not provide a means of securing these two matchless specimens and place them on the dome of the Statehouse it will be recreant to its trust. There should by all means be appointed a commission to negotiate with King George and even Chet Rowell might not be averse to accepting such a diplomatic appointment. Envoy to England does not sound bad and it makes a natural stepping-stone to the United States Senate.

The connection between a bull moose and a man who says he is a Progressive in politics is not at once apparent—unless you put it on the basis that the progress of a moose is a blind rush without knowing exactly why or whither. But because the colonel happened to remark one crisp morning that he felt like a bull moose, behold! the appellation clings to his party like paint to a fence. Rather it would seem to the casual observer that a Progressive operated along the lines of progressive euchre or a progressive luncheon, wherein the guests assemble at one house and after absorbing a cocktail depart at feverish speed for the next house, where soup is served. Then on to the next and next for the fish, the entree and the roast—don't forget the roast. And when it is all over the guests figure out that if they had really been hungry how much saner and more satisfactory and economical it would have been to have remained at one place and been fed in a coherent and proper manner.

The Ulster Bluffers—Huh!

LOS ANGELES, June 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Whatever may be the fate of the home-rule bill when it gets its third reading in the House of Commons, history will be made in Ireland the next three months. With the home-rule bill coming into effect and Ulster determined to fight with an army of 120,000 men, the Orange 12th of July, Battle of the Boyne, winding up with the 12th of August relief of Deny celebrations, notwithstanding the bill having passed its third reading, it is not law yet, and there is no telling whether it will become law or not. The British people are coming around stronger every day against it, as witness G. F. Masterman, who succeeded Isaacs in the Cabinet, standing for re-election as one of the most radical London districts, was overwhelmingly defeated and still later by the death of Sir Jan Horne, a vacancy was created in Dewsbury, a constituency which more accurately reflects current opinion than any other constituency in England. Mr. Masterman was also overwhelmingly defeated in a constituency that never goes Unionist except in a landslide.

So you see England detests home rule so much that a home-rule Cabinet Minister cannot get a seat in Parliament. Ulster men would be worse than fools to give in to an administration that does not represent the people and dare not go before the people on the home-rule issue.

The Belfast Daily Northern Whig says: "The home-rule bill is the quintessence of lunacy, and if it is attempted to be enforced in this province events will happen that will shake the empire."

If anything were needed to show the utter helplessness of the British government it was shown when the Ulster men landed 50,000 rifles and a million rounds of ammunition in utter defiance of them, cut the telegraph and telephone wires, made prisoners of the police and customhouse officers and coast guards, and distributed through the northern province scores of 1000 automobiles the arms and ammunition without let or hindrance.

Work will be begun in order to prevent the statute, if they are so minded, from making any leases in the territory affected, the notice of appeal to stand as a bar to any action until a final determination of the issues involved.

"It is not intended," he said, "to await the outcome of the Riner appeal now before the United States Supreme Court, a decision which is expected some time the present month. The action of the court of last resort will determine the whole question of the power of the Chief Executive in the absence of specific legislation to withdraw the public domain from all forms of settlement. If the opinion is delayed, it is the intention of the government to start the appeal that will act as a check on the corporations and individuals concerned and prevent them disposing of their leases until the matter is finally adjudicated.

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

THREE THOUSAND gladiolus blossoms, dozens of Kentia palms and hundreds of yards of smilax arranged at Temple B'nai Brith, formed a fitting setting for the wedding last evening of Miss Lucile Hellman and Alvin H. Frank, which was witnessed by about 500 guests.

A special musical programme, arranged by Arend, consisting of the "Love Tales of Hoffman," Schubert's "Serenade" and "Call Me Thine Own," by an orchestra; vocal selections by Mrs. T. J. Nottage and a violin solo by Julius Krauss, preceded the ceremony.

Lohengrin's march, played on the organ by Erskine Mead, announced the approach of the bridal party. Little Alleen Stern and Caroline Meyberg were first to reach Rabbi S. Hecht, who waited at the floral altar. These small children marched in front of the groomsmen, Messrs. Alfred Meyer of San Francisco, Karl Levy, Herbert Adler, Leonard Kingsbaker, Richard Schuster and P. Lowenthal. Following were the bridesmaids, the Misses Sally Hellman, Francis Newmark, Elsa Stern, Alice Schweb, Josephine Goldsmith and Lucy Reed. They were dainty in pink taffeta gowns finished with butterfly shoulder bows of tulle, which were fastened at the wrist with velvet bands. Pink roses formed their bouquets. The two honor maids were the Misses Elsie Baruch and Marian Adler, cousin of the groom. They were garbed in an Arnold model of tango taffeta in pale pink with deeper pink roses and pink satin and lace, respectively.

Mrs. Gus Harris, aunt of Miss Hellman, came next, and was attired in pink charmeuse elaborate with silver lace and finished with a square train and a jaunty Crane cap of silver. A loose cluster of American Beauties served as an arm bouquet. The bride, who was given into the keeping of the bridegroom by her father, Maurice S. Hellman, was regal in a gown made with a white satin and tulle bodice, with white tulle shirred over flesh-tint net, forming an empire effect, and completed with a corsage of orange blossoms. A court train, a fluffy tulle veil and a cluster shower of orchids gave the last dainty touches. The only ornament worn was a diamond bracelet, gift of the groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Frank of this city.

A reception at the family home, No. 2325 Harvard boulevard, followed the service and here 250 guests were entertained in a marquee in the garden. The bride's table, placed in the center, was lovely with a park of valley lilies surrounding a lake and fountain. Name cards characteristic of the guests afforded much merriment. A ring of ferns canopied the table—this was lined with wedding bells with ribbon streamers, which were later pulled, showering gifts and rose petals upon the bridal party. Hundreds of birds hanging from the trees and shrubs and an orchestra were other pleasing features. Dancing concluded the evening, and the young couple departed for a honeymoon trip. Later they will occupy their own home, a gift of the bride's father, which will be built one-half block from the M. S. Hellman residence.

In Naples.

Mrs. C. C. Hotchkiss and Mrs. H. A. Unruh, Joseph Unruh, Miss Aimee Pernot, Mrs. Louise B. Prudhon and Mrs. M. F. Swift, who left recently for an extended tour, are now in Naples. Later they will visit Rome, Florence, Venice, the Italian Lakes, Milan, Lucerne, Munich, Dresden, Carlsbad, Berlin, Leipsic, Paris, London and other interesting places. The party will return in the fall.

To Return.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold K. Huntsberger of Lucerne avenue and George Huntsberger of Lake street and Mrs. M. Eberner of Sacramento will return in a day or so from a delightful voyage to Honolulu. Mr. and Mrs. Huntsberger were enjoying their honeymoon trip.

In the East.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Forrester of Mesa drive and Fifty-third street are in the East, where they will spend three months.

Santa Barbara Gossip.

Mrs. William Miller Graham spent the past week in San Francisco, a guest at the Fairmont. Mrs. Graham went north on business connected with the country playhouse soon to be built in Montecito as an adjunct to the country club. Mrs. Graham has been a prominent factor in the inception as well as the realization of this unique plan. She returned to Bellosguard Saturday morning.

Mrs. Thomas Lillard, who has been visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. Hooper of East Sola street, left Tuesday with her two little daughters for Denver, where she will join Mr. Lillard and go on to their home in Topeka, Kan. Mrs. Hooper accompanied her daughter as far as Los Angeles.

Wafted on wireless from the East comes the announcement of the engagement of Florence Mary Dreer of Rosemont, Pa., to Hermann Markle Hessenbruch of Philadelphia, who will finish his course at Princeton in June. Miss Dreer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Dreer and spends her winters here at the Dreer home on Upper Garden street.

To Return.

Mrs. Mary Leicester Wagner has received a letter from Mrs. Robert Hyde from Washington, D. C., saying that she and her husband, the artist, with their children, will return to Santa Barbara and Los Angeles to remain a year or more. The Hydes left here four years ago to go abroad and since their return have resided in Washington. Hyde's artist career in Europe was gratifying in the extreme. His liberal patronage by royalty and the nobility and very prominent people of less exalted rank included an order from Queen Mary of England.

Wed in San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, June 4.—The wedding of two young people prominent in the younger social set was attended last evening by about seventy guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Crippen. Their daughter, Miss Ruth, and Bryant B. Hakes of Coronado were married at the Crippen home at No. 1347 Broadway, San Diego. The wedding was a pink and white one, and a profusion of bride's roses and sweet peas decorated the rooms of the residence. There were no attendants, but six girl friends of the bride formed an aisle with wide satin ribbons through which the bridal party passed. The six girls were Miss Katherine Garrettson, Miss Kathleen Chandler, Miss Margaret Detrick and Miss Lillian Rice of San Diego and Miss May Chandler and Miss Marguerite Knox of Los Angeles. Each of the young women carried a huge bouquet of sweet peas and maidenhair fern, three of which were pink and three white. Rev. E. W. Thorp performed the ceremony. Following a reception the young couple left by automobile for a tour of the State, and upon their return will live at Coronado, where Mr. Hakes has built a residence.

WOMEN DECLARE FOR FREDERICKS.

REPUBLICAN LEAGUE OF COUNTY INDORSES CANDIDATE.

Shortridge for United States Senator Also Pledged Support in Resolutions—Representatives in Congress Urged to Support Mondell Woman Suffrage Amendment.

Capt. Fredericks was yesterday unanimously indorsed for Governor by the Woman's Republican League of Los Angeles county at an enthusiastic meeting held in the Coulter building. The resolution, strong and unqualified, was introduced by Florence M. Fisher and seconded by Mrs. H. H. Rose, wife of the Mayor.

Brief talks supporting the resolution were made by Mrs. P. P. Morrison, Mrs. M. H. Pehr, Mrs. George Drake Ruddy, Mrs. Cornelius Cole and many others.

The candidacy of Hon. Samuel M. Shortridge of San Francisco for United States Senator on the Republican ticket was also indorsed. The resolution indorsing Shortridge was introduced by Mrs. Morrison and seconded by Mrs. Pehr. A telegram informing Shortridge of the action taken by the women was sent North last night.

The resolutions indorsing Capt. Fredericks cite his "able and impartial administration of his present office" as proof of his devotion to duty, and his "excellent service in defense of law and order" as stamping him a "man of transcendent ability." The women of California are called on to support him.

The Shortridge resolution declares that, by reason of his service to the Republican party, his devotion to the interests of the country and all classes, irrespective of wealth, and his championship of woman's suffrage, he is indorsed and pledged support.

A resolution was adopted urging Representatives in Congress to support the Mondell woman suffrage amendment. A telegram was dispatched to the Committee on Rules in the lower house at Washington last night urging the committee to report favorably on the amendment.

Mrs. Roderick W. Richardson, president of the league, presided yesterday and made a stirring address on the duty of the women of California in the coming election.

DEATH OF MINING MAN.

Robert Dyer Grant, head of the firm of R. D. Grant & Son, mining brokers, died at his home, No. 1032 South Alvarado street, yesterday, aged 51 years. He leaves a widow, a son and a daughter. The body will be taken to Sunbury, Pa., his former home, for interment.

DEATH OF MRS. ROGERS.

Mrs. W. H. Rogers, an aunt of Attorney Earl Rogers, died at Victorville yesterday afternoon. Rogers, upon receipt of information that she was seriously ill, started for Victorville, but learned at San Bernardino of her death.

FOR WOMEN AND MEN.
Facts, Features and Fancies.
BY OLIVE GRAY.

THE GOOD HOUSEKEEPER'S HINT: To remove berry stains from table linen or other goods, rub well with naphtha soap and soak for about an hour, then wash as usual.

Have you ever thought what a help to modern housekeeping is paper and the things made from this material?

The really good housekeeper is she who utilizes every possible labor-saving device which does not detract from cleanliness or order. One may now obtain in paper, not only the table cloths and napkins for use at picnic parties and when motoring or serving luncheon or tea on the piazza, but the more prosaic but also more important articles such as ice blankets, wrappers for the foods to be placed in the ice chest, dish cloths, bath towels, lining for cake tins, jelly protectors and, in fact, paper is fast usurping the place of cloth, which protects less efficiently and is far less sanitary. It is astonishing, if you have not investigated the matter, how many articles in this material you will find for household use and how much time and labor their use will save.

Face Soap.

A soap which combines an excellent cold cream is the importation of one of the high-class Broadway houses where the toilet department contains the most luxurious of all preparations that the world's markets afford. This cold cream soap is delightful to use and the effects are most salutary. It is said upon authority that the ingredients are such that no possible injury can result from its continuous use.

* * *

New Middies.

The middy blouses for summer use are more charming than ever before. There are those cut a la Mandarin coat and having pretty novel touches in the way of pockets and pocket emblems, and others which present the features of the last season's garment with none of the objectionable points. For instance, there is the one with the belt-like band around the lower edge of the skirt, and deftly concealed within this band, the wee, embroidered pocket. The skirt of this garment is not gathered as was the Balkan blouse which became so objectionable. Then there are middies cut on the long shoulder lines which are a feature of the season's modes. There are those having yokes. Adapted to many occasions are these comfortable blousses, and each has an especially attractive feature to endear it to the heart of the summer girl. More and more are middy blouses used for outing and for 'round home wear, and as they grow in variety of style, they become more popular, for everyone can find a style suited to her.

* * *

Artistic.

Have you ever noticed the seed thistle of the oyster plant? It is most artistic as a vase bouquet, the fairy fluffs similar to the dandelion, but much larger, and the stems and leaves drying a dark bronze in color. In a dull brass vase a bunch of these wraith-like seed blossoms are charming.

* * *

Ant Proof.

The housekeeper who first placed the legs of the kitchen work table in dishes filled with water to prevent the ants from traveling upward to her workshop, invented something. This principle has been utilized in a new kitchen cabinet, advertised as absolutely "ant proof."

* * *

To Keep Ice Cream.

A container somewhat on the order of the thermos bottle has been invented for the purpose of keeping ice cream for many hours after freezing. It is said to be possible by this means to preserve the dainty until the second day after freezing.

* * *

A Canning Outfit.

One of my friends who has a garden tells me that she means to largely reduce the high cost of living not only during the summer, but all through the year, by putting up all kinds of fruits and vegetables for use during the out-of-season. She says that her canner which so simplifies the work of putting up that it takes little work and also a small amount of time, has cost her but $10 and she expects to save this amount on her vegetables alone, the first season. I know she will prove her point, for she is very practical and whatever she does she will do well—and this is an important thing, in matters of this kind.

* * *

Her Hat Trimming.

Genevieve has such a pretty hat which she made herself from a last season's left-over. She tinted the straw with dyes, matching the shade of some big roses which she had purchased at a sale. She then picked to pieces several of the flowers, placing the petals flatly around the crown of the hat and using two of them as trimming at one side of the crown, which was rather high and rounded. The effect was charming.

* * *

In Fashion's Realm.

With the cloth trotteur costume the perfect collar is of fine muslin or transparent cambric.

The little pleated frills of muslin that fall down the backs of some blouses are very quaint and attractive.

A severe, or, at least, a simple hat should always be chosen to wear with tailor-made costumes.

A great success is the long silk casaque, beautifully gathered with many little stitches and worn loosely over a skirt so narrow as to seem like a trouser leg.

Plaid is always better worn by the young than by people of mature years.

A tiny tricorn of black straw is delightfully finished with a big pink camellia stuck in front.

Pretty toilettes of pale mousseline or gauze have large sashes of antique materials.

The little "abbe" capes are exceedingly popular, and the latest have thick tulle ruches at the back of the neck.

Cerise seems to be in great favor for evening gowns.

Looseness and more looseness is the dominant note of the new blouses.

The Gladstone collar is a plain stand-up collar of muslin, open at the throat.

A round Medici collar of white ninon is charming, held in place by a black velvet throat band.

Both coatees and waistcoats continue to leave the neck much exposed.

Some of the short loose coatees make the wearer look almost deformed.

Occasionally one sees the leg-o'-mutton sleeve on an afternoon gown.

Winning First Laurels.

LOCAL PIANIST'S DEBUT IN KIEL.

IDA SELBY'S CREDITABLE RECITAL IN GERMANY.

Student's First Appearance in Concert Abroad Universally Commended by Critics—Dominant Club Will Give Last Recital of Season Tomorrow.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

Another Los Angeles musician has made good abroad, to judge from the favorable criticisms accorded Ida Selby on the occasion of her recent debut at Kiel, one of Germany's important musical centers.

Miss Selby left here some two years ago to pursue her studies with Josef Lhevinne, having been for a number of years a pupil of Thilo Becker.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Selby, who left a few weeks ago for Europe that they might attend her first essay into the ranks of professionalism.

That the young pianist will justify all the predictions of her friends and the hopes of her parents is indicated by the uniformly kindly criticism of the German reviewers.

One of these writes that "her work is characterized by a smooth technique and above all by clarity." Another says that "this young pianist has an elastic touch and well developed clean technique. She has decided talent and as she is building upon sound, healthy fundamental principles she should be able to carry her work to further creditable development."

While Miss Selby is thus launched successfully as a concert performer, it is as a composer that her friends anticipate a brilliant career for her. She has a decided gift in the direction of original work and is studying with Dr. Paul Ertel, famous composer and critic of Berlin, with a view of pursuing seriously this phase of her art.

Phoebe Ara White's Pupils Recital.

Next Saturday at 3 o'clock p.m., Mme. Phoebe Ara White will present a number of her advanced pupils in recital, at Symphony Hall.

Dominant Club Concert.

At the Ebell Clubhouse, next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m., the closing meeting of the season will be held by the Dominant Club.

Debussy's "La Demoiselle Elue" will be played; Miss Ida Goodwin and E. Hesser will sing groups of solos.

Music Teachers' Association.

This evening, at the Gamut Club, the Music Teachers' Association will hear an unusual programme of original compositions by its president, Vernon Spencer, who will appear at the piano.

Six poetic children's pieces, Op. 21, will be played by the composer, followed by five songs for low voice: "In der Vaterstadt," "Das Meer Hat Seine Perlen," "Out There, the Dune," "Gute Nacht" and "Trost," which will be sung by Anthony Carlson.

"A Scotch Lullaby" and "Valse Fugitive" will be played by Oscar Sieling, with the composer at the piano.

A selection of five songs for high voice, "Thou Art So Like a Flower," "Night Gossip," "Longing," "Summer Night," "At the Cradle," will be the contribution of Mrs. Catherine Shank, accompanied by the composer, with Scherzo-Etude in double sixths, on the theme of Robert Teichmueller, by Vernon Spencer, will close the programme.

Preceding this interesting concert important matters will be discussed, especially the logical and straightforward suggested settlement of the association's share in the debts of the People's Orchestra.

At the last meeting it was decided that each member, who was recognized as such in 1912, 1913 and 1914, would be assessed $1 to aid in liquidating the outstanding debt. This assessment to apply to all those who are or were members during that period, the very small amount asked of each member to represent a per capita tax and not one for each year.

Summer Band Concerts.

During the months of June, July and August, the Miller Military Band intends playing at one of the public parks on Wednesday and Friday evenings, Saturday and Sunday afternoons, and Sunday evenings. It constitutes the latest, if somewhat modest, attempt to introduce band music in the parks.

Merchants and various organizations are said to favor the scheme and to have insured a small remuneration for the work of the volunteer musicians, who may become, with patience, the members of the first municipal brass band.

Federated States Musical Carnival.

Old-fashioned music played by fiddlers will compose the most attractive part of the Federated States Musical Carnival, which will be held at Grand avenue and Twelfth street on the evening of June 9.

The quadrille, rye waltz, Oxford minuet, the lancers, Irish trot and Virginia reel will also be danced to the tuneful music of fifty ancient fiddlers.

RESOLUTE IS WINNER AGAIN.

Vanitie Stops to Rescue Two Seamen.

Was Leading Opponent at the Time.

Race to Be Continued Next Saturday.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

RYE (N. Y.) June 4.—The third race of the initial series for the America's cup defense candidate yachts was won off here on Long Island Sound today by the flag officer's sloop Resolute after the Vanitie withdrew while in the lead to assist in the rescue of two of her seamen who had been washed overboard. It was a disappointing ending of what had promised to be the best contest to date between the two seventy-five-footers.

Once the Gardner-designed single-sticker dropped out of the race the Resolute was assured of a hollow victory and the contest originally planned to be an eighteen-mile race was shortened half that distance and the Herreshoff craft crossed the finish line fifty-three minutes and forty-one seconds after the start.

By winning today's race the Resolute went into the lead in the struggle with the Vanitie, having won two out of the series of three matches begun Tuesday. The yachts will renew the contest Saturday.

THE START.

The preparatory signal was sounded at 12:45 o'clock, and both Resolute and Vanitie began to jockey for the starting advantage, each carrying mainsail and jib. The Vanitie tied one reef in her mainsail, but even under the reduced canvas the Cochran yacht lay over until her lee rail was buried.

Capt. Dennis was right in his element in the stiff blow and handled the Vanitie in perfect fashion.

The official starting times were: Vanitie, 1:00:21; Resolute, 1:01:57.

Once away the Vanitie made excellent use of the flood tid, and her starting advantage and on a starboard tack headed for the Long Island shore. The Gardner creation heeled far over under the blow until her bronze hull showed in sharp contrast to the black water that rushed astern. Shortly after the start nearly a mile separated the two sloops.

GAINING.

The Resolute, with Adams at the wheel, and the crew prone under the weather rail, set sail for her rival. The Herreshoff yacht showed to splendid advantage and began to overhaul the Vanitie in impressive fashion. Midway to the first turning point, and with the Resolute still gaining on the Vanitie, came the accident which put the Cochran sloop out of the race.

Once she hove to for the purpose of rescuing the two seamen overboard the race became a procession. The Resolute turned Matinicock buoy while the Vanitie was recovering her men, and setting her spinnaker made a quick run to the starting point, where the third race of the series was ended by the committee, there being no need of sending the Resolute over the course again.

The summary follows:

Third Glen Cove race:

Course four and one-half miles to windward and return—nine miles. Wind twenty-five knots at start. Tide flood. Preparatory signal 12:45 o'clock. Starting signal 1 o'clock.

Time at windward mark:

Elapsed time to windward, four and one-half miles, 23m. 57s.

Yacht—	Start.	Finish.	Elapsed time.
Resolute	1:01:57	1:55:38	53:41
Vanitie	1:00:21	Withdrew

Elapsed time to leeward, four and one-half miles, 19m. 44s.

Resolute wins.

HOWARD'S CREW WORKS IN STORM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

RED TOP (Ct.) June 4.—Despite a rough sea and a stiff wind, Coach Wray sent all the Harvard crews out on the Thames for a row to the navy yard and back tonight. On the way back the first and second varsity boats had a sharp brush for a mile, the first crew winning. No time was announced.

ROUGH WATER TOO MUCH FOR YALE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

GALES FERRY (Ct.) June 4.—The Yale crews did not go out on the Thames tonight on account of rough water. The black coat mascot abducted from the Harvard freshmen yesterday has not yet been paid for, as the Cambridge men have set too high a price upon his head. There is talk of bringing suit by the Harvard men to recover damages.

AMERICA FAVORED IN EARLY BETTING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 4.—In Wall street today $600 was offered against $500 that the American polo team would win the first game played for the International trophy. On the Americans to win the series, Fred Schum had one commission of $1000 to $700. Money was offered at 80 to 50, with those inclined to back the Britishers asking 90 to 50. At that figure there is said to be a considerable volume of Bank of England notes in sight.

On the yacht race $600 is offered against $500 that whatever American yacht is selected to defend the American cup will defeat the challenger. On the Resolute to win the series of trial races, $400 to $500 is offered.

And Kid Williams, the little Dane, who may be bantamweight champion of the world next Wednesday morning.

MISS M'CALL WILL PLAY IN FINALS.

Miss John McCall played the final round of the women's singles in the handicap tennis tourney at the Y.M.C.A. courts yesterday afternoon when she defeated Mrs. Hinsdale 6-0, 6-3, in a match which was more hard fought than the score would indicate.

In the first set, Mrs. Hinsdale, who was giving Miss McCall fifteen every other game, seemed unable to get going and was a rather easy victim, but in the second set she played much better tennis and put up quite a battle before succumbing to Miss McCall's steadiness.

Miss Beatrice Burnham defeated Miss Corinne Stanton 6-4, 6-3, in a rather hard-fought match in which Miss Burnham's steadiness proved to be the deciding factor. Miss Stanton showed flashes of first-class tennis, but was too erratic to successfully compete with Miss Burnham's accuracy.

Miss Burnham and Miss Eleanor Johnson will fight it out for the right to play Miss McCall in the finals Saturday afternoon.

WILDER BEAT BOX.

Wilder (450) defeated Box (250) last night in the Majestic English handicap billiard tournament, scoring 400 to Box's 175, with high break of forty-four. Wilder has improved his game until he threatens trouble for all competitors. Games continue next week.

Oh You, Sammy.

"NOBODY LEFT BUT COULON."

Sammy Harris; His Terrible Scorn.

Declines to Let Fight Last More'n Fifteen.

Says Kid Williams Can't Get Work-Outs.

Sammy Harris is about the size of a cigarette. He wears a diamond stud over which you can just see the top of his hat. He is the manager of Kid Williams, who is seeking the championship, now the property of Johnny Coulon.

The mystery about Sammy is that so much scorn could emerge from one so diminutive.

"Now," he said, placing three reporters in a row last night in The Times office. "Now you are Eddie Campi; you are Le Doux, the Frenchman, and you are Johnny Coulon. We will suppose that Kid Williams has to fight one of you, do you know which I would take? Well I'd take you (pulling forward the one who was Johnny Coulon.")

"Do you mean that you consider Coulon easier than Campi and Le Doux?" asked one of the startled auditors.

"Certainly, I do," said Sammy, rubbing his diamond. "Coulon isn't as clever as Campi, he can't be any faster and he isn't so tall or has he such a long reach. He can't punch like Le Doux. Kid Williams has licked Campi and Le Doux, There's nobody left now but Coulon. Well, he'll be easy."

"Coulon says that Williams never does anything but slap with his open hand," suggested some one.

"What," shrieked Sammy. "Slaps? Well he give Le Doux a couple of them slaps and the Frenchman had SPARK-PLUG McCLOSKY.

Spark-plug McCloskey bustled into The Times office last night after a long absence.

"Kin I send a telegram from here?" he said, jerking his head over toward the desk where the operators were picking the news off the wire.

"If you pay in advance you can," said the sporting editor dubiously.

"All right, I'll be around wit the money tomorrow," said Spark-plug easily. "I just want to send a challenge."

"A challenge?" repeated the sporting editor.

"Sure," said Spark-plug tartly. "I'm going to try to git Scissors O'Brien on wit Willie Ritchie. He's been boxing out at Doyle's wit Johnny Coulon and he's got his mush caved in so many times that he says he might as well get paid real money for being wrecked."

* * *

"You can't get a fight with Willie Ritchie," said the sporting editor. "Charley White gets the next chance at Ritchie."

"You ain't boostin' fer that stiff, are you?" asked the Spark-plug suspiciously.

"Why not?" asked the sporting editor.

"Huh," grunted Spark-plug. "Did you ever seen Charley White fight? Well, I seen him fight Danny Webster out here at Vernon three years ago and it was such a rotten fight that all the newspaper guys only give it one line at the end of the story. He's a fine quince to be lightweight champeen. What d' y' want? Another of them hesitation tango sisters like Johnny Kilbane and Freddie Welsh? Why don't you give ol' Scissors a chance?"

* * *

Spark-plug sent his telegram and sat down to wait for a reply and presently was forgotten. The talk about the office turned on vacations.

"I would like to go some place this year where I could be absolutely alone," said the sporting editor wearily. "I want solitude."

Spark-plug lowered the edge of the New York sport sheet he had been reading. "I'll tell you what you'd ought to do," he said. "You'd ought to wait until the next time Freddie Welsh fights out here and buy yourself a ticket. There won't be nobody there except you and the janitor. He won't bother you much. He'll probably be back just in time to lock up for the night after the fuss is over."

The sporting editor began to say something about Welsh, but Spark-plug waved him contemptuously away. "Now don't try to tell me," he said, "I just been back there."

"How's that?" asked the sporting editor incredulously.

"I'm the goat; I'll admit it," said Spark-plug. "I got to thinking about them two birds—Dundee and Welsh—and I went back to the big town to see them. I wanted to see if they would accidentally touch either while they were bouncing around the ring.

* * *

"Say it was so lonesome in that empty fight pavilion that I went over to sit next to a feller I owed money to.

"I guess," added Spark-plug sententiously, "them New York guys must have saw Freddie Welsh fight before.

"Freddie is like them guys that used to sell Indian pain killer in the hick towns when I was a kid. He can git away wit it onct any place, but he can't never come back agin. Seeing Freddie fight onct is enough to last a guy fer a lifetime.

* * *

"He might have been champion of the world if Ritchie hadn't backed out," insisted the sporting editor.

Spark-plug threw down his paper and said contemptuously, "Don't kid yourself about that Ritchie-Welsh fight. It wasn't Willie that got cold feet. It was the guys who was going to put the 40,000 fish fer the purse. When they seen Dundee and Welsh only drawed $1400 in New York they just had enough strength left to stagger to the cable office and yell for Bob Vernon to crawl out.

"They got up a phoney meeting and told the paper guys they called off the fight because they couldn't agree who was to be programme boy or ticket taker or stake holder or something. Say don't tell me. I've welched out of enough of them matches to know how it's done."

"Some one else may yet put up the money; there are a lot of fight promoters in England," reminded the sporting editor.

"Yeh; but not many that's that crasy," said Spark-plug. "It's like Jack Grace was tellin' me when I had him out buggy riding in my automobile the other day. He says to me, he says, 'If the Czar of Russia was matched agin the King of England with the Pope fer referee, they wouldn't draw a house big enough to pay the money them guys promised Welsh and Ritchie.'"

Spark-plug snickered. "I guess Freddie is sure ruined anyhow; he busted hisself as a fighter when he met Leach Cross, and now Kid Mc-

TIGERS AGAIN BLANK SEALS.

Hogan's Crew Now in One Game of Lead.

Hitt Ciphers Seals, and Drives in Run.

McArdle Wins Game With a Single in Seventh.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

"Dough Belly" Hitt proved too stout for the Seals, and more sorrow crept into the placid life of "Skeeter" Fanning.

The Tigers won, clearly and unmistakably, shutting out San Francisco as they shut out the same San Francisco on the day before, and so they themselves were coldly turned back from the plate in the opening game.

Score: Venice, 2; San Francisco, 0.

Tuesday's game was just a teaser, as proven by the fact that the Tigers have been beating the Seals into a mush ever since, permitting them to swell up and get proud and chesty, like on the opening day.

ONE MORE NEEDED.

As a result of their diligence of the past forty-eight hours, Hogan's laborers find themselves within a scant span of first place. A victory today, it is deemed, would be sufficient to wrench from San Francisco that position of eminence so long illuminated by the Seals.

Strictly speaking, it was Honus McArdle who won the game, he driving Bayless in with the only run needful with a line single over second in the seventh. Honus hated like everything to do this to San Francisco, having once lived there, but duty and Hap Hogan called, and he, putting tender memories and fond associations behind, responded with a noble lick.

Fanning then passed Elliott to get a crack at Hitt. Roy resented this all too-thinly veiled insinuation that he is soft and soggy as a batter, and scored McArdle with a whiz of a wallop to right.

In all other innings the juvenile custodian of the scoreboard entertained himself by hanging up bald ones.

PRETTY LUCKY.

Mr. Hitt may in numerous ways consider himself fortunate. While he was thumped but five times, he seemed to have only a vague idea of the location of the plate, and passed six. As many as three of these came in the sixth inning, and in perfect rotation, but even with all this hospitality not once were the brethren from the north able to reach the promised land.

To complicate matters, almost every man in Del Howard's employ felt that the day would be wasted if he did not steal at least one base. Consequently "Rowdy" Elliott early hung out the "this is my busy day" sign, and concentrated his mind and arm on the single subject of pegging at base-runners.

"Rowdy" shot down no less than five would-be porch-climbers. But with everybody running all of the time, some of them were bound to escape. All told, five Seals stole one base or another. Of the five Seals who stole, Fitzgerald was two, Cartwright one, and Charles was the other two. Sepulveda also was some sure-shot, nailing five and not allowing a theft.

MELOAN BOUNCED.

Of the seven hits made by the Tigers Meloan figured prominently with a double and a single. After the latter act, which took place in the sixth, Paul was thrown out stealing. He contended that Mr. Held had deeply wronged him. The result was the grand bounce for Pauline, and the appearance of Johnny Kane and his convalescent hand in the outfield. Pretty soft for Paul—this thing of getting through work at 3:30 p.m.

The Seals began splashing some in the second. Fitzgerald, who is suspected of wearing steel springs in his shoes, beat out a grounder to Signor Litschi, the well-known harmonica player. Cartwright sacrificed. Fitzgerald stole third, gaining that sacred spot with a hook slide, that left Litschi vaguely reaching out into space. Charles was spared when Litschi's throw pulled Borton away from his base of supplies. Fitz was held at third. Charles stole second without a note of protest, he being perfectly safe in doing so, with Fitzgerald primed at third for a dash to the plate. Sepulveda and Fanning were not present with the thump, both of them fouling to Borton.

MORE TROUBLE.

There was another close shave in the fourth. Fitzgerald crashed a cruel drive off Litschi's unclad hand. The ball didn't get by Lou more than twenty feet, but the swift Fitzgerald sprinted it into a double, to the great amusement of nine local ball players and several spectators. Downs had already been retired on a great running catch by Carlisle. Cartwright flied to Bayless. Fitzgerald stole third.

STEWART MAY REJOIN SEALS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Harry Stewart, who has pitched with San Francisco, Venice, Los Angeles, Fresno and San Jose, is anxious to catch on with the Seals, his first love. He has an appointment with Manager Howard next Monday to see if he is wanted or not. Harry won eight straight in the California League.

CAPS SMEAR DEVLINITES.

Woozy Playing by Oaks Beats Tyler Christian.

With Bases Loaded, Hetling Is Doubled.

All the Scoring Was Done in the Eighth.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—All the run-getting activities of today's game across the bay were crowded into the eighth inning, and the result was the same, the Oaks going down to their third straight defeat by a 3-to-2 score. In the other innings Tyler Christian and Pol Perritt fought out a pitcher's contest that had both the Oaks and Angels stepping sidaways.

That Christian lost was no fault of his own. His mates simply kicked and blundered away the game in the field. After relieving Young Ramey in the third inning, Tyler pitched gilt-edge ball and deserved a shutout. All three of the runs tallied by the Soaring Angels were due directly to errors of commission and omission.

Signs of action in the eighth were indicated when Pol Perritt, first to bat, ripped a clean single into center. Wolter did the expected in laying down a sacrifice. Page raised a high fly to right. Guest started after it, but it was too far out, and he spoiled Kaylor's chances of making a putout. Perritt raced on to third. Maggert grounded towards third, and then the woozy playing commenced. Hetling fumbled the ball, and when he did locate his bearings he banged Perritt in the back with the ball, permitting the first score and giving Page an opportunity to reach third and Maggert second. Abstein bounded an easy one at Cook and Doc threw low to the plate, thereby presenting the visitors with another score. Ellis poked an easy tap infield, but Ness, Christian and Guest all played the ball and no one covered the bag, which gave Rube a hit and let Maggert in from third. Christian got Moore on a fly to Zacher and fanned Metzger, but the game had been hooted away by this time.

The Oaks made a good up-hill fight in their half of the inning. Middleton singled to center as a starter and Kaylor followed with a safety in the same direction. Zacher was given a life when Brooks dropped his high foul after a run, and he promptly filled up the sacks with a single to deep short. It looked promising with no one out, but Hetling promptly hit into a double play, kicking off Zacher at second and himself. Middleton scored on the play and Kavler moved up to third, from whence he raced home when Perritt cut loose a wild pitch. Ness ended the rally with a long drive to Ellis.

CHARLIE FAUST IS DECLARED INSANE.

FORMER GIANT MASCOT AND FREAK PITCHER SENT TO ASYLUM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTLAND (Or.) June 4.—Charlie Faust, former mascot and freak pitcher with the New York Giants, was today sent to the Oregon State Hospital. He is hopelessly insane.

When searched at the County Jail Faust had a telegram from his brother in Marion, Kan., the town which produced the original Charlie. In addition, he was out at the ball grounds on Sunday and worked out with the Los Angeles players, Harry Wolter and Long Tom Hughes both recognizing him as the former mascot for McGraw.

Two years ago Faust had more advertising over the National League circuit than any of the stars. His eccentricities and belief that he was a real pitcher gave the sport writers subjects with which they filled columns of space. Faust was actually worked in one or two games by McGraw, but only after the game had been either won or lost by a decisive score.

SHAMROCK IV IS ON TRIAL SPIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTSMOUTH (Eng.) June 4.—Shamrock IV, Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the American cup, went out today for her first sail-stretching spin in the vicinity of Spithead. She was accompanied by Shamrock III.

The wind was light and flukey, and inadequate to test the capabilities of the challenger. Under her huge mainsail and her sloop foresail, she maneuvered handily, however, and picked up way quickly after tacking. The towering mast of the new yacht dwarfed that of the old Shamrock.

Sir Thomas Lipton was on board the challenger, together with Charles E. Nicholson, her designer, and William P. Burton, the amateur yachtsman, who is to command her in American waters.

Jim Scott,

The veteran of the White Sox pitching staff, who held Cleveland to one lone hit yesterday, only two men reaching first base. Joe Jackson made the lone hit.

JIM SCOTT HOLDS NAPS TO ONE HIT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 4.—Scott allowed only two Cleveland players to reach first base today, Chicago winning, 2 to 0. One got a hit and the other drew a pass. Both were thrown out stealing. Jackson was the only man who spoiled Scott's chances of a no-hit game. He opened the second inning with a clean single. The score:

PINK FRIDAY X HEAD

PACIFIC COAST SHOOT STARTED.

PHOENIX TEAM TOO STRONG FOR TACOMA—L. A. TEAM DOES WELL.

With the exception of the Manito Club, that had to postpone its match against Los Angeles until June 7, all the reports are in for the second match of the Pacific Coast Rifle League.

Tacoma lost to Phoenix in the second match; Seattle forfeited to Tucson; Bisbee drew a bye. Los Angeles scored 818, probably good enough to win against the score the Manito shooters will put up Sunday in their delayed match.

In the first match Los Angeles won from Tacoma, Phoenix won from Seattle, Manito won from Bisbee, Tacoma and Seattle are therefore two down; Bisbee has lost one out of one shot; Phoenix has gone straight; Tucson is one match to the good out of one shot; Los Angeles and Manito not decided because of delay of second match. Each club has one win to its credit; one of them must lose when Manito fires Sunday.

The coming Sunday Los Angeles draws a bye, but may be able to fill in with a special match against Phoenix; Tacoma is matched against Seattle, Manito against Tucson, Phoenix against Bisbee.

To date the two-team totals hung up by Los Angeles are larger than the team total of any other club in the two matches. Phoenix has the high individual score, C. V. Gulley making 142 ex. 150.

HORSE SHOW TO BE BIG AFFAIR.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, June 4.—A record list of entries, among them many from America, was announced at the opening today at Olympia of the eighth annual horse show, which lasts until June 16, and promises to be one of the most successful of the series.

American exhibitors include William H. Moore and Alfred Vanderbilt of New York, and Baron Alexander Stackelburg of Santa Barbara, Cal.

The big event is the competition for the King Edward VII $2500 gold vase, which teams from the cavalry of most European armies have entered. The vase, which has to be won three times to become the absolute property of any country, has been carried off twice each by Russia, the present holder, and France, and once by Belgium.

Olympia has been transferred into a huge castle yard. The royal box, which will be occupied by King George and Queen Mary on June 8, is in the form of an old English timbered pavilion, with leaded windows and reception rooms furnished in keeping with the box.

MORSE IMPROVES LEAD ON MAMELE.

E. B. Morse and Charles Mamele played their second block of three-cushion billiards at Nelms's last evening, Morse scoring fifty to Mamele's forty-four, in ninety-four innings. Mamele made high run of five. Match totals now stand at 100 to 90, in Morse's favor, after 183 innings.

Both players used safety tactics throughout, making a comparatively slow contest. Mamele held even on the night's play for many rounds, even leading for some time, and actually pulling ahead on totals at inning 106. The match closes tonight.

WRESTLE TO A DRAW.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BALTIMORE, June 4.—The wrestling match here tonight between Zbyszko and Americus (Gus Schoenlein) of this city, was declared a draw. After the men had contested for 59m., 40s., Americus fell off the stage and injured his back and ankle.

Mr. T. Wad Wouldn't Even Take a Chance at the Elks' Gambol Down at Venice! ——— By Gale.

Very Warm.

ONE GAME SEPARATES THREE LEADING CLUBS.

Race in Coast League Is Warmest Ever—Angels Figure to Benefit by Close Series Between Tigers and Seals—Great Pitching Staffs in American League. Browns' Twirlers Rank High.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

CONDITIONS in the Coast League are becoming exceedingly cramped, and there is not the slightest telling what the story will be when the sunset gun is fired today.

San Francisco leads the Tigers by a fraction of a game, while Los Angeles is only a game and one point behind the Tigers.

Thus it is made plain that it is not a physical impossibility for the team now in third place to finish the week in first place.

The situation, in a way, is somewhat complicated.

Every time that they whale the Seals, the Tigers realize that they are indirectly aiding the Angels. But in order to gain first place they must whip Frisco. San Francisco is in the same boat. When the Seals lick the Tigers they do so, realizing that they are simply bringing the Angels that much nearer the leadership. But to fall down before the Tigers is to be threatened with an early slide into second or third place.

By beating San Francisco today the Tigers could vault into first place, according to the unofficial averages. On the other hand, should they lose and the Angels win, Hogan's clan would be leading Dillon's tong by the infinitesimal margin of one point. Speaking of crowded condition, no New York tenement ever had anything on the first division of the Coast League.

Great Work by Scott.

Chicago needn't be ashamed of its pitching staff. Joe Benz recently let the slugging Cleveland club down without a hit. Yesterday Scott repeated the same team of batting bonehs with one hit. Joe Jackson, with a safe blow in the second, robbing the "Death Valley" citizen of the glory of a no-hit performance. This Scott party is unquestionably one of the greatest heavers in the country. Place him with the Athletics, and he would find it difficult to lose a game. Both he and Johnson have been unfortunate in being affiliated with clubs which are not noted for their heavy hitting. Walter's club, however, has improved in this respect, while Jim's team has almost lost the knack of using the ball as a regular thing.

Pitching Staff Ranks High.

Quinlaken and Callahan are generally conceded to have the best pitching staff in the American League. Washington, by virtue of having the services Johnson on its pay roll, not to mention Boehling and a fine array of recruits, is entitled to second place. And who do you suppose ranks third in this respect? Brace yourselves for the shock. To my humble way of thinking, the pitchers of the much-maligned Browns rank second only to those of Chicago and Washington.

They don't make them a whole lot better than Weilimann, Hamilton and Baumgardner. Taylor has pitched some brilliant ball, letting Cleveland down with one hit a couple of days back. Our old friend Bill James, he of last season's Portland club, also has done noble work in behalf of St. Louis, winning something like five games out of six.

Picture that galaxy of twirlers with a real ball club and they would be heard from in unmistakable terms. Pratt at second base for St. Louis, one of the American League stars, Burt Shotten is a great outfielder and a good hitter, but a bit slow in getting away from the plate. Walker Gerken has been playing great ball in the outfield, while Agnew is one of the best catchers in the circuit.

Mind you, we are only picking out the bright spots in the Browns, carefully skipping the dark places. They rank now in the first division. Why disturb their pleasant dreams?

• • •

Mullin Back on Job.

Manager Gene Doyle has come out of his slump. Consequently, things look rather dark for the Tigers today. It is probable that Howard will resort to Purnell in a last dying effort to stem the tide. I have yet to see anyone stem a tide, but they claim it can be done. Mr. "Bull" Picharty is Frisco's advance selection.

• • •

Frisco Goes to Victoria.

Manager Del Calvo will vanish today in the direction of Victoria, B. C., President Berry having sent him that town under an optional agreement and with the consent of the Washington club.

Boston leads the Coast League with a batting percentage of .300, which is some batting. He demonstrated that he is a great natural hitsman, and figures with many of the Northwestern League pitchers into a suicide's grave. However, it was plain that Calvo had considerable to learn in other departments of the game, and practical experience is essential to satisfactory advancement in baseball. Calvo could not hope to accumulate a vast amount of baseball wisdom while adorning the bench.

The fact that he is a southpaw batter likewise militated against him here. Ellis and Harper also hit left-handed. Three left-fielders of that type are too many, and figure to weaken the club against southpaw pitchers.

Bender, late of the Fresno club, who bats right-handed, will succeed Calvo as utility outfielder for the Angels.

Famous Bats for Maier.

"Buck" Weaver of the White Sox is engaged in gathering together a collection of assorted bats that will be so valuable that it couldn't be purchased for money, marbles or chalk. This aggregation of clout rods will consist of bats once grasped by the stalwart hands of Cobb, Speaker, Jackson, Baker and other men who have helped make the country famous. Each bat will be autographed by the swatter who used it for swatting.

Weaver is gathering these for the express purpose of presenting them to Ed. R. Maier, president of the Venice club. This will be one of the most celebrated collections of batting souvenirs every assembled in one bat bag.

Maier will today begin the homeward lap of his extended tour, when he will leave Atlantic City for a leisurely trip West. He is expected to reach home a week from tomorrow.

• • •

In the Effete East.

Writing from New York, Fred Watson, Maier's favorite chauffeur, who accompanied the big boss East, chirographs his impressions as follows:

"This is a bush town with a bush ball club. Will be glad to get home and see a real ball game, and so will the Pres. Got pinched for speeding today, and 'bulled' the judge out of fining me. That is better than I can do at home."

New York never did amount to much.

Coy's come to town and crabbed his high-brow act."

"How's that?" asked the sporting editor.

"Whenever he seen one of youse newspaper guys coming, Freddie usdt to skin around and set the scenery fer himself to be reading a book by this guy Maeterlinck. But while he is East, Kid McCoy comes along and hands the sob sisters on the evening papers a fine line of bull about 'my friend Maeterlinck.'

"I dunno who this guy Materlinck is but I hear he's some kind of a poet. Anyhow he seems to be the fall guy fer all the dead ones that needs advertising."

• • •

Spark-plug snickered.

"I was just thinkin'," he said in explanation, "that it would be pretty tough on some of these lads if this guy Materlinck should happen to really come along some day."

• • •

"What do you think about Coulon and Williams?" asked some one as Spark-plug got up to go."

"I dunno," said Spark-plug. "I'll be darned if I see how anybody could lick that Kid Williams, but I'll go out and look 'em over and let you know."

"By the way," he called back as he was leaving, "if you git an answer to that telegram, you can tell Willie that Scissors will fight him fer $1000. If he won't take that, tell him Scissors will fight him fer day's wages. If he won't take that try to git him a job as sparring partener, er janitor er anything. If you can't do that, sell him to a sausage factory."

With that, Spark-plug stalked out. In his wake there followed a humble woe-begone limping figure which was Scissors O'Brien.

STEP TAKEN TO PROTECT TROUT.

A. W. Butterfield, superintendent of the Southern California Edison power plants in Lytle Creek Canyon, was today charged by James Vale, deputy fish and game commissioner, with violating the law requiring screens to be placed over intakes to prevent trout leaving the streams. Vale declares that repeated efforts to require the power houses to protect the trout have failed, and as a result swore out a warrant for Butterfield's arrest.

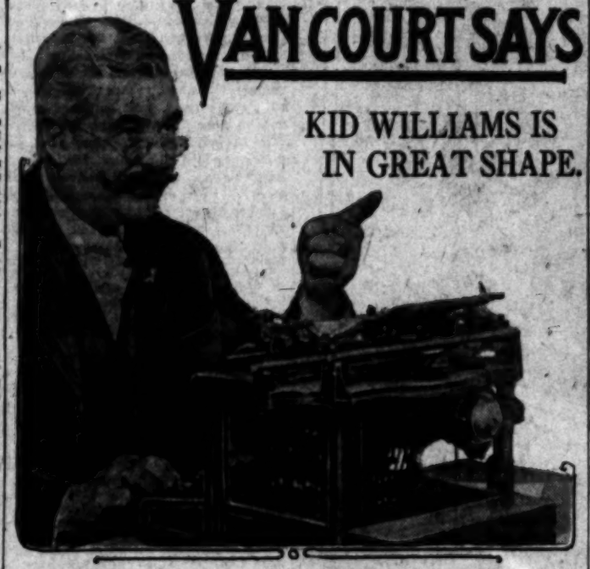
STUTZ SNUFFED OUT.

Finals in Blake's elimination pocket billiard tournament were commenced last night with a game between Stafford and Stutz, which was won by Stafford by fifty points to forty-seven. Stutz made high run of nine. Visner and Visner, are to replay on Monday evening a game protested.

Bowe and Stafford are to play tonight in a last clash.

HARRIS AGAIN LUCKY.

Tom Harris, rated at thirteen, and L. Hanebut, at ten, drew Morley's open three-cushion prize game last night, and Harris won by thirteen points to four, after fifty-nine innings, with high break of three.



VAN COURT SAYS

KID WILLIAMS IS IN GREAT SHAPE.

Kid Williams boxed only three rounds yesterday afternoon with Battling Lee. Chico, one of his sparring partners, had a sty on one of his eyes and was unable to work with the little Dane.

The boxing he did with Lee was very fast and each handed out some hard punches. Williams confined his blows principally to the body and one might judge from the number he landed that he intends to go after Coulon's body from the start.

He is full of ginger and worked fast with both hands and feet. He also looks fit to fight tonight and is in perfect condition at the present time. He looks so well, in fact, that the extra work he will probably do from now until the contest will do him little good. There is also some doubt about his making the weight easily and if this is the case there is a possible danger of his going stale.

He does not have that deathly color he had when he met Campi and could not possibly be better than at the present time.

We have t from good authority that he weighed 117 pounds Wednesday when he finished his work. Still the last two pounds may work a hardship on him the last few days. His manager, Sammy Harris, is keeping his weight under cover for some reason or other. If, as it is rumored, he is doing it to worry Coulon, he will do all the worrying himself, as the little champion was never more confident in his life of winning.

Williams is an active and powerful little fellow and any extra weight he takes on during his resting between fights, is solid stuff and the hardest to take off.

There is little doubt about his making the weight, but if it weakens him in any way, he will be under a handicap of the worst kind.

• • •

Danny Lyons, who was matched to meet Walter Williams in the ten-round semi-windup to the Williams-Coulon contest, has backed out of the match and Manager Billy Greenwood, his manager, is not to blame and is thoroughly disgusted with Danny.

• • •

Frank Picato, brother of Babe and Charlie, was recently married in Sydney, Australia. He has made himself very popular in that country and has been receiving many press notices lately for his fine manly conduct.

Picato is a full-fledged Boniface now. He bought out the Sanatorium Hotel a few months ago and when he appeared for his license he was compelled to furnish evidence as to his character in this country. Picato was always a quiet and modest fellow in this country and he is sure to make good in Australia.

• • •

When Joe Gans was alive he was a great admirer of the present bantamweight champion, Johnny Coulon, and every time they met each would ask the other if he had any new punches. They would describe different blows and demonstrate on each other and Johnny says he learned many things from the great Gans.

This was a custom with many of the old-time fighters.

Earl Mohan, matchmaker for Jack Doyle's Friday-night shows, has his card made up for tonight, and it promises to be a better one than last week's.

George Prior and Ray Lincoln at 145 pounds, Jow Walker and Fighting Lee at 122 pounds, Dummy Jordan and Jack Oven at 140 pounds, Mike Doll and Len Rowlands at 140 pounds, Abe Sherman and Jimmie Castro at 126 pounds, Harry Atwood and Frankie Sullivan at 122 pounds as the main event, and a battle royal will be pulled off some time during the evening's entertainment. Johnny Coulon will referee one of the contests.

So far Mohan has proved a clever matchmaker. He is well acquainted with all the boxers, knows their style and weights. This helps him greatly in securing good matches.

Doyle runs the bouts off in good shape without any unnecessary delays and enables the fans to get back to town in good season.

FIRST BAD DAYS FOR MAJOR TEAMS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 4.—After nearly three weeks of almost uninterrupted fair weather, major-league baseball today encountered inclement conditions unusual to June, with the result that in the two senior organizations only one game was played—the Chicago-Cleveland American game.

With two exceptions, today's were the only postponements of big-league games since May 13, the clubs for the most part having been favored with ideal conditions.

James T. White of Macon, Ga., has been elected captain of the 1915 Virginia baseball nine.

it having become a habit with him by this time.

McCarthy called a strike on Charles that "Chappie" didn't like.

"Call 'em right, Jack," chirped Cy "Don't be afraid of the crowd—there Parkin out on the coaching line ain't no such thing here."

All was which was a gross libel on the attendance.

Charles later got his base on balls, and stole second. Sepulveda grounded to Leard, and both strays perished.

Borton's scoop of Tobin's blistering drive featured the fifth.

The sixth was fuzzy, and fraught with great peril. Downs walked with one out. He started to steal, but turned back when Elliott threw to Leard. Bill tried to get Jerry at first and tossed the ball into the water bucket, Jeremiah wheeling and going clear to third. Fitzgerald walked and was thrown out stealing. Serves him right. Jerry discreetly remained at third. Hitt, now stopping over with generosity, passed Cartwright. Charles left the plate brooding over a third called strike, and Carty was flagged stealing.

ELLIOTT BUSY.

Sepulveda singled infield in the seventh, and was thrown out stealing after Fanning had attempted to bunt the third strike, with fatal results. Tobin walked, and again Elliott's arm was brought into play.

A few closing remarks regarding the crucial inning. Fanning walked Bayless, the first man up. Litschi sacrificed, and Borton was an infield out. McArdle drove the ball like a shot into center, and Bayless scored from third. Elliott was walked purposely. Hitt drove a line single to right, and McArdle came across the plate on his stomacher, beating Fitzgerald's throw by a hair. Carlisle walked. Leard closed the celebration with a grounder to Charles.

It is the plan to gain first place this afternoon.

to go to bed. He gave Campi a slap in the stomach and nearly broke him in two. After's he's give Coulon a couple of them slaps, they'll be a new champion."

"Can Williams make the weight?" Sammy surveyed the group with a glittering eye. "He weighed 119¾ for Campi, his last fight."

"What does he weigh now?"

Sammy smiled a mysterious smile and blew his breath on his second, or assistant, diamond, which is fastened onto a ring.

"How long will the fight last?" asked the sporting editor.

"I'd like to give the fans a run for their money," said Sammy firmly, "but we ain't getting money enough to let it last over fifteen rounds. Coulon, he's getting all the money so we can't stick around there all night. We'll knock him out right away.

"The only thing that's worrying me," added Sammy, "is that we can't get any sparring partners. The Kid busted up all there are in town. He can't hardly get any exercise for fear he might murder some of them."

RAIN SPOILS THE ENGLISH PRACTICE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HEMPSTEAD (N. Y.) June 4.—Practice by the English polo team at Meadowbrook was cancelled today owing to rain. The American team's practice also was cancelled for the day. Weather permitting, both teams will play tomorrow afternoon.

Players and ponies took only light exercise today.

SOUTH COAST YACHT CLUB BOATS WILL RACE TODAY.

BY E. D. SEWARD,
Secretary South Coast Yacht Club.

PREPARED for a hard off-shore race, with unknown and uncertain weather conditions, five of the racing yachts from the fleet of the South Coast Yacht Club will swing out into the channel from the end of the breakwater at noon tomorrow for a run around Santa Catalina Island on the annual race for the Montgomery ocean race cup, which will be first prize, a cup put up by the club's directors for second place, and Rear-Commodore Weston's cup for third place.

This annual race is the hardest and longest race scheduled this year and none but the most strenuous of skippers and crews are anxious to compete. It was for this reason that the second and third prizes were put up for the event.

The big sloop Siwash, in command of Capt. Howard Wright, will be scratch boat, she giving a time allowance to the others as follows: Mischief, Commodore C. E. W. Hubbell, 42m. 15s.; Vito, Rear-Commodore Ben P. Weston, 1h. 5m. 15s.; Wasp, Capt. Jeffers, 1h. 28m. 2s., and Spray, Capt. Goodrich, 2h. 39m. 30s.

Possibly there will be other boats in the contest, but these five are the only ones which have entered at this time. Charlie Fulton, captain of the Columbine, said yesterday that it would be impossible for him to get away on Saturday for the race, and it is understood that Bailey and Logan of the Alert will likewise be unable to make the race.

Last year the little Myth, sailed by Vice-Commodore Harry Mellen, won the race on time allowance, Harry, with his wife and Dr. V. A. Goodrich and his wife making the trip around the island. This year Dr. Goodrich will sail the Spray over the course and expects (if conditions are right) to win the first prize on his big time allowance.

Of all the races on the long programme of the club this race is the hardest to dope out. If the wind holds and the larger boats can keep a-going the smaller racers are readily outclassed. But, as is often the case, the wind dies on the lee of the island, and the race then becomes a drifting match until the westerly springs up on the second day out, the big boats are apt to lose. The smaller boats drift as fast as the larger ones and with the heavy time allowances given them on their measurements manage to get in in ample time to win.

A DEFENSE OF THE TIN EAR.

Sporting Editor The Times:

I see where this guy, Van Court, says in The Times that none of the old-timers had tin ears. Where does he get that stuff about the old-timers being so clever that their ears didn't get bunged?

Say, I guess Van Court never examined the ears of some of them stars he is so stuck on.

I guess that there was not any cleverer old-timer than Young Griffo was there? Well, he had a tin ear that looked like it had been chewed up by a yearling calf.

Mike Gibbons is about as clever as some of them old-timers, isn't he? Well, Mike has a tin ear that would scare a bulldog.

Jimmy Clabby, Freddie Welsh, Jem Driscoll, Johnny Dundee, Philadelphia Jack O'Brien and a dozen other fellows that box in the style that Van Court admires all have chewed-up ears.

On the other hand, Ad Wolgast, Stanley Ketchel, Kid Williams and many other fighters who put down their heads and wade in, thereby getting Van Court's goat, haven't tin ears.

What's the answer?

The Times is the only newspaper in Los Angeles that does not make a practice of permitting agents, newsboys and dealers to return unsold copies of its issue. Neither does it misbrand or predate its editions, or inflate its circulation by printing more copies than are actually necessary to supply its patrons.

The Times' entire circulation is practically net, and it is more genuine and superior in every respect to that of any other newspaper.

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND OFFERED WALTER JOHNSON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 4.—To sign or not to sign a Brooklyn Fed contract for $100,000 in return for three years pitching service—that's the question now racking the brain of Walter Johnson, monarch of the slab. The Washington star received this offer last night, it is said, during a conference with R. B. Ward, owner of the Brooklyn Federals, and Manager Bill Bradley. Earlier in the evening Walter talked contract with Manager Griffith of the Senators and the latter offered him a substantial salary increase to sign a five-year contract.

Leaving Griffith's apartment, Johnson entered an automobile with Manager Bradley and Jim Delehanty, a Brookfed infielder, and was presented to Owner Ward. The latter offered $75,000 for three years' work and an additional $25,000 to land Walter's signature. Griffith asserts his mound marvel is bound by a contract he cannot break.

High School Ball.

POLY AND LONG BEACH MEET AT OCCIDENTAL.

THE Southern California interscholastic baseball championship is getting down towards the final games of the elimination series. Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, Poly meets Long Beach High at Occidental field, while Orange and San Diego clash at Orange. The winners of these games will meet the following Saturday for the championship.

The Poly-Long Beach affair should be one of the best games of the season with two strong, well balanced clubs on the field. Both teams are better than the average high school nine, as the one-sided beatings they have handed out to other schools will testify. Poly played horse with the Fillmore boys last Friday, beating them 12 to 1, while Long Beach had an easy time with the champs of the Suburban section of the County League. Orange won a great battle from the powerful Chaffey Union team, champions of the Citrus Belt League, and San Diego has had little real opposition in the far end of the State.

Belton Abel, master heaver of the Mechanics, is the man upon whom Poly places the hopes for victory over Long Beach. The steady little twirler has been busting backs and batting averages in the high school ranks all spring and he should give the slugging beach bunch a terrific argument for the game. He will have the fastest fielding high school team in the south behind him. Haney on third, Tipton on short, Lawton at second and Capt. "Fat" Martin on first form a defensive infield that is death on ground hit balls. They are good throwers and sure-thing men on fly balls or fouls. The outfield trio has not been selected yet on account of the surplus of good material. Smith, Gillette, Guiol, the Indian star; Gordon, and several other good men stand ready to go into the game. Critchley is a splendid, aggressive catcher and a dangerous hitter. Poly's one weakness has been with the stick, but the way they assulted the hooks of the Fillmore heaver and the efforts of Cowan, L.A.H.S. star, would indicate that this weakness has been patched up by constant practice under Coach Haslett.

Long Beach has had a wonderful season under Capt. Rollie Bones and they are a good match for the Mechanics. The team is especially strong at the bat, with a fighting spirit that makes them dangerous until the last out. Stine is a rattling good pitcher, with Wilcox, a clever catcher on the other end of the battery. They will give Poly a battle and the winner should have little trouble in the finals on the following Saturday.

A COAST RECORD FOR BOB SMALL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

New Rules.

INTERNATIONAL A.A.F. BUSY MAKING NEW RULES.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LYONS (France) June 4.—The Rules, Regulation and Records Committee of the International Amateur Athletic Federation today adopted with modifications a set of rules submitted by James E. Sullivan, secretary of the American Olympic Committee, who presided over the meeting. Rule 6, relating to timekeepers, met with opposition from French and English delegates.

The rule states that "each of the three timekeepers shall time every event; in case two watches agree, and the third disagrees, the time marked by the two shall be official time; and if all the watches disagree, the time marked by the watch giving the middle time shall be official."

Both France and England argued in favor of counting the best time instead of the middle time.

As modified, the rule relating to the judges at the finish now reads:

"There shall be three or more judges, who shall decide the order in which the competitors finish."

The previous rule designated one judge to take the winner, another the second man and another the third.

Rule 7 now gives the judges of walking or their assistants the power to warn or disqualify immediately at their discretion. Previously the judge cautioned any competitor, the third caution disqualifying him.

The committee has not finished with the rules, which are again to be discussed tomorrow.

The first session of the Congress proper has been fixed for Saturday.

MRS. BARRY HOSTESS TO TWO YOUNGEST "PEGS."

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

THE two youngest "Pegs," Florence Martin and Peggy O'Neil, met face to face across the festive board yesterday afternoon. Of course, they had met before, but just the same, it was a unique occasion.

It was Mrs. Dick Barry who acted as hostess, and, on the promise that he would be good, Dickey was permitted to kick in.

And gee, what a mutual admiration society it proved to be. Said Florence Martin to Peggy O'Neil, "you are a wonderful Peg," to which Peggy O'Neil replied, "Miss Martin, you are a peerless Peg." And then both told Barry he was a great playwright, and that Mrs. Dick was a perfect dear at ordering lunch, and altogether it was delightful.

Just as delightful, in fact, as the perfectly good natured repartee between Forest Stanley and Beatrice Nichols, on the Burbank stage when Forest said we were making too much noise.

Miss Nichols, all dolled up in some filmy thing and sporting a veil, hurled defiance with "I should worry" effects, to which Mr. Stanley replied with words that in the days of chivalry would have prompted a duel, the situation being saved by Walter Catlett, still handcuffed from the proceeding act.

There was something fascinating about those handcuffs. There always is, about things which render humanity speechless. It is one of the reasons why I think that the Annette Kellerman pictures will be interesting at the Mason.

At one place she is thrown into the water with her hands and feet tied, a la Monte Cristo, and unties the bonds with her teeth while under water.

There will be some other underwater stunts next week, too, when Odiva appears at the Orpheum. She has been here before, but this time brings some sea lions with her. They say she kisses them under water.

And getting back to earth again, I am reminded that Monday night the Wallis school is to present "Justice," the four-act Galsworthy drama, at the Gamut Auditorium.

Heavens, what a shock! Came in an envelope and announced the marriage on Wednesday of Harry Hammond Beall to Mary Edna Cook. After July 1 they will be at home at the Merritt Jones Hotel at Ocean Park.

"Ham," you know, is one of the busiest little press agents around town, well known and popular throughout the newspaper and theatrical fraternity.

Jane O'Roark, the dashing Los Angeles girl who has just returned from a big success in Arizona, is bursting with accounts of the way they do things in Phoenix. Or at least she was till Ralph Hamlin sent her one of his new Franklins, and now it is "Los Angeles for mine."

Because, Jane confesses, that the roads are really better here than in Arizona.

MRS. TY COBB SHUNS PUBLICITY.

Mrs. Tyrus Cobb is the mother of two charming children, rather than the wife of the world's greatest baseball player.

Mrs. Cobb dislikes the publicity and fanfare that always cast a glamour around her famous husband. She keeps as far as possible away from the limelight that is constantly seeking Tyrus.

She is a very patient little woman, who has her time taken up completely with the two little Cobbs, Tyrus Jr., and Shirley.

Tyrus is a bright, active little fellow with brick-red hair and large, bashful eyes. He has his father's spirit of adventure, however, and he soon overcomes his timidity and takes chances at climbing clay banks and trees without regard for the appearance of his clothes. He is a real boy.

Shirley is a blue-eyed tot with flaxen hair. She is just as much of a little lady as Tyrus Jr., is a little man.

When the family is gathered around the table eating, Tyrus sits in a high chair next to his mother, while Papa Ty takes care of Shirley. The family naturally attracts a good deal of attention.

Mrs. Cobb likes baseball and she sees all the games she can.

Secretary F. G. Wall of the Football Association of England has advised President Watson of the Dominion of Canada Football Association (soccer football) that he has arranged for Sunderland to accompany the Blackburn Rovers in a tour of Canada and the United States during the summer of 1915. The elevens are champions of the English League for the seasons of 1913 and 1914.

chances without a slip, seven of the same being put-outs. In the matter of put-outs he tied Cartwright, the first baseman, which is something that doesn't happen every now and then. To be alliterative, his tagging of runners on Sepulveda's shots was simply superlative.

Kenworthy Star in Federal.

It would appear that Lord Bill Kenworthy was not fully appreciated here on the Coast. This from the enthusiastic Waterman of a Kansas City scribe:

"While the Packer layout doesn't present any scintillating stars, Stovall has one man on the pay roll who is good enough to play with anything either in outlaw or organized baseball. The Federal hasn't shown anything so far as good as Bill Kenworthy at second base.

"Kenworthy started as a pitcher, and he was a pretty good one at that. However, he was too good with the bat to be kept on the bench five days in the week, and when he was bought by Washington, Clark Griffith put him in the outfield. Later he was shifted to third base.

"Stovall shot him over to second base, and that is where he belongs. On the present trip, Kenworthy has shut off not fewer than a dozen sure base hits, and not once has he made a bad throw. Day after day he gets them back of second base in time to nail the runner, and in one game in Baltimore he speared one that got past Stovall just back of first base.

"Kenworthy has the right kind of stuff for a star. He has the ginger, and there is never a moment in the game when he isn't hustling.

"Then, too, he isn't afraid to hit the ball. He drove in more runs than any other man on the team on the eastern invasion."

If my memory serves me correctly, it was Wolverton who first gave Kenworthy employment at second base. Kenworthy played good ball at second for Sacramento last season, but hardly loomed as a star. He was not regarded as ranking with either Rodgers or Leard in that position. He seemed far more at home in the outfield, and it had been planned to transfer him to that department had he remained on the Coast.

Kenworthy is a sterling player, whose timely hitting, ginger and hustling tactics make him of great value in any position. But for him to blossom out as a star of the first magnitude at second base comes in the way of a pleasant surprise to his friends on the Coast. Rah for Bill!

CREAM OF SCIENTISTS.

A Great Gathering of the World's Greatest Men Is Planned at San Francisco Next Year.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, June 3.—The greatest gathering of scientific men ever held on the Pacific Coast is now being planned—a general meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science at San Francisco, Berkeley and Stanford, from August 2 to 7, 1915.

Dr. W. W. Campbell, director of the Lick Observatory, and one of the most distinguished of living astronomers, is chairman of the Pacific Coast committee, and A. L. Barrows of the department of zoology of the University of California, secretary, while the scientific programme is being planned by a committee headed by the geologist, Dr. J. C. Branner, president of Stanford University.

Most of the sessions for the presentations of papers in the separate divisions of science will be held at the University of California.

The programme will for the most part deal with scientific problems of world interest pertaining especially to the Pacific area. There are individual programme committees on mathematics and astronomy, physics, chemistry, engineering, geology and geography, zoology, botany, anthropology and psychology, social and economic science, physiology and experimental medicine, and agriculture.

A large number of scientific societies are to hold national conventions in San Francisco during the same week in August, 1915.

Princeton University has formed a life-saving club with twenty charter members, and is endeavoring to have all colleges fostering swimming organize similar clubs.

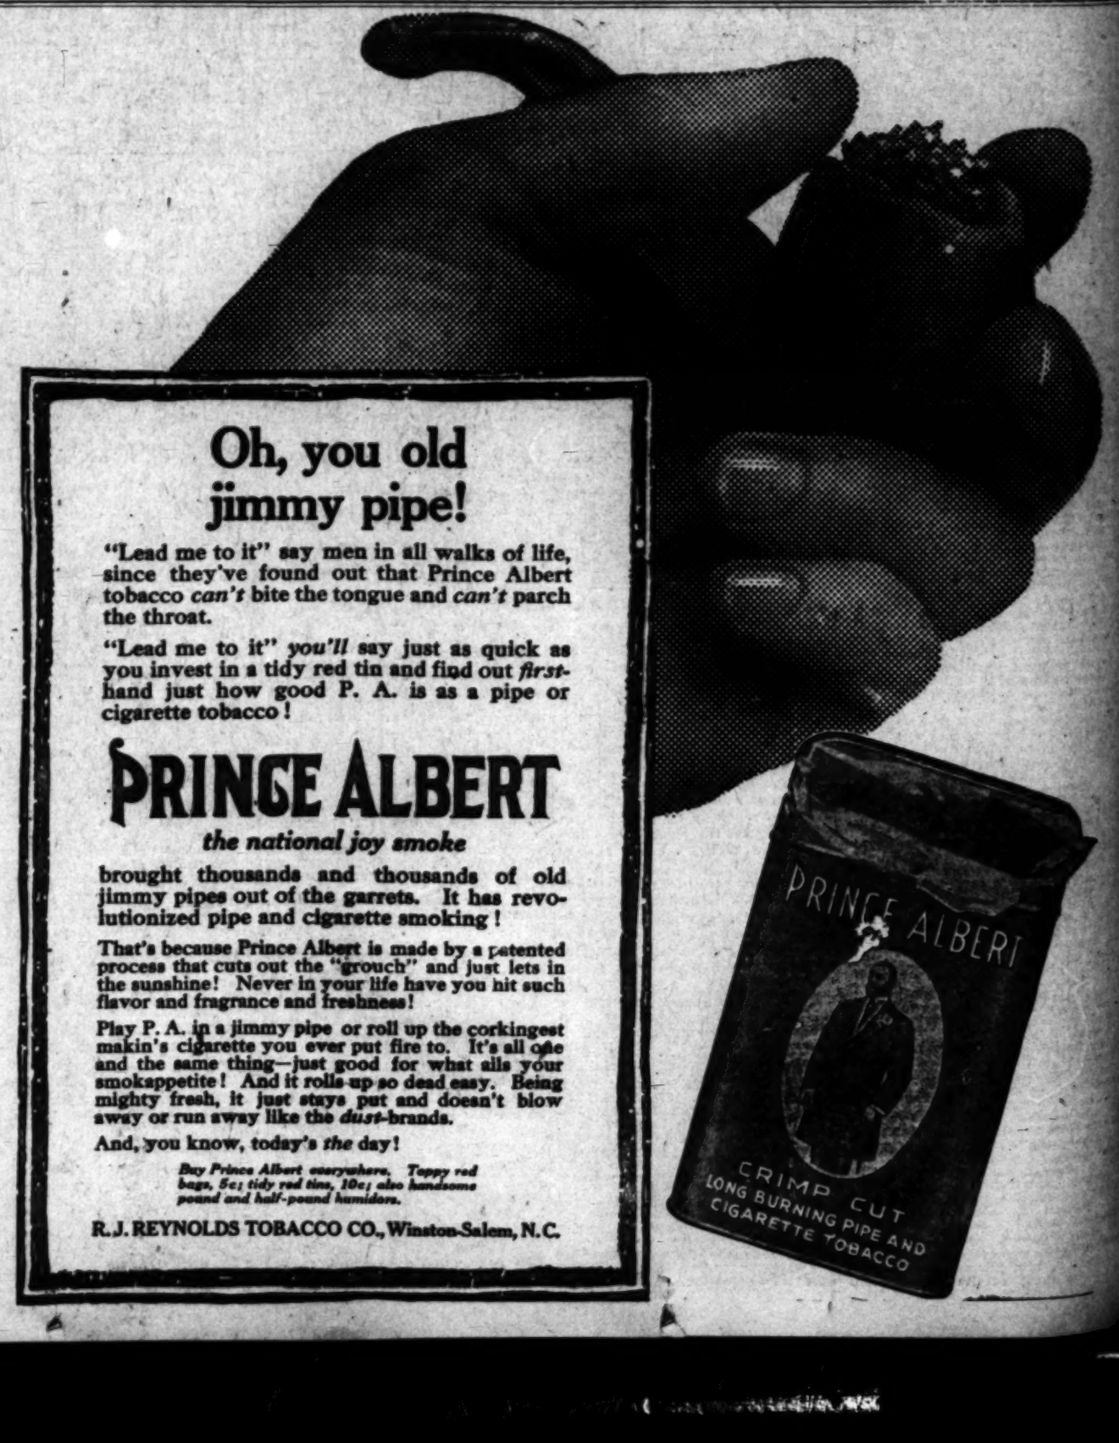
MANUAL TENNIS MEN AT BEACH.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, June 4.—Long Beach tennis fans are counting on the treat of the year here Saturday afternoon when the crack Manual Arts High School squad meets the local High School racquet team in the final court session of the interscholastic season. The matches will be contested on the Hotel Virginia courts. McCabe, Winnie and Edwards are expected to show up the best for Manual; while Lower, Andrews and McFadyen, will probably shine for Long Beach.

C. K. G. Billings's new stock farm near Richmond, Va., will include two mile tracks, each a mile apart. The dirt track is completed, but the turf track will not be ready for some time. The turf track is a sort of a novelty and will be used to work saddle horses over and to drill polo ponies on should Mr. Billings decide to take any to the farm.

Washington, D. C., will for the first time witness the annual football game between the Army and Navy next fall. The contest may be played at the American League baseball grounds on Saturday, November 28.



Oh, you old jimmy pipe!

"Lead me to it" say men in all walks of life, since they've found out that Prince Albert tobacco can't bite the tongue and can't parch the throat.

"Lead me to it" you'll say just as quick as you invest in a tidy red tin and find out first-hand just how good P. A. is as a pipe or cigarette tobacco!

PRINCE ALBERT

brought thousands and thousands of old jimmy pipes out of the garrets. It has revolutionized pipe and cigarette smoking!

That's because Prince Albert is made by a patented process that cuts out the "grouch" and just lets in the sunshine! Never in your life have you hit such flavor and fragrance and freshness!

Play P. A. in a jimmy pipe or roll up the corkingest makin's cigarette you ever put fire to. It's all one and the same thing—just good for what ails your smokappetite! And it rolls up so dead easy. Being mighty fresh, it just stays put and doesn't blow away or run away like the dust-brands.

And, you know, today's the day!

Buy Prince Albert everywhere. Toppy red bags, 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; also handsome pound and half-pound humidors.

"Prosperity is always with us," the slogan yesterday at the a meeting of the Realty Board a Hotel Clark. It permeated speeches of the retiring and inco president, footed its smiling through the reports of the secr and treasurer, and gave point t contention of Vice-President Boo the Security Trust and Savings B who recently returned from S America, that we have unculti trading fields in the Philippines promise larger returns to the Pa Coast than the whole of Latin-A ica. Incidentally, Booth conder the proposal that the Filipinos given independence.

"I desire to go on record as an timist," said W. W. Mines in his augural address as president of board. "I believe in Los Angeles believe in the Los Angeles R Board. I believe in the futur this great State of California.

"I consider it an honor to elected to serve this board, bec it is an organization known an men as one that stands for hon and integrity. The Los Angeles R ty Board has achieved many no successes in the past. Its dest have been guided by men of b intelligence, and it is our duty to that the lines laid down by our decessors are strictly adhered to, that we continue to use every or best effort for the good of this boa Mines asserted that it would be object to put the real estate busi on even a higher ethical plane t it now occupies and that he expe to appoint a committee to watch vertisements and see that dealers up to their promises. He also r serted his intention of inviting didates for city, county and S offices to address the board that m bers might get a first-hand knowl of the qualifications of each.

NO ROOM FOR KNOCKER.

"There is no room for the knoc in our ranks," said Mines in c clusion. "This gentleman must eliminated for the good of the bo and the city. Let us pull toge and boost the other fellow's ga for there are opportunities eno and to spare in this city and Southland."

"In laying down the duties of p dent," said James R. H. Wad "I wish to thank the members of board for their co-operation in ca ing on our great work of raising standard of the real estate busi by making every one live up to promises and by driving out sharks. We have weathered sto and are stronger and the future lo brighter than it ever did before."

As Warner concluded he was p sented with a silver loving cup. "T cup is for the old sleuth of board," said W. M. Garland in m ing the presentation, "for he is man among us who has worked ea and late to put the real estate sha out of business."

"The fiscal year just closed reco another milestone in the progress the board," said Secretary Phillip Wilson in his annual report. "It w a year that embraced a wider fi of activities and more thorough operation and harmony in the me bership than had ever before exis in the eleven-year period of its e istence.

"During the year just closed board has not only maintained proud position as the largest asso ation of realty men in the Uni States and Canada, but has even i ceased its own size until now it r sisters the largest membership in t history of the organization."

The report of Treasurer Herbert Gerdish showed receipts during t year of $16,082, cash on hand $1784, and real property valued at t tween $15,000 and $20,000.

DEPRESSION—HUH!

"We don't know what real financ depression is," said Booth as a prefa to his speech. "We have never se and probably never will see such ha ness apathy and lack of ready ca as has descended on South America Booth then reviewed the vario South American countries and t leading possibilities which they off and drew the conclusion that if w are seeking fields in which to sell o goods advantageously we had bett investigate the Philippines.

"In this connection," he said, in a aside, "I wish to draw your atte tion to this proposal to give the Fil pines independence or to sell them I want to call your attention to because it seems to me that wi them we acquired responsibilitie which we should not shirk, even we pay a drain on us, which they ar not."

In connection with South Americ Booth drew attention to the fact tha in such year has a trade balanc against us of more than $300,000,00 and stated that it is only through th use of machinery that we could tur out ride the other way.

"They have no use for our food stuff, for they raise all they need an more," he said. "Argentina, as ever one knows, is now the greatest cattle raising country on the globe. In thi connection let me say that it is thi country they have given attention t the science of stock raising down there."

Regarding trade possibilities on the west coast of South America, Booth stated that of the 10,000,000 popula tion 7,000,000 are Indians and ne groes, who are not buyers of any thing, and that trade, if we are to win it, must be secured through the 3,000,000 whites.

"In other words," he concluded "Chicago has as many buyers for u as the whole west coast of South America."

President Mines announced special and standing committees with the following chairmen: F. Winstanley reception; George N. Black, publi ity; W. I. Hollingsworth, finance; J. M. Black, legislative; W. Blinds Up at the Red Plush Mansion.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Victor Hall,

Who are back at the famous "house behind the wall" at No. 2231 Ocean View avenue as happy bride and groom after the long and sensational chain of circumstances which ended in Hall's former wife divorcing him, naming Mlle. Rita Suetans, the Parisian flower girl. This photograph was made immediately after the wedding of the oil magnate and his protege in Paris. It shows the bride in her wedding gown.

Bride and Groom.

HALL AND MLLE. RITA ARE BACK.

Only It's Not Mlle. Rita Now, but Mrs. Hall.

Pastoral Happiness Reigns After Many Woes.

Ex-Flower Girl Says Morals of Paris Are Bad.

The blinds are up at the "red plush house." The lawn is newly mowed and the flowers are looking their best. The birds are there and are singing—because the master of the house has come back with his bride.

Charles Victor Hall, oil magnate, and the new Mrs. Hall, who was Mlle. Rita Suetans, a winsome Parisian flower girl, have returned to Los Angeles from Europe to establish a permanent home. They are occupying the residence at No. 2231 Ocean View avenue, which was purchased by Hall as a luxurious retreat for his ward just previous to the sensational divorce trial of the Halls in February, 1913.

Hall and the young woman, whom he discovered in a flower booth in the French capital, were married in that city April 15, last, shortly after the final decree was made, granting a divorce to Mrs. Josephine Dalton Hall and giving her half of the oil operator's property.

"I never have been so happy before," Hall said yesterday afternoon while he and Mrs. Hall were seated on the porch at their home. "We are back here to stay. We are going to establish a home here and I am getting back into active business."

Hall had been out in the back yard superintending some work and had dust on his shoes. Mrs. Hall was dressed in a simple white frock and wore one red rose.

Travel abroad and the long rest after the trying ordeal in court have greatly benefited Hall and his bride. Both have gained in weight and their tanned complexions show that they have been much in the open.

BUY A COW.

Just now the Halls are extremely interested in their home. Since their return they have purchased an electric, a horse, a cow, two dogs, chickens and a rabbit, and much other domestic equipment. They have planned a vegetable garden and are constructing a garage and a house for the gardener.

A canary bird which Mrs. Hall brought from Paris has entered into the general spirit of things, and is building a nest. Yesterday afternoon Hall made arrangements with a man to milk the cow.

"Be sure and come or I will have to do the milking, as my wife doesn't know how," Hall said to the man when he left.

Hall has bought land adjoining the residence and now owns about five acres, which he will improve.

"I'm going to make this a self-sustaining institution," Hall said. "It will be a real home. We will have our own milk, butter, eggs and vegetables."

Mrs. Hall does not like the name given to the residence during the divorce trial, and she has christened it "sweet home"— a designation formed by two words which she regards as the most significant in the language which she so lately learned.

"We are finding it a pleasant undertaking to develop a home here," the oil magnate continued. "We like the view of the mountains. We have lots of flowers and love them. We have kept the house full of flowers since we returned. The birds seem to like the place and we have much bird music. We're happy and it would be the same if we had no money, but were selling baked potatoes."

Mrs. Hall likes Los Angeles much better than her native city of Paris.

"PARISIAN MORALS BAD."

"I am very fond of this city," she explained. "The climate is better than that of Paris. I like the people better, too, and the general surroundings. The people here are more honest.

"I do not like the morals of Paris. They are not good, and when you are in Paris you are supposed to do as everyone else does. But the best reason why I like Los Angeles is because I am happy here, and I wasn't in Paris."

Hall expressed interest in developing a 1000-acre ranch in San Diego county and in his oil properties. He is sinking a number of new wells.

Cooling Drinks.

"THE TIMES" SCHOOL OF DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

EVER since some one happened to remember that a camel can go nine days without taking a drink every true mother's son has flouted the thought of wanting to be a camel, but if Mr. Camel's long neck helps him to enjoy his drink longer, then with some of the delicious drinks that Mrs. Bertha Haffner-Ginger made for The Times cooking class yesterday in mind one could not be blamed if one wished he could be a camel in this respect.

They were cooling and exhilarating and very attractive to the eye as well as the palate, and as each member of the class tasted each different drink, they wished warm weather would last always so one might need this sort of refreshing beverage.

First on the programme of cooling drinks came what might be called a "perfectly stunning" drink. It was of a soft lavender color, and was topped with the whipped white of egg. It tasted even better than it looked and that was going some. The foundation for the delightful beverage was Armour's grape juice, and with eggs and cream added was a truly appetising drink.

Then Mrs. Haffner-Ginger mixed a Russian tea julip and like all drinks of a similar name was very refreshing and will certainly be popular during the warm summer weather, as will be another Russian drink called Siberian mixture, which she showed the class how to make.

Then The Times cook lady brewed a marvelous concoction called reception punch, and it certainly had a punch of sufficient importance to "get over," as the picture people say. It was made of all sorts of fruits, cherries, oranges, bits of pineapple, raspberries all in a foundation of the Armour grape juice. It was decorated in a very interesting manner. Of course the fruits made the punch attractive with their mixture of bright colors floating in the rich amber liquid, but as an added feature Mrs. Haffner-Ginger arranged a little cup out of the top of the pineapple and filled this little green-leaved boat with big red raspberries. This little float with its bright-colored load of berries was a distinct novelty and perhaps made each member of the class enjoy her glass of punch more than she ordinarily would. However, regardless of the reason, the punch lesson was a decided success and the members of the class hope to have another some day soon.

Bright.

TOTS REVEL AT BEACH AS GUESTS OF "TIMES."

ONE of the big Times auto trucks carried a real riotous joy-ride party yesterday, there being present all the elements of such an affair with this exception—that all the forty-five participants were of tender years. Everybody wore his or her best bib and tucker, as is usual on such trips, and pink and red ribbon bows and bright-colored necktles were much in evidence. Each and every small boy or girl sang and shouted to his or her heart's content—another similarity to regular joy rides—and last, but not least, there was popcorn for all.

The larger girls and the smaller foreign children from the Castelar school were taken on yesterday's outing to Venice and those who had never visited this attractive beach city had been given a vivid account of the experiences of the class the day before, so were waiting in round-eyed anticipation for the glories of the beach. All the attractions worth while were taken in. The miniature replica of the Panama Canal was doubly interesting, as the older girls had spent considerable time last winter studying this interesting section of the world.

"The girls couldn't have seen anything that pleased them more," said Miss Mary Feenan, one of the teachers who accompanied the children. "It was next to seeing the real canal, and the tiny wireless station created quite a sensation among the girls."

Miss Feenan's class is what is known as an ungraded one, and many of the girls are placed in her charge by the probation officers. The interest she has aroused in the minds of the girls for wholesome things is wonderful. The half-grown girls crowded eagerly about the big glass tanks in the aquarium, while the manager explained to them the way giant star fish feed, and they noted with pleasure the great octopus as it clung to the glass sides of its watery cage.

Then came a visit to watch the six big sea elephants feed. Their owner, Charles E. Davis, who is responsible for the law which at least partially protects the big, ungainly sea elephants as well as the seal, explained to the children how he had taught the blundering animals to answer to their names, to play tag and various things, by simply being kind to them.

"O, teacher, I wish my baby could see them big fishes," whispered one little girl, her big, black eyes shining with excitement, and the teacher, knowing that the little tot referred to her younger brother, nodded an assent and replied that next year she could probably bring along "her baby."

There were children of almost every nationality in The Times party yesterday—boys whose straight, black hair and swarthy skins bespoke their Latin origin; small Japanese, Mexicans and negroes, each dressed in his Sunday best.

"Just five weeks in America," whispered one of the teachers, indicating two tiny girls, dressed in long black silk coats whose glossy folds showed a foreign cut, and whose small heads were tightly bound with shiny black braids of hair. Huge gold ear rings dangled from diminutive ears and each little girl was as proud and happy as though she owned the world and to her as to all the others the outing was a splendid big treat and one long to be remembered.

ANOTHER HITCH IN NATURAL GAS-RATE QUESTION.

Manufacturers Petition for Sliding Scale but City Attorney Questions Legality of Such Action and Hearing Is Postponed Until Monday. Harbor City Asks One Flat Rate.

The new proposition in the hearing on gas rates for the next fiscal year—that of providing a sliding scale for natural gas, so that the excess over that required for domestic use could be sold at a lower rate for use by industrial concerns—was given a temporary backset, if not definitely shelved, by developments at yesterday's hearing before the Council.

City Attorney Stephens informed the Council that he had grave doubts as to its legal right to change the method of fixing the rate as prescribed in the ordinance directing the Board of Public Utilities to fix a rate for natural gas and a rate for manufactured gas.

Stephens stated, however, that this question is a new one; that his opinion was merely offhand, and he would require further time before giving a definite ruling. He will present his final opinion to the Council on Monday morning, when the gas hearing will be continued.

Practically all the evidence for the gas companies was submitted yesterday, and several other protestants were heard. Clyde C. Johnston, representing the gas consumers of San Pedro, urged that the Council fix a rate of not more than 80 cents per 1000 cubic feet for both natural and manufactured gas in the harbor district. He offered, on behalf of the San Pedro gas consumers, to pay the cost to the city in case such a rate were fixed and the gas companies took it into the courts.

The proposed sliding scale is one that has been given but limited consideration by the Council, but it appeared to appeal to various members as being of advantage to the city and to the gas companies. The schedule as submitted by T. C. Lowe, on behalf of the gas concerns, provides for a rate of 70 cents per 1000 cubic feet on the first 5000 feet; second 5000 feet, 65 cents; third 5000 feet, 60 cents; fourth 5000 feet, 55 cents; 65,000 feet, 50 cents; 150,000 feet, 45 cents; 250,000 feet, 35 cents; 600,000 feet, 30 cents; over 1,500,000 feet, 25 cents; minimum monthly bill to be 75 cents. These rates are based on the sliding scale used in Ft. Worth, Tex., where conditions are similar to Los Angeles.

Lowe stated that his own company, the Economic Gas Company, preferred the sliding scale, but that if the Council preferred not to adopt it he asked that it make only a maximum rate for natural gas used by industrial concerns.

A feature of yesterday's proceedings was the introduction of petitions from about 100 industrial concerns of this city, asking the Council to adopt a sliding scale for natural gas for industries.

RIGHT BACK AGAIN.

In the suit brought by W. G. Cohen against George C. Melrose, Justice of the Peace of Burbank township, for a writ of certiorari to obtain an annulment of judgment given by Melrose, on the ground that he had exceeded his jurisdiction, the Supreme Court has returned the matter to the Superior Court of Los Angeles county. The court says, in answer to the statement that the Superior Court had refused to take cognizance of the matter that the lower court can be compelled to. In the action brought by Harry H. Moody and Claire Moody against the Southern Pacific Company, to recover damages for personal injuries, the Supreme Court has reversed the judgment of the Superior Court that dismissed the case. The prayer of the petition was for a judgment of $10,000.

BURGLARS IN JOHNSTON HOME.

Albert Sidney Johnston III, a grandson of the late Gen. A. S. Johnston, reported to the police last night that his home, No. 2911 North Broadway, had been entered by burglars some time between May 29 and May 31, and jewelry valued at more than $100 stolen. Among the articles taken was a gold hunting case watch with the initials "J.B.J." and a heavy dragon stickpin.

Military Drama to Be Given to Raise Funds for Delegation to the Grand Council.

The members of Los Angeles council No. 473, Y.M.I., are preparing to send a big delegation of Los Angeles boosters to the next grand council of the organization, which will be held at Santa Rosa during the week of August 16, 1914.

The council's drill team and band will lead the delegation and will also compete in the prize drill which will take place on the opening day of the Grand Council. In this prize drill the local organization will defend the honors it captured at the Grand Council held at San Jose in July of last year, at which time it took first place and was awarded the State championship.

In order to raise funds to defray the expenses of the coming trip an entertainment and dance will be given at Gamut Club auditorium, No. 1044 South Hope street, Friday evening, June 19. On this occasion the Y.M.I. Dramatic Club will give a production of the "Prisoner of Andersonville," a military drama in four acts.

BRIDE MOTHER MOURNING SON.

Duke Auto Party Bringing Back Boy's Body.

Funeral in Pasadena to Be Held Tomorrow.

Too Many Echoes Resound in Schoolhouses.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, June 5.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank May, No. 801 Winona avenue, to which a bride and groom had just returned from their honeymoon, has been turned into a house of mourning. The body of Woodward W. Duke, son of Mrs. May, who was formerly the wife of Brodie Duke, the tobacco king, is being brought back to Pasadena from Salt Lake City, near where he was killed in an automobile accident Wednesday, and the funeral will be held at the May residence at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Rev. Robert Freeman, pastor of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church, will officiate and Rev. Hugh K. Walker, who was an intimate friend of the young man, will also speak. Interment will be made in Mountain View Cemetery.

Those who accompanied young Duke on the trip are returning with his body and the journey across the continent that had been planned by them will be given up. Duke had been sending bulletins to his mother as he proceeded eastward, apprising her of his exact location and the speed he was making, and when a telegram came with the signature of one of his companions, telling her that he had been killed, she was nearly prostrated.

The young automobilist had won a wide reputation as an amateur racer. He had already crossed the continent and possessed three large cars with which he was a familiar figure in Pasadena. He had planned on returning from the present journey to give up his desire for automobiling and become a civil engineer.

The party is due in Pasadena with the body at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon.

TO FIX AUDITORIUM.

The Board of Education is confronted with a peculiar question, namely: When a contractor builds an auditorium can he be held responsible for its acoustic properties?

The auditorium at the Polytechnic High School, which was opened last fall, is the pride of the city. It is the largest room of the kind in the city, and has a wide use aside from that of the pupils and teachers at the school. But it has been a great disappointment to the Board of Education. It is almost impossible in some parts of the hall to hear what is said on the stage and several important meetings have been almost spoiled by the echoes.

The school board has determined to remedy the fault this summer if possible; but whether the contractor can be held responsible for the work, or whether the board will have to do it itself, at an outlay of about $3000, is a question that has not yet been decided.

INCREASES HER GIFT.

Mrs. E. W. Brooks, who a short time ago presented the City Commission with $3000 with which to construct a municipal plunge at Arroyo Springs Park, yesterday added to the donation $2000 more, that the plunge now under course of construction may be completed in a manner that will be in keeping with the handsome park, which the city hopes to make there on the bank of the arroyo.

The plunge itself is now practically done, though the concrete has not as yet hardened sufficiently to permit the water being turned in. The establishment, when complete, will include dressing-rooms, both for men and women, along the sides of the plunge.

POOLROOMS GO BY RECOUNT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, June 4.—Mrs. Clara B. Sheldon and the local W. C. T. U. won a victory over the poolroom proprietors of the city tonight when a recount of the ballots cast at the April election showed that the proposition to license their business lost by seventeen votes.

The original count favored the poolrooms by ten votes. The ballots of precincts Nos. 1 and 5 were the only ones contested. The poolroom men intimate tonight that the fight is not yet over and that the vote in precinct No. 3, which went heavily against them, may be contested on the ground that the polling place was not stationed where advertised.

MOTOR BUSES TO THE BEACH.

PASADENA TO THE SEA PLAN OF NEW COMPANY JULY FIRST.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, June 5.—The project to establish a line of auto omnibuses between Pasadena and Los Angeles, which was discussed before the City Commission last fall, but of which nothing came, is now again under discussion and the Pacific Motor Coach Company, of which Thomas L. Drake is president, and R. E. Munn, secretary, has announced that it will begin such a service soon after July 1. The plan of the company, the officers declare, is not only to operate the automobiles between Pasadena and Los Angeles, but between Los Angeles and the beach cities as well. They say that 105 double-deck motor coaches have been ordered, and will soon be on hand.

Some time ago the company obtained a franchise to operate on North Fair Oaks avenue, but as the money that was to be paid to the city was not forthcoming the franchise was declared forfeited. The City Commissioners are now considering under what arrangements the automobiles shall be operated and it is proposed by City Commissioner Salisbury that each automobile shall be licensed, at a fee of $50 a year.

MINISTERS PICNIC.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDONDO BEACH, June 4.—The Congregational Ministers' Union held their anniversary picnic here today and were represented by about sixty pastors of the churches of Los Angeles and vicinity and their wives and friends. Rev. W. P. Hardy, pastor of the local church, assisted by a few of the members, met the guests upon their arrival and welcomed them to our city. The morning was given to plunge and surf bathing and fishing and a number of fine catches of fish were taken back to Los Angeles. At noon the party was invited to the Congregational Church where an elegant dinner, prepared by the ladies of the church, was served in the banquet hall. During the dinner a number of toasts and speeches were made and responded to, apropos of the occasion. At 2 p.m. they were taken around the town in autos, and shown the different points of interest, guests of the Chamber of Commerce. Later they were guests at the moving picture show, lightning racer and Merry-go-round.

WANDERING WAN WINS WAY TO WONDERLAND.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SUNLAND, June 4.—The musical fantasy, "Wan o' the Wood," will be staged by the children of Egan's Dramatic School in the wooded dells of Sunland in Monte Vista Valley tomorrow at 8 p.m.

The play has been running for several weeks at the Little Theater in Los Angeles, and was reproduced out-of-doors in Los Angeles at the Fred Hooker Jones gardens.

In fancy one may see the happy nymphs, the fairies, the bears and all the other wood folk as they dance in the moonlight and flit about in playful pranks.

Under the century-old live oaks, with leafy drapery falling from their long, old arms, Wan, Tiona, and Minno will capture the hearts of wide-eyed children, and grown-ups.

The idea of transferring the play from the Little Theater to the park came from Dr. Sharpe, principal of the Monte Vista grammer school, and a ready response from others made it possible to carry out the thought.

Hay and truck rides from the near-by districts and towns are being planned and interested persons from the city are expected to auto out by moonlight to this unique entertainment. They will go by San Fernando road as far as Roscoe and follow the auto club signs to the little mountain valley.

CLARICE STAYS IN JAIL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, June 4.—With a care-free air of self possession, "Clarice the Blonde," or Marie Ella Allen, this morning faced Judge G. Edwin Brown in the Police Court on the charge of trying to extort $1000 from Earl R. Nash, a wealthy young man of this city. The young woman stoutly asserted her innocence and declared that she would soon be cleared and set free. June 10 was the date set for the preliminary examination, and not being able to place the sum of $3000 in the hands of police as bail, "Clarice" is residing in the City Jail, under the care of the police matron.

LUCKY STARS SAVE A LIFE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, June 4.—Immigration Inspector F. M. McMahan thanks his lucky stars that he is a good jumper. By a long leap from his auto he escaped being entangled in its wreck when it was struck by a Southern Pacific freight engine today.

McMahan had been through a Santa Fe train looking for contraband Chinese and was returning home when he was stopped by the gates at the Southern Pacific crossing. When the gates were raised he supposed the tracks were clear. They were not, and a freight train badly smashed his machine. His wife and children had intended going to the train, but were delayed.

Investigates Valley's Irrigation Canals and Calls Out Officials to Talk It Over—Ranch Barn Burns. Calexico's Trustees Call Election to Recall One of Them.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CALEXICO, June 4.—Sir William Willcocks, noted English engineer and irrigation expert, explained today to fourteen irrigation officials of the valley that his mission in coming to Imperial Valley is to investigate conditions with respect to the protection of this section and the Yuma Valley from the depredations of the Colorado River.

Sir William made a trip over the American irrigation canals today, having come here following an invitation from the Calexico Farmers' and Merchants' Club. As special consulting engineer for the Department of the Interior he requested all irrigation officials to meet him at Calexico this evening, and there he plied question after question regarding the irrigation system which supplies this section with water. He built the Assuan dam in Egypt under much the same conditions as exist in Imperial Valley and thus reclaimed acreages much greater than here.

Sir William, who might be called the second Adam, as in his hands has been placed the project of reclaiming the ostensible garden of Eden in Mesopotamia, arrived in Calexico over the Inter-California from Yuma last night. He was taken in charge by the local Commercial Club. He is accompanied by William A. Ryan of the Reclamation Service, and Government Engineers Murphy and Hannan.

The party left for Los Angeles tonight after making a trip over the valley and conferring with officials of the various irrigation companies.

STOCK-BARN FIRE.

Fire, which broke out last night in the big hay and stock barn of the Fuller Brothers' ranch, three miles northeast of here, caused a damage estimated at about $18,000. The barn, 100 tons of hay, a general merchandise store and a number of farm mules were burned.

Sixty-one head of mules were in the barn at the time and the sixty men employed on the ranch made heroic efforts to drive the animals from the burning building. Many of the mules escaped, five were burned and the bodies of some were found in the ruins today. A Mexican employed on the ranch was severely burned in saving the mules. The ranch comprises over 4000 acres. The property was partly insured.

TO RECALL TRUSTEE.

The Board of Trustees last night issued a call for the recall election of Trustee Springer Emerson. The election will be held in response to a petition presented to the board in which it is alleged that Emerson failed to carry out the wishes of the voters when he voted to retain R. L. Glasby as City Recorder. Glasby is a former minister here and considerable opposition to him has arisen.

LIEUTENANT QUITS POLICE TO SAVE IGNOMINY OF "UNFAIR" TRIAL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, June 4.—Protesting in his letter to the Police Commission that the procedure of the Mayor and Commission was unfair, and that he was not willing to sacrifice his future on the altar of hate and prejudice, S. W. Adair, former police lieutenant, handed his resignation as member of the police force to Secretary Wallace today. Detective Cervantes is the only one of the quintette against whom the Mayor filed charges who has not resigned. He says he will fight. The commission will fix Cervantes's hearing tomorrow.

Mayor Whealton today denied that he will soon take steps to remove Director E. H. Willey of the municipal band, and install instead an Italian band, as rumored yesterday in administration circles. Yet it remains that some of his closest advisers are admirers of the Italian brand of music, and it is still persistently rumored that Willey will be the next departmental head to go.

LAUNDRY WAR.

More than one hundred proprietors of hotels, apartment and rooming-houses, announcing that the local laundries charge prices which are exorbitant, have entered into a contract with E. E. Condet, No. 411 E. roadway, for the erection of a $75,000 laundry plant. Condet is to meet the Long Beach prices, and give the apartment-house and hotel people a cut of 25 per cent. Condet agrees not to sell out to the other laundries in Long Beach, and not to join the county association.

Woman Accounted Demented Prior to Tragedy.

Coroner's Jury Says Suicide Accounts for Act.

Long Beach Physician Holds Confidence of Public.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, June 4.—Dr. Walter B. Hill was released by the police and exonerated from all blame for the triple tragedy in the Raab home last night when Mrs. Raab killed her two children and herself. A Coroner's jury rendered a simple verdict of suicide. The three bodies will be laid in one casket at the burial Saturday morning. An autopsy showed that the suspicions of the husband and the written statement of the partially demented mother regarding an expected babe were well-founded.

Physicians and members of the Methodist Episcopal Church board passed resolutions of full confidence in the innocence of Dr. Hill, who was charged by Mrs. Raab and her husband as being the author of her trouble. Attorney George M. Spicer, retained by Dr. Hill as counsel, condemned the arrest and detention of Dr. Hill as unwarranted.

Dr. Hill made a statement declaring his innocence of any wrong-doing in his relations with the dead woman. He said that Mrs. Raab had been to visit him to be treated for female trouble six or seven times and seemed to be suffering from extreme nervousness.

After spending the night in jail, Dr. Hill was released upon representations being made by C. J. Walker, banker, and members of the Physicians' Club of Long Beach. His wife, who is a partial invalid, is nearly prostrated. Dr. Hill will remain in Long Beach.

At the inquest held this afternoon at the Mottell morgue, R. C. Hoy, No. 1290 Redondo avenue; Attorney Roland Swaffield, and Fred Raab, the husband, testified. Hoy told of the finding of the bodies. Attorney Swaffield confirmed the statements of Raab that the upholsterer called on him in the interests of his wife, naming Dr. Hill.

Raab testified as to his wife's condition and confession. He stated that she contradicted herself regarding the parentage of her unborn babe, at times attributing it to himself. He thought she was at least partially demented. The Coroner, after the jury had rendered a verdict that Mrs. Raab had come to her death by suicide, stated that as far as he was concerned, the case is finished.

FEARFUL YOUTH HAS MET DEATH.

RELATIVES SEEK MISSING LAD WHOSE AUTO WAS FOUND IN A DITCH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, June 4.—The relatives and friends of Alfred Thomas, son of Gustav Thomas of Arlington, are more alarmed over the mysterious disappearance of the boy than a week ago, when his automobile was found in a ditch near Highgrove, together with a grewsome note. "In case of death," read the missive, "notify Dr. Wood of Arlington."

F. H. Schlador of Los Angeles, a brother-in-law of the missing youth, who has been working on the case, is in the city, and states that he has been unable to secure any trace of his whereabouts.

Asst. Dist.-Atty. W. J. Dushmeyer of San Jose was here today in conference with Dist.-Atty. Lyman Evans over the case of George Volpe, an Italian, who a number of years ago swindled John Ferraro of Arlington out of $4000.

For his part in this crime, Louis Gorio is now serving a sentence of ten years in San Quentin. Volpe was his accomplice, and a few weeks ago was met at the prison gate, after completing a sentence for another crime, and brought here for trial for flim-flamming Ferraro. He is also wanted in San Jose.

There was lively bidding for the $25,000 issue of bonds of the Banning Union High School district this morning, when bids from a dozen bond houses were opened by the Board of Supervisors. The amount of premium offered ranged from $106 to $792.50, the latter figure being offered by Halsey & Co. of San Francisco. The next highest bid was that of Torrance, Marshall & Co. of Los Angeles, at $610.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION.

University of California Students Will Visit Southern California and Study Citrus Fruit Area.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, June 3.—Students specializing in the citrus fruit industry at the University of California will spend the summer traveling in the citrus fruit area of Southern California under the direction of Prof. J. Eliot Coit and I. J. Condit.

They will study the orange and lemon groves of the south, the methods of growing, irrigating, fumigation and all things pertaining to the successful growth of citrus fruits. In the course of this journey, citrus orchards of Southern California, and the representative ones in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys will be visited. In all, they will travel nearly 1200 miles.

A soil-examining journey, in which a party of students from the four-year course in the college of agriculture, is to spend six weeks, will start also from the University of California. These students will examine and map all the soils in the district of Merced, Stockton, Sacramento, Marysville, Oroville, Chico, Red Bluff, Corning and Willows. Reports will be made concerning the characteristics of the soil and the conditions of farming operations.

Some thirty other students will journey about the State in the summer course in pomology. This party will come into contact with all of the leading phases of the industry, visiting representative ranches and typical orchard sections, canneries, nurseries, packing-houses, spraying-machine material factories and other institutions intimately connected with the business of fruit growing.

JUDGE STEPS OUT OF TRIAL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA BARBARA, June 4.—Judge Willis of the Los Angeles Superior Court will come to Santa Barbara next Tuesday to hear the Phillips case on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of Neva Benedict, aged 17. Horace A. Appel, of Los Angeles, this afternoon made a motion before Judge S. E. Crow for a change of judges. Judge Crow announced that he had already received the consent of Judge Willis to sit.

Judge Crow presided at the first trial and a few days ago denied the motion of Dist. Atty. Squier to dismiss the case. In his ruling Judge Crow suggested with the District Attorney as to the likelihood of convicting Phillips.

Skillfully Induces Her to Tell Without Incriminating Him—Insigns on Sweetheart's Insurance May Have Induced Compaint. Pioneer Hurries East.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, June 4.—Steele, alleged double murderer, is his own attorney in his preliminary hearing today, at which time he pleaded not guilty to a charge of slaying George Smith and Roy Talbert, his tentmates, with a hammer and a hatchet, and was held to answer by the Justice Court without bonds.

Annie Lewis, aged 26, the young woman who betrayed him to the San Luis Obispo officers following his alleged confession of the crime to her, was in court. Steele questioned her on the stand and none of her admissions under his skillful questioning elicited any incriminating evidence.

Steele steadfastly maintains innocence of the crime to the officers, but to the woman he is declared to have said that he killed the two men on May 8 in self-defense. He is said to have told the Lewis woman that he entered the tent, was attacked by the two men, wrested the guns and weapons away from both, and killed them to prevent losing his own life.

Mrs. Lewis recently received letters from her husband's life insurance, and the officers believe that Steele had designs on the coin. Detective Goodcell had her recite on the stand just what the alleged murderer had told her. Steele went by the name of Millard Stevens when he lived in Los Angeles, but he was registered as Millard Keenan.

GIRL MAY DIE.

A possible murder charge hangs over Sam Wiley, a negro with a police record, as a result of an attack upon his sweetheart on the Warm-springs bridge at Rialto avenue and D street. The girl, Bernice Mitchell, aged 18, is at the County Hospital and may die from the injuries she received while resisting Wiley's attempt to throw her into the river.

Wiley was arrested after a two days' search by the police at Base and Waterman avenue, where he was in hiding under a bed on the ground floor of a two-story house. It is said that the negro became furious when the girl repeatedly refused to marry him.

LONG SEPARATION.

When Robert Poppett, well-known San Bernardino county pioneer, boarded the California Limited train of the Santa Fe today it was with a broad smile on his face. He was leaving for a visit with a sister in Ruford, Ontario, whom he had supposed dead for the past seventeen years. Recently a daughter of the sister wrote to the Poppett family and in this way it was established that both brother and sister were alive. They had ceased writing years ago and each supposed the other dead. There will be a glad reunion in a few days after a separation of thirty years.

UNINJURED BY FALL.

Ralph Cook, driving a big truck for the A. M. Grocery, this afternoon plunged through the bridge on Seventh street between Arrowhead avenue and D street, fell 25 feet to the creek and was uninjured. Something became radically wrong with the steering apparatus and the machine, striking soft earth on the edge of the embankment, went through the railing and toppled over. The fact that Cook was thrown to the muddy creek bottom probably saved his life.

MRS. BARRETT IS MRS. SAVAGE.

ALSO MRS. SAVAGE IS MRS. BARRETT, ACCORDING TO OFFICIAL RETURNS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN MATEO (Cal.) June 4.—Mrs. John F. Barrett and Mrs. Robert D. Savage, sisters, married at a double wedding in January, returned from their honeymoon trips today and learned that according to the County Clerk's records Mrs. Barrett's legal name was Mrs. Robert D. Savage and Mrs. Savage's legal name was Mrs. John F. Barrett.

The marriage licenses were confused at the time of the wedding and technically the two girls, who are the daughters of Supervisor James T. Casey, were married to the wrong men.

There is said to be a possibility that the two couples will have to be married all over again, but the County Clerk has expressed an opinion that the tangle can be straightened out by a transfer of the names on the licenses.

All Branches of Commerce Will Reap Benefit.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 4.—Half a billion dollars is the preliminary estimate of the amount of money that will be paid to producers of this year's crops. The estimates are made by experts, bankers, buyers and commission men.

A total of $474,000,000 in what Secretary Lane calls primary prices, will be realized from the principal products of California. This does not include the gain will be made in preparing many of the products for the market.

Larger and smaller products will add the total to the half billion dollars.

Here is where the money is coming from:

Grain—Barley, $20,000,000; all others, $11,000,000.

Fruit—Canned, $12,500,000; dried, $5,500,000; green, $18,000,000; citrus, $15,000,000; canteloupes, etc., $1,500,000.

Dairy products—Butter, $12,000,000; cheese, $1,000,000; condensed milk, etc., $1,000,000; market milk, $12,000,000; calves produced in dairies $3,500,000; skim milk and buttermilk, $1,500,000.

Poultry products—Eggs, $15,000,000; poultry, $2,000,000.

Vegetables — Canned, $6,000,000; beans, $11,000,000; potatoes, sugar beets, onions, etc., and others, $25,000,000.

Other products—Olives and oil, $1,500,000; wine and brandy, $20,000,000; cattle, hogs and sheep, $25,000,000; horses, $4,000,000; cotton, $4,500,000; honey, $4,000,000; wool, $2,000,000; hay and forage, $50,000,000; lumber, $18,000,000; oil, $50,000,000; gold, $25,000,000; other mineral products, $5,000,000.

Total, $474,000,000.

BANK STATEMENTS.

These are the bank statements concerning crops and the money market:

"Business is better on the Pacific Coast than elsewhere in the United States. The crop situation gives reasonable assurance of a very active domestic trade."—The Anglo and London Paris National Bank.

"Everything will be satisfactory when the crops are fairly moving. There is no abnormal demand for money for moving the crop. California should have a prosperous year on account of the abundant yields of the forest and mines."—The Crocker National Bank.

"All of our commerce and every branch of business depends in the final analysis on the products of the soil and what comes out of the earth. We have splendid crops and prices in nearly all cases will be good. Why shouldn't we have a good year?"—I. W. Hellman, Jr., Wells Fargo Nevada National Bank.

CANADA BARS MARY JONES.

Dominion Officials Refuse to Allow Unionist "Disturbing Element" to Leave for Vancouver from Seattle.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SEATTLE, June 4.—Mary Jones, organizer of the United Mine Workers of America, was not permitted to board a Canadian Pacific steamer bound for Vancouver today, being stopped at the gang plank by a Canadian Pacific official. The United Mine Workers have filed a protest with Secretary of Labor Wilson, at Washington. She was halted at Seattle because Chief Campbell of the provisional police at Victoria decided that she would be a "disturbing element."

MARK DANIELS PROMOTED.

Landscape Engineer of the Yosemite Appointed General Superintendent of National Parks.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Secretary Lane today appointed Mark Daniels of San Francisco general superintendent of national parks. Daniels is a young civil and hydraulic engineer, who was appointed landscape engineer of Yosemite National Park two months ago by Secretary Lane. He is now in Washington.

Before establishing himself in business in San Francisco, Daniels was Assistant City Engineer of Potlach, Idaho. He has done considerable mining work in Plumas county, California, was chief engineer of the Monterey, Fresno and Eastern Railway and has established a considerable reputation as a town planner and sanitation expert.

REVISITS OLD HOME.

Ishi, Last of Mill Creek Indians, Weeps When With Professors in Former Haunts.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHICO (Cal.) June 4.—After more than two weeks in the wilds of the Deer Creek county with Ishi, last of the Mill Creek Indians, three professors of the Affiliated Colleges of San Francisco, Dr. A. L. Kroeber, Dr. Saxon T. Pope and Dr. Thomas Waterman, are returning home today.

Ishi led the party through a trackless wilderness to his old haunts. In one cave, the aborigine grew despondent, saying it was there he had spent most of his life and that his mother had died. He retired to a corner and cried, afterward explaining that he was lamenting the disappearance of his sister, whom he feared had been captured by white men.

This was Ishi's first intimation that another of the Mill Creek Indians might be alive. He said he had been the chief of his tribe, and that he should have protected his sister.

Ishi uncovered many caches of Indian implements and showed the scientists his wonderful skill with the bow and arrow. He is accompanying the white men back to San Francisco.

Alviso Postoffice Robbed.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—The safe in the postoffice at Alviso, in Santa Clara county, near San Jose, was dynamited last night. Miles Hollister, the postmaster, reported that money and stamps had been stolen, but the amounts were not given.

WINTER GALES SWEEP OREGON.

Blinding Snowstorm in Two Eastern Counties.

Farmers Say Added Moisture Will Benefit Crops.

Vessels at San Francisco Tied Up at Wharves.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTLAND (Or.) June 4.—Winter weather in varying degrees of severity, from cold rain to hail and snow, swept over the greaetr part of Oregon today.

The storm's worst manifestations were experienced in Umatilla and Union counties, Eastern Oregon, where a blinding snowstorm raged for two hours, finally turning to cold rain, accompanied by heavy winds. Little damage to crops by the storm was reported in these districts, and farmers generally considered that the added moisture would prove beneficial.

In Portland a violent hailstorm broke up the Portland-Sacramento baseball game in the second inning, and the crowd in attendance was kept marooned in the grandstand for half an hour following by the violence of the storm. Some damage to small fruits and flowers was caused by the hail. In the country about Medford, in Southern Oregon, hail cold rain and strong winds prevailed, following a fortnight of hot weather.

GALE HOLDS UP VESSELS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—A heavy gale blowing off Points Lobos and Reyes late today held up all northbound vessels. At 5 p.m. the wind was reported to be blowing eighty-four miles an hour from the southwest, kicking up a heavy sea. All ships scheduled to leave for the north remained tied up at their wharves.

Last night the steamer Falcon, northward bound, towing the bark Antiope, encountered a seventy-four mile gale, which gave it considerable difficulty. The Falcon with her charge finally put in at Drake's Bay after a four-hour fight with the head winds and lashing seas.

Hilliman, director of producing; R. J. Hanna, director of manufacturing; R. M. Storey, director of pipe lines; W. M. Hall, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer; A. S. Coriell, assistant secretary and transfer agent; S. G. Hanson, assistant secretary.

1/3 Less Cottolene is required than butter or lard

Prove this claim for yourself. Take any favorite recipe that calls for shortening. Use Cottolene instead of butter or lard, only take one-third less Cottolene. Just try it and see if you do not have equally as good if not better results, when using Cottolene.

Do this every time you cook and you will notice a difference in your grocery bills.

Foods made with Cottolene are more wholesome and digest more easily than those made with ordinary shortenings.

Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill's Opinion:

"For several years I have used Cottolene in my own kitchen and find it very satisfactory. I am glad to commend it."

Why not begin today the use of Cottolene? Every housewife will be interested in our valuable FREE Cook Book, HOME HELPS, compiled by Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln and four other cookery experts.

If ou Can't Afford to Get a Piano NOW

At These Low Prices and on These Easy Terms, the Chances Are, You'll Never Own One

PLAYER PIANOS TAKE FEARFUL DROP—We are now offering new "88-note" or "full scale" player pianos, the kind ordinarily sold for $550, at $235, with free bench and music rolls. The $600 kind, in Mahogany and Oak cases, at $285. We are now offering you the very highest grade 88-note players, ordinarily sold elsewhere for $700, for $320. We are making corresponding reductions on the very best of all, our "Player Pianos de Luxe," also on the famous Kimball Acmelodic and magnificent Decker player pianos. With every player piano we give a suitable player bench and music rolls, and on some of these we will be glad to arrange terms of payment as low as $2 per week. "Get that player piano now!"

MOST PROMINENT MAKES INCLUDED—A hurried trip through this big establishment devoted to musical instrument selling, the largest and most varied stock of everything musical on the Pacific Coast, will quickly convince even the most discriminating musician of the quality of the pianos now offered in this sale.

EASY TO PAY FOR ONE—Start with a payment of only $5; the rest is easy. Any instrument in this sale may be had on such terms of payment as any home can conveniently arrange. Our new and most liberal easy payment plan places a piano within reach of every child who ought to have a musical education. No home should be without a piano. Payments may be made semi-annually, or even on a one, two and three-year basis.

As stated heretofore, we had made every arrangement to close this store on June 1st, but could not quite make it. However, every day brings us nearer the end. Eilers Music House is to be entirely closed out. We are retiring from business. Want playable Piano for $35 or $45? We have them. Want home for $85? We have them. Many different makes on $4 monthly payment plan. Want really nice ones for only $105, or $125? These are really good ones. $5 a month buys them.

London Buying of Americans Helps Effect Improvement of Canadian Pacific and Other Issues. New Haven and Lehigh Valley Recover from Early Pressure.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 4.—Speculation suffered today from lack of stimulus and the stock market was a dull affair. Fluctuations were narrow and irregular, with only occasional sharp deviations from the previous level. Nevertheless, there was a good undertone and a degree of improvement eventually was achieved. During the early session the market was held back by weakness of New Haven and Lehigh Valley, which agains proved to be susceptible to pressure. They began to recover before noon, and the whole list picked up with them. Various specialties and seasonal dividend-paying issues, including Canadian Pacific, New York Central, Delaware and Hudson, Ont. Harveste and Beet Sugar were conspicuous in the rises. American shows made a good showing in London and foreign buying amounted to perhaps 10,000 shares. Bonds did not share fully in the improvement shown in stocks, as some issues exhibited reactionary tendencies. Total sales, $1,892,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

New York Curb Stocks.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 116 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, June 4.—Today's curb market was quiet. Mining issues were the most active, with Midway and Metzger in demand. Boston copper opened firm to strong. There was continuous small and slow trading during the forenoon, and fractional improvements were recorded in most of the coppers. Butte & Superior was the leader and on a very good volume of business rallied ¾ point and held well. United Shoe was a feature, advancing to nearly 61 on exceptionally good buying. This was owing to the rumor that the company will win suit in the Federal dissolution suit now being heard. After midday coppers became very dull but held firm. The afternoon market was somewhat more active. Coppers were firm and closed at opening prices. Oil stocks were irregular, the range being comparatively small. Standards of California and Pennsylvania, Indiana and New York, Prairie were leaders. Standard of New Jersey was in fair demand.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

Market Maintains Improvement in Activity—Slight Reactionary Price Tendency Apparent.

With the greater part of the trading in the "war" stocks, and Los Angeles investment, the market yesterday on the Stock Exchange continued to maintain the better volume of business which it has shown this week. There was a slight reactionary tendency in the low-priced issues, particularly toward the close. Midway Northern closed a loss of 3 points from the recent "high" of 20. National Pacific held at 4½, but was offered at that figure at the close, with the bid at 4 1-4. Maricopa Northern was softer in tone. There were quite a few odd-lot trades in Los Angeles Investment. It closed slightly easier. Union Oil was barely steady at $71, with an off-board trade in fifty shares at $70.75 reported. Union Provident and United Petroleum were soft. In tone Associated is still rather weak, and amalgamated firm. California Hills mining stock sold at 1½ cents. Consolidated Mines was easy.

TULARE PLANS GOOD HIGHWAY.

TWO MILLIONS TO BE SPENT ON IMPROVEMENTS.

The Association Formed to Map Out Road System and Call for Bond Election—Via Grapevine Canyon to the Sea from Imperial Valley. Other Projects.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TULARE, June 4.—The Tulare County Highway Association was organized by representatives of many progressive societies in the county. J. Sub Johnson of Visalia was selected as temporary president, C. F. Stewart of Exeter as vice-president, and W. R. Van Noy of Dinuba secretary-treasurer.

Petitions have been circulating in Tulare county for a week calling upon the Supervisors to appoint a highway commission to map out a system of roads in Tulare county, and estimate the cost of the same, preparatory to calling for a bond election. It is believed that bonds in the sum of nearly $1,000,000 will be required to build such a road as planned. Less than six hundred signatures will be required to make action on the part of the Supervisors mandatory.

It is learned today that about one half the signatures have already been secured by volunteers in the several districts of the county. The petitions will be presented to the Supervisors on Wednesday, when permanent officers of the Highway Association will be selected.

GRAPEVINE CANYON ROAD.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BRAWLEY, June 4.—Work on the Coffee Ranch road through the Grapevine canyon and down across the mesa to the Imperial county line is to begin at once, and the survey will be finished by the middle of August. Diego county will make

HIGHWAY WORK.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

[illegible], June 4.—Arrangements [illegible] being made by the Los Angeles [illegible] auxiliary to the Ocean-to-Ocean [illegible] Association to continue the [illegible] on the Mecca road between San [illegible] Creek and the Riverside county [illegible] Supervisor Frank Beal, in conjunction with John S. Mitchell, president of the auxiliary, and Frank Wiggins of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, have formulated a plan [illegible] the work of a permanent [illegible] may be continued.

BUSINESS INCREASES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

EL CENTRO, June 4.—The month [illegible] shows an increase in business [illegible] Centro of 40 per cent., while [illegible] first five months of the present [illegible] work in business an increase [illegible] per cent. over the same period [illegible] that city. A like increase [illegible] is shown by every other city [illegible] valley if the records were tabulated.

NEW TILE FACTORY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA PATRIA, June 4.— A hollow-tile factory is being erected in Calipatria. The machinery is now being installed and it will only be a few weeks until the factory will be turning out its product. The tile are to be used especially for the climatic conditions of the valley.

TURNBULL ROAD.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, June 4.—A receipt [illegible] inspection of the new Turnbull canyon road by directors of the Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade shows splendid improvement in the work. The road is completed nearly to the summit on the north side of the hills, and men have been started to work on the south grade to prepare for the [illegible] and scrapers. The road will be opened for traffic by the autumn and a celebration over the event will be suitably observed. The celebration will probably include a basket barbecue at the summit, the point which is noted for its commanding view of mountain, valley, [illegible] and sea. It was from [illegible] that Jonathan Bailey, one [illegible] pioneers, used to say, "I [illegible] from here more good land [illegible] could from Mt. Pisgah."

[illegible] INCORPORATION.

[illegible]TERVILLE, June 4.—Articles [illegible] incorporation have been filed by the [illegible] Ranch Company, a syndicate [illegible] capitalists, headed by E. [illegible], a mining man of the [illegible] Thomas H. Cline, a San Francisco man, and others. Of [illegible] total stock of the company [illegible] has been subscribed. A large [illegible] land has been acquired by the [illegible] in the Deer Creek district. It is the purpose of the company immediately develop 100 acres [illegible] to oranges and olives.

[illegible]RADE CONTRACTS.

[illegible]NTRO, June 4.—Until the [illegible] between the California [illegible] Company and the Imperial [illegible] is settled, at least, it [illegible] from all indications that the [illegible] water contracts are to be [illegible] as a permanent water supply [illegible] the department and claims are [illegible] subject to proof. The East[illegible] Company now receives its [illegible] of water direct from [illegible] independent of the C. D. [illegible] in every way, and last week [illegible] made final proof on a [illegible] deeded by this company.

[illegible] Creatures of Borneo.

[illegible] Bornean Herald:] In Borneo [illegible] creatures are encountered [illegible] would least expect them. [illegible] the size of herrings are [illegible] all the waters, and there is [illegible] fish, the well-known fruit-[illegible] which the Malays call [illegible]. They may be seen almost [illegible] winging their steady flight [illegible] a great elevation well out of [illegible] a shotgun. The flying squir-[illegible] coming twilight comes, is al-[illegible]. They glide down from one [illegible] to the base of another, up [illegible] scramble to the level they [illegible]. Wide expansions of [illegible] from the fore and hind limbs [illegible] parachute fashion and sustain [illegible] in their glide. They are of [illegible] but are quite harmless. [illegible] lizard is seen in the heat [illegible] in the jungle gliding down [illegible] is much the same man-[illegible] squirrel. But he is much [illegible] and it requires a quick eye to [illegible]. The natives kill him with [illegible] shot from their blowpipes.

POOR BROKER, GOOD JUDGE.

DISASTER DROVE SIR RUFUS ISAACS TO THE BAR.

Has Now Been Made Lord Chief Justice After a Distinguished Success as a Barrister and a Member of the House of Commons, Where He Was Formidable in Debate.

[Washington Star:] Sir Rufus Isaacs, the new Lord Chief Justice of England, is a surprising man. To start one's career by making a sad hash of failure as Lord Chief Justice of England—every generation a few people achieve careers as remarkable, and there is nothing out of the way in a man's becoming a Lord Chief Justice if his inclinations are of that kind. But of those who rise to eminence few have pursued an incalculable a path. Less than a year ago there was a quite considerable demand for his expulsion from public life; today he sits supreme over British judges.

Sir Rufus's early experiences on things on the stock exchange, and to the stock exchange, before he embraced the more lucrative profession of politics and the bar, were entirely to his credit as a man, if unflattering to his abilities as a stock broker. He might have taken that first essay as proof that he was never meant for success as a financier and so avoided his recent misfortunes. His original inclination was to become a sailor, and once, I believe, he was on the point of running away to sea in quite the grand manner of romance. But wiser counsels prevailed, and he went by way of the stock exchange to the bar. I well remember him as a practicing barrister. There was something birdlike about his aspect in wig and gown, an agile alertness, a swift, clear keenness that made him stand out from the row of barristers in court like a bold pen drawing against a background of gray wash. Commerce was his specialty. Vanity Fair once cartooned him in the typical attitude of a draper's assistant, with a pile of linen bundles on the counter in front of him.

GREAT AS CROSS-EXAMINER.

Unmoved patience, an astonishing grasp of detail and great ingenuity in cross-examination were his assets at the bar. His formidable rival, Sir Edward Carson, succeeds by crushing the opposition witnesses and by the vigor of his speeches to the jury. The method of Sir Rufus was more suave. His appeal was always to the intelligence of the jury rather than to its emotions. He accumulated a great number of very small points, and combined them in a telling total.

I remember an important commercial case in which he was engaged, as usual, against Sir Edward Carson. He had been cross-examining an obstinate witness for a day and a half. Much of that weary time he had been striving vainly to extract a certain point that he wanted very badly. He could not get it. He worked on and on, patient, polite, persistent; wearing the witness down, little by little. And at last, quite suddenly, out came the precise thing that he wanted.

His emotionless manner vanished like a wraith. For an instant another man looked out of his eyes. He laughed with a curious, giggling chuckle. He spoke, and there was, for the first and last time I have ever heard it in his voice, a distinct trace of the Jewish lisp. His face was alight with the exaltation of the hunter who has just brought down difficult game. Then the mask was on again, and he became once more the suave, emotionless, scientific barrister. But that had been a glimpse of the true man, pursuing his ends with intensity under a curtain of calm.

His parliamentary record is known. He got in for Reading in 1904. He achieved in rapid succession the positions of Solicitor-General and of Attorney-General, and in 1912 was promoted to the Cabinet—an honor very rarely bestowed on an Attorney-General. It may seem paradoxical to call a man with such a tally of political success a parliamentary failure, yet that is what Sir Rufus most distinctly is—or was. Sir John Simon, the Solicitor-General, his junior in years and positions, always carries much more weight. With one single exception, I have never heard Sir Rufus make a speech in the House (and I have heard him make many) which really impressed members.

HIS BIG SPEECH WENT WRONG.

As for the single exception, he and his colleagues were afterward at considerable pains to explain it, and certainly it would have been better for Sir Rufus and his party had that speech never been made—or, at all events, had it been made differently.

Everybody is weary of the affair Marconi, but it is impossible, in a review of the life of the man who is now Lord Chief Justice, to ignore it altogether. Sir Rufus Isaacs's speech a year ago, when he denied the stories of his dealings in the shares of the company that was contracting with the government, undoubtedly made a very deep impression on the House. After hearing it, I personally went away prepared to swear that he had never had any sort of dealings in any sort of Marconi shares.

Of course, he did not say that. Looking the speech up in Hansard, after the rest of the story came out, it was possible to see with what careful, lawyerlike precision he had not said it. But the unfortunate fact was, that while saying nothing that was not strictly true, he had left his hearers with the erroneous impression that he had bought no Marconi shares. And the wrath of members when the whole facts became public caused the Cabinet of which he was a member a great deal of anxiety.

It blew over. He and his colleague, the Chancellor, had acted "carelessly, heedlessly, mistakenly," as Mr. Lloyd George put it, but not criminally, and by passing no vote of censure the House accepted their explanation. While the transaction was innocent enough, whether it exhibited in Sir Rufus that clear-sighted, well-balanced judgment expected of a Lord Chief Justice is a matter for personal opinion.

Sir Rufus Isaacs is, as I have said, an unimpressive parliamentarian. He is always eminently reasonable, but his hearers get restive. He lacks that magnetism which compels attention from a hostile audience. It was he who figured as chief victim on that famous night of November last year when ministers were pelted with order papers, and the whole House was suspended in disorder. He was put up to still the rising clamor, but failed lamentably. That was not his fault. It is doubtful whether Mr. Asquith himself—the most dominating figure in the House—could have controlled that tumult.

OF DISTINGUISHED APPEARANCE

Though unimposing in style, Sir Rufus is distinguished in appearance. His fine, ascetic face has an almost classical beauty. Photographs do him no justice. It is the face of a fighter, a man not to be daunted, a man who would extract some sporting zest from the fight against even the bitterest adversity. He does not waste this advantage of appearance. He is well set up, a good athlete, who knows how to carry himself, and he was always one of the neatest dressed men in the House. His bodily constitution is as strong as his head. He knows how to keep himself in good, hard condition. Golf, tennis, cycling, riding and rowing are his recreations, and, as the washerwoman said of the gin, you can "tell it on him." He is that enviable sort of man who can work very hard and enjoy himself very keenly. He is 53 years old.

One can never dogmatize about a man's inner soul, but I think it is the sporting interest of the political fight that attracts him rather than the ends of statesmanship to be served. I have never been able to think of Sir Rufus as a man with theories and deep convictions about the methods of achieving well-being of the state. Rather he strikes me always as just a successful, adventurous man.

The new Attorney-General, Sir John Simon, on the other hand, is a politician first and a lawyer afterward. His legal career, it is true, has been remarkably successful. The son of a Congregational minister, he was born only forty years ago, and was educated at Fettes College and Oxford, being called to the bar in 1899, and taking silk nine years later. Elected to JParliament in 1906, as member for the Walthamstow division of Essex, he immediately made his mark in the House of Commons, and four and a half years he became Solicitor-General on the promotion of Sir Rufus Isaacs.

FORMIDABLE IN DEBATE.

With the single exception of Mr. Churchill, there is no more brilliantly gifted man among the younger members of the government. Singularly courteous in manner, with a soft, melodious voice, he is a formidable and dextrous debater, who invariably masters his case before he rises to speak, and never speaks without effect. To all the great controversies of recent years his contributions have been weighty, well informed and forceful.

Of the case for free trade in particular he is a matchless exponent, and as the protagonist of this cause he recently announced his intention of giving up a safe seat at Walthamstow at the general election to contest the Unionist position in northwest Manchester. Sir John Simon will go far in politics. Many shrewd judges regard him as a future Liberal Prime Minister. His admission to Mr. Asquith's cabinet is thoroughly justified, and he is certain to prove worthy of his promotion.

The government is hardly less fortunate in having at its command so able a lawyer as Sir Stanley Buckmaster for the post of Solicitor-General. He is twelve years older than Sir John Simon, and entered Parliament the same year as member for Cambridge, losing his seat, however, in January, 1910, and being elected for the Keighley division of Yorkshire in December of the same year. His speeches have been few, but always to the point, models of debating skill. As a lawyer he enjoys a high reputation, and his succession to the Solicitor-Generalship has been regarded as a foregone conclusion.

The Great Pyramid.

[London Tit-Bits:] The Great Pyramid originally occupied an area equal to 568,929,696 superficial feet, or almost thirteen and a half English acres, the side of the square being 767,424 feet. The original perpendicular height was 285 feet, and the total contents of solid masonry equal to 89,418,806 cubic feet, weighing 6,878,369 tons. Taking the masonry at only 1 shilling per cubic foot, an almost ridiculously low figure for materials, carriage and workmanship, the cost of the structure would be £4,470,940. The masonry of the Great Pyramid would be sufficient for the erection of 1129 columns, each twenty feet square, and of the height of the London monument, which is 202 feet. Again, if cut into paving stones four inches in thickness, they would cover a space equal to 6155 acres.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Liquidation was carried further today on a poor Liverpool showing and prospects for more favorable weather in distressed parts of belt. At the low levels of the early trading the market showed signs of being sold out and evidence of trade buying on a scale down was apparent. This caused a better feeling and some recovery in price.

HARBOR ITEMS.

The Japanese training squadron, composed of the armored cruisers Asama and Azuma, sailed for San Francisco today, after four days in port here. It is estimated that over 5000 people, mostly Japanese residents of Southern California, visited the cruisers during their stay in port. The festivities of the week began with a luncheon given Admiral Kuroi Tuesday by Y. Nunano, Japanese Consul-General at San Francisco, and closed with a reception on board the flagship Asama, given by the Admiral yesterday afternoon.

The steamer Speedwell returned from San Diego today and, after discharging balance of cargo, proceeded to Bandon, via San Francisco, to reload. Other movements of steam schooners in the lumber trade were the departure of the San Jacinto for Ventura with balance of cargo for the E. K. Wood Lumber Company, and the Jim Butler for Puget Sound in ballast.

The U.S.S. Chaguana will sail for Avalon tomorrow for a visit of several days. About June 15 she will convoy the submarines H-1, H-2, H-3 and F-1 to Mare Island. The H group will be overhauled and the F boat will join the others of her group and proceed to Honolulu, convoyed by the tender Alert.

The Luckenbach steamer Lewis Luckenbach called today, bound from San Francisco to Balboa and, after loading 350 tons additional cargo, proceeded.

The Union Oil Company tanker Olympia arrived today from San Diego in ballast to load a cargo of crude oil for Portland.

The steamer Congress arrived from San Diego this morning and proceeded to Puget Sound, via San Francisco, with a big list of passengers. The steamers Yale and Harvard were also included in the movements today. The Yale sailed for San Francisco and the Harvard, arriving, proceeded to San Diego.

DAY'S NEWS LOWERS PRICES OF ALL STAPLES.

Promise of Bumper Crops, Flattening Out the Black Rust Scare and Cables Send Wheat Down. Heavy Offering from Argentina Put Corn Market Under Pressure.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 4.—Extraordinary promise of a bumper crop in Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma had much to do today with causing speculators to turn to the bear side in wheat. The dread of a black rust scare fattened out, and cables were disappointing to the bulls. Closing prices were steady, but ⅝@⅞ to 1@1 1-8 under last night. Corn showed a net decline of 3-8 to ½@1, and oats of 3-8@⅝ to ½. In provisions the outcome varied from 2½ off to a like advance. Heavy and cheaper offerings from Argentina put the corn market under pressure. It was said, too that in the last week fully 1,050,000 bushels had been purchased to come from Argentina to the United States. Cash demand here showed a falling off. Oats declined with corn and wheat and by reason of good crop reports from nearly all sections except Southern and Central Illinois. Higher prices for hogs upset the provision market. Support from packers was in evidence whenever a decided sag occurred.

Local Grain Market.

Following is range of closings at Grain Exchange yesterday: Milling wheat, 1.37½@1.77½ cwt.; feed wheat, 1.02½; barley, 1.00; oats, 1.40; corn, 1.70@1.75; oats, chopped, 19.00 ton; bran, 28.50@31.50; middlings, 30.00. Reported receipts were as follows: wheat, 0; barley, 2; flour, 3.

The Public Service.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Harbor Commission is taking steps to secure an agreement with government officials for the use of land at Dead Man's Island, and a tract to be reclaimed by deposit of dredgings for use as a quarantine station. If satisfactory the city will provide for the bulkheading, and a large area will be raised to a level suitable for building purposes. Meanwhile a quarantine ship will be located at the harbor.

The official canvass of the ballots in the Palms annexation election was made by the City Council yesterday, showing that 342 of the 498 votes cast were in favor of the proposition.

The trial of the contest of the Tomeney will in the Probate Court yesterday brought out testimony of a sensational character, an alleged agreement to pay $5000 to the star witness to switch his testimony being the feature. Detectives alleged to have trailed the star witness will be heard today for their side of the story.

The will executed by Miss Florence E. Chase of Bangor, Me., in favor of her sister and set for probate in Judge Rives' Court yesterday went off calendar on motion of the executor of the Horace W. Chase estate for judgment on the pleadings sustaining the famous contest and rejecting Miss Chase's will.

At the City Hall.

QUARANTINE STATION PLANS.

SHIP "DISINFECTOR" WILL BE USED TEMPORARILY.

Harbor Commission Will Propose That City Bulkhead East of Dead Man's Island So That Government May Use Reclaimed Area for Erection of Permanent Buildings.

As the time draws near for the constant arrival of vessels from foreign waters at the Port of Los Angeles the question of providing for quarantine service and an immigration station becomes one of prominence. Especial attention to this feature is directed right now by the receipt of a letter from Dr. A. D. Brooks, senior surgeon of the public health and marine hospital service, asking that provision be made for an anchorage for the barge "Disinfector," in the outer harbor, near the breakwater. Dr. Brook notifies the Harbor Commission that this vessel will be a part of the quarantine outfit for this port. The port warden has been directed to designate an anchorage for this vessel, and it has been decided to locate it a short distance northwesterly from the lighthouse, inside the breakwater.

Until a regular quarantine station is provided this vessel will be used to carry quarantine supplies and give service to vessels arriving at this port that require fumigation, etc.

Meanwhile steps are to be taken to provide adequate space for the permanent government buildings for quarantine and immigration station purposes. The Harbor Commission will immediately take up with the government authorities the advisability of proceeding at once with plans for the use of land, including about a third of the easterly area of Dead Man's Island and land to be reclaimed easterly thereof. It is proposed that the city shall build the required bulkhead to extend from the short breakwater extending southerly from the island. It will run northeasterly to a point about opposite Fifteenth street, Terminal Island. Behind this the dredgings from the proposed widening of the mouth of the inner harbor from 400 feet, its present width, to 750 feet, will be deposited. Already two dredgers are depositing dredgings from the inner harbor in this area, no bulkhead so far having been required. The proposed bulkhead, however, will allow the entire area, about 2500 by 5000 feet, to be raised to a permanent level proper for construction of sewage and utilization as permanent building sites for the government structures.

A letter from Congressman Stephens to Secretary Matson of the Harbor Commission, just received, says:

"Friday and yesterday I had consultations with Surgeon-General Blue and his assistants, and find them, as before, most favorably inclined and ready to help in any way they can. Dr. Blue has promised me to include a recommendation for quarantine accommodations at San Pedro in his next annual report, which he is commencing to prepare. . . . It is not possible to get an appropriation for building a quarantine station at San Pedro before this session is ended, but it may pave the way to favorable consideration in the next session, which begins the first Monday in December."

HOLDS UP WARRANT.

MATHEWS'S MAY SALARY.

City Auditor Myers has held up the salary warrant of W. B. Mathews for $500 for May salary as special counsel of the Public Service Commission, pending a settlement of the controversy as to its regularity. He has asked the commission to submit to him its authority for approving this salary account.

This is expected to bring the investigation to a head. President Whiffen of the City Council, who is also head of the Finance Committee, stated yesterday that the subject is to be given a full investigation. The City Attorney has already clearly indicated his opinion that the Public Service Commission was without authority to provide for the placing of Mathews on its pay roll after he had resigned and no new contract had been entered into between him and the City Council.

Election Returns Canvassed.

The City Council canvassed yesterday morning the returns for the Palms annexation election. Following the canvass a resolution was adopted declaring the result to be that there were 498 votes cast, of which 342, or more than the required two-thirds majority, were in favor of the proposition to annex.

Commission Coming Here.

The State Railroad Commission will hold a hearing in the Council chamber of the City Hall on June 16 on the question submitted by City Attorney Stephens, on behalf of the city, as to whether the gas companies have the right to discontinue service of natural gas after having once assumed to serve this commodity, without permission so to do from the legal bodies governing the regulation of public utilities.

It is understood that this point is one that has been giving the commission considerable cause for thought and that Commissioner Thielen has been devoting much time to the consideration of its various angles. That he will be one of the members of the commission to sit in this hearing is practically certain. The other member will be either President Eshleman or Commissioner Edgerton.

BRIBE OFFERED, SAYS WITNESS.

NURSE CAUSES SENSATION IN WILL CONTEST.

Blank Agreement That Hints at Attempt to Buy Testimony Fails to Excite Attorney Involved—Endeavors to Refute Hostile Statement by Comparisons in Spelling.

A blank agreement, which hinted at tampering with the star witness for Margaret Murnaghan and J. N. McMullen, cousins of Peter P. Tomeney, who are claimants for his $35,000 estate, did not perturb J. Wiseman Macdonald, counsel for Catherine Gillespie, the heiress, although his name figures in the agreement. Macdonald knew all about this blank agreement before the contest came to trial in Judge Rives's court yesterday.

He is purported to have agreed to pay Lewis L. Robinson, star witness for the cousins, $5000 if his evidence was sufficient to swing judgment in favor of Mrs. Gillespie. Robinson's evidence was considered important, as he had been Tomeney's nurse at the California Hospital, where he drew up his will and where he died.

Tomeney left his fortune to Mrs. Gillespie, an old friend, who had cared for him in his old age. The cousins set up that Tomeney was of unsound mind at the time he executed the will and alleged that he had been unduly influenced by Mrs. Gillespie.

The fight opened on these usual lines, but yesterday it developed the sensational testimony of Robinson that he had been trailed by detectives in the employ of Macdonald, and that one of the alleged sleuths, Charles McCarthy, had got him intoxicated. While in this state he is alleged to have been approached on the agreement to give evidence for Mrs. Gillespie.

Macdonald put him on the grill; got him to copy the alleged agreement for comparison of spelling, and made him repeat his conversations with McCarthy, the talks showing on Robinson's side that McCarthy had asked him to see Macdonald and make a clean breast of it. McCarthy will take the stand today to show that Robinson told him he was getting money from the contestants' side, but believed he could do better from the other side.

Macdonald refused to set a trap for Robinson by signing the blank agreement. He stated yesterday that a watch only was kept on Robinson, who was understood to be leaving the city, so that he could testify at the trial instead of using his deposition.

FAMOUS CONTEST.

GOES OFF CALENDAR.

The will executed by Miss Florence E. Chase of Bangor, Me., in favor of her sister, Mrs. Elinor H. Chase Stephens of Searsport, Me., was set for probate in Judge Rives's court yesterday, but, owing to the application of former Judge York, executor of the will of Horace W. Chase, for a judgment on the pleadings sustaining the now famous contest and rejecting the Stephens will, the matter went off calendar.

Horace W. Chase, formerly proprietor of the Nadeau Hotel, provided for his sister, Florence, while he was alive. In his will he left her a legacy of $5000. Under an agreement she made her will in his favor, it being understood that the residue of the money he gave her was to revert to his estate at her death.

When Chase died, however, Miss Chase made a will revoking the former one, and both wills came up for probate, the first on May 24, 1912, and the second in August of the same year. The last will was offered by Paul Stewart, who claimed an interest. Mrs. Chase, the widow, and her son, Ernest, brought an action against Stewart to enjoin the contest of the Chase will and the presentation of the Stephens will, on the ground that it was in violation of the contract between brother and sister. The court enjoined Mrs. Stephens. Then came a motion to dismiss the contest, which was granted.

Later Stewart had the Stephens will placed on the calendar for hearing. Mrs. Chase and her son filed a contest to the probate, setting up two grounds, one being that Mrs. Stephens and Stewart were estopped by the judgment rendered against the former from presenting the will for probate, which were overruled. He declined to file an answer.

The $5000 legacy is still in the estate of Horace W. Chase, never having been distributed.

ILLEGALLY SERVED?

MYSTERY IN PAPERS.

The affidavit of a process server against the word of Newton J. Skinner, backed up by his son, and the production by Skinner of papers other than those the process server said he had given him, were the essential features in a little drama played in Department Ten yesterday. The curtain raiser was Skinner's appearance in court in response to a bench warrant issued by Presiding Judge Wood in judgment debtor proceedings.

He was served by Bailiff Woods with a fresh warrant as he sat in the courtroom and this was followed by another and still another, Skinner finding technical flaws. Finally he waived the reading of the last warrant and the play proceeded.

Skinner testified he had never been served with papers in the action brought by A. J. Osgood. Process Server Wolfe declared he had personally served him. Skinner came back and produced papers in another case, which he said had been contained in the envelope Wolfe handed him. He was confirmed in this by his son Carl.

Thus a mystery crept into the drama. The court wanted to know how these other papers had come into Skinner's possession. Wolfe said he had never seen them before, but it appeared that they had been drawn by the attorneys engaged in the Osgood case, and they were also mystified.

"The most damaging incident here," stated the court, "is that Mr. Skinner did not come into court on the first order instead of putting himself in opposition and raising trifling technicalities to avoid going into the merits of the case." The court found this particularly objectionable, as Skinner is a lawyer.

"Somebody has made a mistake," said Skinner. "I wanted to preserve my legal rights."

The court dismissed the contempt proceedings and discharged the order in supplementary proceedings.

TO BREAK AGREEMENT.

ALLEGE LAND FRAUD.

Making G. Cuneo, J. P. Koehler and C. Cereghino defendants because they would not consent to act as plaintiffs, C. C. Baker and eleven others brought suit yesterday against E. J. Overend, G. Ghiglieri, C. J. Rihn, J. L. Rihn, W. D. Rihn, E. M. Summers and the three named for an accounting and possession of a subdivision deal involving a purchase price of $177,758.40.

The plaintiffs and defendants, the complaint alleges, entered into an agreement to buy 148 acres of the Rancho La Ballona. The pro-rata payment is set out in the complaint, but now it is asserted that Overend, Ghiglieri, the Rihns and Summers did not contract and did not intend to contract, but endeavored frauduently to share in the profits.

It is also alleged that the true purchase price is $146,520. The court is asked to nullify the agreement.

MUST PAY WIFE'S BILLS.

FORCED BY FATHER-IN-LAW.

Marion W. Huise did not appear in Judge York's court yesterday to defend a suit against him for sums advanced by his wife's father, E. A. Carleton, to cover expenses and necessaries not provided by her liege spouse. The suit was brought under a little-used law, namely, one providing that any person furnishing necessaries for the support of a wife whom her husband has not provided for may sue the husband and recover. Carleton assigned his claim to the Dyer Law and Collection Agency, which recovered judgment in default for $1225.

It seems that Huise, according to the complaint, deserted his wife March 1, 1912, in this city. Since that time he has failed to provide for her. Carleton is a wealthy rancher of Helena, Mont. He alleges that he paid out $100 for his daughter's car fare from Helena to Boston, where she was to join her husband; $825 for her support from March, 1912, to July, 1912, and $400 other expenses.

MUSICAL MISNOMER.

B. FLATTE'S VOICE FAILS.

It seems odd that a man bearing the musical name of B. Flatte should be unable to emit a sound loud enough to be heard by the court three feet distant, but this actually occurred in Judge Jackson's court yesterday during the trial of the suit of Mrs. Anna Schwartz, who is seeking to have Dr. S. S. Ginsburg pay $50 a month for the support of his alleged child.

"You will have to speak louder," ordered the court. Flatte appeared unable to do so.

"Take him into custody, Mr. Bailiff, until he finds his voice," Judge Jackson ordered Barney Healy. Barney "done his duty." Presently Flatte's voice came back and he spoke up clearly.

COURT PARAGRAPHS.

PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF.

MAP FOR JURY. Jurors trying the condemnation suit of the city for the opening of Broadway from Tenth to Pico streets, will be furnished with a map showing sales made in the last two years in the section of the city covered by the suit. Judge Wilbur adjourned court at noon yesterday to enable the experts appointed to put the sales on a city map and have the map photographed. He named Alex Culver and R. M. Allen for the property owners, and Paul Crippen and Guy Garner for the city.

DAMAGES AWARDED. For injuries sustained at Pomona, William C. Shuster was awarded judgment for $6000 against the Salt Lake Railway by a jury in Judge McCormick's court yesterday. He sued for $50,000.

SLANDER SUIT. Because he is alleged to have said he was no fit gentleman, Raymond W. Gillespie filed suit against Da. Ray W. Simpson for slander yesterday, asking $25,000 damages. The alleged slander is said to have been uttered April 14 last in the presence of Mrs. Smeltzer and Miss Smeltzer, and besides the imputation referred to, included the statement that Gillespie had a poor moral character and a poor reputation at Glendale. It had reference to Gillespie's trips to Long Beach.

MARRIED IN CHAMBERS. Presiding Judge Wood was called on yesterday to join the fortunes of Thomas F. Vanasek and Miss Carrie Mzik. He performed the ceremony in chambers, assisted by Judge Works. Vanasek is 61, and a former juror. The bride acknowledged to 49 years.

SCHOOL MUSEUMS.

An Elaborate and Interesting Nature-Study Exhibition to Be Given at Grand-avenue Building.

A nature-study exhibition will be held tomorrow at 9 a.m. at the Grand-avenue school, when prize awards will be made for the best school museum, collection of butterflies and other subjects of nature.

The school yard will be a veritable zoo, with rats, cats, dogs, rabbits, snakes, turtles, lizards and other animals. "Sally," a famous chimpanzee, and a beautiful baby monkey known as "Easter Morn," will be there to greet all who come. There will be live boxes with insects feeding on plants, and near at hand the animal friends of man, such as horned toads, lizards and other animals, that eat up the crop-destroying insects.

The Museum of Science, History and Art at Exposition Park will install a typical exhibit, particularly illustrating the wonderful Rancho La Brea fossils. Director Daggett of the museum will be the judge of school collections and Hector Alliott will judge the drawings and photographs. The Audubon Society will have a committee explaining the work of that organization. The exhibition will give the children and citizens a remarkable opportunity to learn of the many sides of nature in Southern California.

ABOUT DRESS FORMS

—The merit of a dress-form depends on the degree that it can be made like you.

—It may be adjusted to measure the same as you, but unless depth, width, curves and contour lines are also like you, things made on it will not fit.

—Think this over—when you put your money in a dress-form you may as well have a form that means something; a form that's YOU.

—"NATURE FORMS" are an exact reproduction of the person's own figure, arms, bust, skirt and poise, YOU. Adjustable in case you change in flesh or corset.

—Gowns, shirt waists, underwear, etc., you can make with astonishing ease if you but have your own exact figure to sew on—cut, fit and finish everything without once trying on yourself until complete.

—We not only guarantee our forms, but GUARANTEE YOU WILL BE SATISFIED.

—We have many second-hand adjustable store forms, brand new, half price. If you want a dress-form, see us.
